

NEWMAN AS A THINKER.

A CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE CHARACTER OF THE CARDINAL.

Macaulay Longed to Measure Swords with Him, and Rogers Thought Him Upright, but Illogical and Imaginative—Newman's Influence on the Established Church.

Perhaps the most interesting of the contributions respecting Dr. Newman is that published in The Contemporary by Mr. Wilfrid Meynell. From it we learn that both Cardinal Newman and Cardinal Manning sprang from men who played a part in "the head-centre of worldliness," the City of London, and in "its innermost shrines of mammon and money, the banking-houses."

Cardinal Manning's father was connected with the Bank of England. Cardinal Newman's was partner in a Lombard street bank. Through his mother Cardinal Newman was connected with the Huguenots. But for disasters in business which overtook the banker, his father, young Newman would probably have gone to the Bar, but the Established Church offered "a readier livelihood."

John Henry was passionately religious and intensely dogmatic. Francis was earnestly liberal where his brother was severely dogmatic, and though he seems never to have abandoned belief in Christianity, he speedily shot off into Socinian and Unitarian courses. On this account, in express obedience, as he said, to apostolic instructions, John Henry religiously "avoided" his brother.

The avoidance, however, was, we gather, only in respect to spiritual fellowship, for the two brothers were of one mind in relation to Charles, their junior. The eccentricity of the family displayed itself in Charles by a Knight-errantry of unbelief that reminds one of the boyish escapades of Shelley.

"When not far out of his teens," says Mr. Meynell, "Charles Newman wrote to some cousins renouncing his family, and begging that they would not consider him to be a Newman, his only reason for the renunciation being that the family were too religious." His brothers, though renounced by him, put together, at his earnest request, funds to send him to Bonn University, there to take a degree.

SACKVILLE.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Sackville at C. H. Moore's bookstore.]

Oct. 22.—It may be truly said that Sackville's four hundred turned out "en masse" on Friday to attend the At Home given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fawcett. From our unit seven, they were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fawcett, and Master Charles Cedric Ryan, who behaved in a most exemplary manner, and was the admiration of everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryan entertained their young friends from 7 till 10. This was a most delightful affair for them, while the elder people went to Lingfield hall and enjoyed one of the best entertainments ever given by Moncton. Prof. Andrews' address was most elevating, and gave evidence of much original thought.

Miss Mack's voice has lost none of its sweetness. I never heard her sing to better advantage. I omitted last week to mention the farewell supper to Mr. A. G. Smith. The guests were Messrs. E. L. Ford, B. E. Paterson, Murray, Dickson, J. E. Hickey and others. Toasts were drunk, in which the health of the ladies was not forgotten.

I believe Mr. B. E. Paterson is the latest side-walk victim, having sprained his foot quite badly. I do not know who the board of "public works" are, but they certainly haven't regard for other people's limbs, as far as side-walks are concerned.

Mrs. Loverson spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Horace Fawcett, last week. Dr. and Mrs. MacQuay, of Moncton, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ryan last week. Mrs. W. C. Anderson, of Dorchester, was in town on Monday.

Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Bradley, of Ottawa, are the guests of Mrs. Edward Cogswell. Mrs. Cogswell entertained a few friends in their honor, Wednesday evening.

Mr. M. G. Lane spent Friday in town. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Rennie have issued invitations for a large party on Thursday evening. Dr. Inch and Mrs. Inch went to St. John for a few days this week.

Mr. Minney, of Moncton, spent Sunday in town. Sheriff MacQueen and Mrs. MacQueen were in town last week, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Inch. Mr. Blair Botsford, of Halifax, spent Friday with her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Atkinson. Mrs. Courtney Bliss, of Amherst, spent Friday in town, the guest of Mrs. Atkinson, also.

[PROGRESS is for sale at Hampton station by T. G. Barnes, and Geo. E. Frost, and at Hampton village by Messrs. A. & W. Hicks.]

Oct. 22.—Miss Tapley and Miss Retta Tapley, of the North End, accompanied by Mr. Walter McFarlane, drove up from the city on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barnes. Mr. C. N. Skinner, M. P., Mr. A. A. Stockton, M. P., Mr. A. S. White, M. P., and Mr. Geo. G. Gilbert, were in town on Saturday on business. Miss Bessie Peters went to the city on Saturday to make a short visit with relatives.

Rev. Dr. Hopper was in town on Friday, en route from St. Martin's. Dr. Thomas Walker paid a brief visit to Hampton last week on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. John March spent Sunday here, the guest of their son, Mr. Cecil S. March. Miss Maggie K. Barnes is again in the city spending a week with friends.

Rev. G. H. Paisley and Rev. E. Evans went to St. John on Monday. Mrs. William O'Connell went to Model Farm on Monday to visit Mrs. Henry O'Connell.

Mr. John P. Hegan, of St. John, Mr. George H. White, and Mr. Geo. W. Fowler, of Sussex, were among the visitors in town on Saturday. Rev. Sydney Welton paid a brief visit to Hampton on Monday.

The most sincere sympathy is felt for the mother, widow and daughter of Capt. B. G. Fowkes of the ship Lisie C. Troop which was wrecked on the island of Lochloe near Japan a few weeks ago, when Capt. Fowkes and his wife and two children together with most of the crew. Mrs. Fowkes, who left here with her husband last year, was saved, particularly which have not yet been received. Mr. and Mrs. Fowkes have a pleasant residence at Lakeside, and Mrs. Fowkes, I hear, will return and occupy again their former home. The first news of the disaster only reached here on Saturday. Capt. Fowkes' mother resides on the Bradshaw place, near the station.

Mr. W. W. Levesley, of Hothesay, and Mr. H. M. Fairweather, of Moncton, were in town last week. Rev. W. W. Brewer, of Charlottetown, who was en route to St. John on Monday, spent the night with Rev. E. Evans at Lakeside, and left for the city on Tuesday morning.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Yarmouth at the stores of E. I. Vickery and Harris & Horfall.]

Oct. 21.—Those present at Miss L. Killam's party, on Thursday last, had a delightful time. Dancing, as usual, was the principal amusement of the evening.

A quiet wedding took place at Plympton, Digby Co., on Thursday last, when Mr. and Mrs. William MacQuay were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Blaney. Miss Winifred Burton, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Mr. F. Jones acted as best man.

SHELIAC.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Sheliac at A. Stone's store.]

Oct. 22.—A goodly number of delightful evenings were spent last week. There were parties and entertainments quite numerous, so that when Saturday night came around it found some sleepy heads, and many tired bodies.

The entertainment given by the visiting members of Sheliac division at the central building on Thursday evening was a highly creditable affair. The programme was quite numerous, so that when Saturday night came around it found some sleepy heads, and many tired bodies.

Mr. T. B. Hanington, of St. John, was in town on Thursday. Mr. Wm. Henderson was absent from town this week to meet his mother, Mrs. J. W. Henderson, who has arrived home from her visit to Boston this week. Mr. H. reports a delightful trip.

Mr. Clayton Dickie has been suffering from a severe attack of lumbago. He is now somewhat better.

Remon says we are this week to lose Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hanington from among us. They again take up their winter abode in the smoky city.

Mr. Wm. Henderson was absent from town this week to meet his mother, Mrs. J. W. Henderson, who has arrived home from her visit to Boston this week. Mr. H. reports a delightful trip.

There was a small but enjoyable party at the residence of Mr. P. Johnston, Monday evening. One more of those popular and enjoyable affairs was given in the hall by our friends across the water on Friday last. The dancing was kept up until the gray dawn of Saturday morning, and the guests were greeted by an extremely moist atmosphere as they departed for their homes.

On Friday last a large audience greeted the American in his patriotic building. Among the critics invited were Messrs. W. A. Russell, James Webster, and W. B. Deacon, who did the honors of the occasion. A large number of our friends were present, and the delightful entertainment rendered was a pleasant surprise to many.

Oct. 22.—Mrs. Wright, of Prince Edward Island, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jameson, on Queen street. Mrs. McArthur, from Annapolis, has been spending a few days among her husband's former parishioners. Mr. Fisher, the present pastor of the Methodist church, is Mr. McArthur's successor.

Mr. J. T. Milne, Mr. A. A. McFadden, Mr. Murgidge, Edgar A. Cannon, D. A. McQueen, O. S. Mills, Mr. Hall, Mr. Jones, Mr. T. C. Deal, Mr. E. Hamilton, Mr. McFadden, F. Glasby, H. W. Murray, and Mr. G. Hanington.

Miss Hendricks, of Sussex, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Turnbull. Mrs. A. Riddick and Mrs. H. Churchill returned from St. John on Saturday, also Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bidden who have been in the sister province for some time.

Miss Lottie Ambrose has been here for a short time. Miss Annie Short has returned from a visit to Lunenburg. Miss Laura Merkle left on Saturday for a week in Boston.

Mrs. Bingray, of Yarmouth, is visiting her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Bingray, on Water street. Mr. Burt Lynch met with an accident on Saturday. While driving his horse on his carriage, the horse took fright, running away, and carried the vehicle directly over Mr. Lynch's shoulders. I hear he is feeling lame and sore. Fortunately, he escaped without broken bones, but his left arm is helpless. He looks interesting.

Services in Trinity church on Sunday, 19th, were conducted by Mr. Filius, given of Woodville. Mr. A. Ellis returned home on Saturday. I am sorry to report his health not as robust as usual. Angelo, the messenger, died on Wednesday, Monday, were Miss Mand Crozier, who has been for a short time in St. John, and Dr. E. Fritz. The doctor has visited New York, Boston and Portland in the ten days of his absence.

The death of Mr. Wright, a native of this town, has been reported to his friends here. They have the sympathy of all who know him in former years. Mr. Wright died in Melbourne, Australia, where he had lived for a number of years. He was held in high esteem as a citizen, and his death is a loss to that city. He left considerable property. His sister, Miss J. Wright, is handsomely remembered in his will. The friends of this very estimable lady will be glad to know of this substantial proof of her brother's affection.

Mrs. A. E. McLeod returned on Friday from Wolfville, where she had been to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Emma Harris. Mr. E. Woodworth's family removed here from Sackville last week.

Women are not slow to comprehend. They're quick to see, and yet it is a man who discovered the one remedy for their peculiar ailments. The man was Dr. Pierce.

The discovery was his "Favorite Prescription"—the boon to delicate women. Why go round "with your one foot in the grave," suffering in silence—misunderstood—when there's a remedy at hand that isn't an experiment, but which is sold under the guarantee that if you are disappointed in any way in it, you can get your money back by applying to its maker.

We can hardly imagine a woman's not trying it. Possibly it may be true of one or two—but we doubt it. Women are ripe for it. They must have it. Think of a prescription and nine out of ten waiting for it. Carry the news to them!—Advt.

The seat of headache is not the brain. Regulate the stomach and you cure it. Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the Little Regulators.—Advt.

Dr. R. E. Boyle, Third and Oxford sts., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "For two years I have prescribed Ayer's Sarsaparilla in numerous instances, and I find it highly efficacious in the treatment of all disorders of the blood."
