What SCHOFIELD & CO. say: We have much pleasure in stating that the Caligraph purchased from you has been in constant use in our office for several years, and is still in good order. We consider it invaluable as a time-saver. Rev. C. G. McCULLY writes: A point of special value in the Caligraph, resulting from the absence of shifting keys, is the readiness with which original composition may be executed with greater readiness than with the pen. So great do I deem its utility that I would purchase a machine every year rather than be without it.

TURNER & FINLAY, 12 KING STREET. DRESS GOODS!

A Novelty in Silk and Wool Tartans, the Clan Plaids, the several Stuarts, Argyll, Gordon, Macdonald, Duff, 42nd Highlanders or Black Watch and others. Like Silas Wegg, you drop into poetry as you look at them. "The silken plaid" of Ellen Douglass, the Lady of the Lake, flutters before you; or fancy the pipers piping "The Campbell's are Coming" at the relief of Lucknow. Strange beauty in the Tartans, and they never fail to suggest the romance and reality which have made the proud owners of the plaids great factors in literature, in history, in progress.

Mrs. Dibble, of P'ton, is still a guest of Mrs. John Taylor at Sealwater cottage.
