SUNDAY AROUND TOWN. SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

HOW THE BOYS AND GIRLS AMUSE THEMSELVES.

A Lack of Excitement-Waiting for the Boat and Gazing at Each Other-Wicked Small Boys who Play Ball and Swim on Sunday is usually spoken of as a day of rest. If the day is fine the rest taken by the average St. John man, and woman too, is a walk of from two to four miles, and often very much longer. Indeed it is about the only day when the toilers can learn what is going on about them, and when it happens to be wet it leaves the impression of a week of fourteen days. Nearly everybody stayed in town last Sunday afternoon. The weather was too uncertain to go very far out of the way, and between the sun and the fog, it was roast first and shiver afterwards. It was more than dull about town. The only excitement one got was when he attempted to cross the streets on small sized stones and "hard spots," and saw all his work with the blacking brush undone in a moment. There was mud everywhere. In fact, of late, Sundays as a rule have been noted for dust as thick as fog, and mud enough for anything.

The street cars gave their patrons an opportunity for a little variation, in making them change cars on Mill street and then again at the transfer office. This was particularly interesting on Saturday, when the cars were crowded with people anxious to escape the heavy rain. But it rained just as hard on Mill street as anywhere else.

Then the internal arrangement of Mr. Shaw's elephant on Mill street was out of order, as it is quite frequently, and had to be dug up and fenced in-an ısland, as it were, in a sea of mud, reached by a short plank and a few small stones. In the evening, after church was out, there was a lively scene at this spot, when two long | where rows of people going in different directions wanted to walk the plank at once. The experiment was not a success, and the people were dissatisfied and loud in giving expression to their disgust.

Excitement of any kind is welcomed by the hundreds who stroll around town on a Sunday afternoon when the weather looks threatening. Reed's Point wharf proved ago. the centre of attraction last Sunday. When the fog horn blew its first notes there was a lot of hurrying along Prince William street, in the direction of the wharf. This was a great compliment to our glorious summer climate. That St. John people are not well enough acquainted with the sound of the fog horn to mistake it for the American boat's whistle, is a fact that the Halifax papers should make a note of.

There was nothing on the whart but the crowd. Nobody seemed to want, or expect, anything. There were lots of girls and plenty of-or some-men. All they wanted was to look at each other, and it didn't matter much whether the boat came in or not. A dog swimming in the water, then climbing the stairs and shaking himself within easy distance of as many white dresses as possible, was amusement enough for any one, except the man who lost his little boy with the red hat and couldn't find him, or anybody who had seen him. The David Weston came down the harbor, evidently for the amusement of the crowd, and cut a few didos off from the wharf, besides trying to delude those some blocks away that it was the Cumberland or State of Maine, and making them lose considerable

The government pier is a popular resort every, Sunday uncertain or fine. In the early afternoon it was too warm for the regular weekly ball game between the two nines from the Lower Cove Open Air Sunday School. They did their best, however, not to disappoint the crowd, but the bat was broken in the first inning and it was too warm to walk up to the exhibition building and get a picket from Mr. Cornwall's new fence. But the boys never send the crowd away dissatisfied. Base ball out of the question, they took possession of an empty coal car near the slip and the majority of one of the nines disrobed. Then there was some peek-a-boo around the wharf until they were safely in the slip, when the male spectators took up a position along the edge of the whart and the ladies turned their faces and footsteps the other way. They missed a race across the slip and a hot contest for a stone jug, to say nothing of a first class shivering exhibition by a young gentleman with an unusually large amount of hair on his head, who was being constantly warned by his friends on the wharf not to get it wet, as the chances were that he would go to the bottom. This artist swam across the slip, but seemed in great doubts as to his ability to get back again. He accomplished the feat, however, and had to try the experiment of getting his head wet before his friends would let him ascend the ladder. He survived the experience.

When the swimming school is thoroughly organized the pier will probably become large number of Americans. more popular than ever.

Last week a goodly number of picnics were on the bill of fare, but rain necessitated the postponement of the greater part of them. I hear, however, of one which was on Monday last. A party composed of Miss Bertha Johnson, Miss Cutler (of Halifax), Miss Murray and Mrs. Cutler, also Mr. Albert McFadgen, Mr. J. Murray, Mr. Chas. Hanington (of St. John), Mr. H. W. Murray and Miss Bella Johnson, drove to Bateman's Mills and enjoyed a most delightful afternoon, which altogether made up for all their disappointed hopes caused by the rain of last week.

Some more of our summer visitors are leaving us, and I hope carrying with them some kind remembrances of Shediac. Among recent departures were Miss G. Hanington, who left on Saturday last for St. John, and Mr. G. F. Featherstone, who left today for Ottawa. Mrs. J. P. Hanington and children, of Montreal, also leave this week for home. They have been here some two months at the Weldon House.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This indisputable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbounded confidence in the preparation, and I recommend it to my customers, knowing it cannot disap-

The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair of ever finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the first dose. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever."-Geo. B. Hunter, Altoona, Pa.
