MONCTON.

[Progress is for sale in Moncton at the bookstores of W. W. Black and W. H. Murray, Main street.]

Dec. 17th.—The long expected and warmly welcomed fall of snow last Friday, made merry the heart of the man who owned a horse in Moncton, and his name is legion, because in our young city not to keep a horse is to be almost beyond the pale of civilization. Lots of people in tolerably good circumstances cannot afford to indulge in a dog, and maintain a horse is a confession of such abject poverty that the almshouse must be staring the person, who has not got one, closely in the face. I don't keep a horse myself.

To return to the snow, however, it transformed the entire town into a race course, with Main street as the track par excellence. Indeed, last Sunday Main street would have been a disgrace to a Texas town. It was crowded with teams racing up and down at frantic speed, their drivers shouting, sweating, flogging, till the scene was a perfect pandemonium, and a respectable and God-fearing resident of St. John, who is now making his home in Moncton, felt called upon to write to the daily papers and enter a protest, asking if there was no way to put a stop to such disgraceful proceedings. Well may the stranger and pilgrim who finds a brief resting place for the sole of his foot in Moncton, be surprised at our little ways.

Mr. H. T. Stevens' many friends will be glad to hear that he is recovering from his recent severe illness. I understand Mr. Stevens has some idea of spending the winter in the south, the severity of the Canadian climate being too great for him to endure in his present feeble state of health.

Miss Wright, of St. John, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Daniel, returned home on Thursday.

A dispatch from Oshawa notes the arrival of the Rev. J. H. Talbot and family, late of Moncton, and announces that he has entered upon his duties as rector of St. George's church, Oshawa. Just at present we are sheep without a shepherd, but the Rev. Mr. Waters, of St. John, took pity upon us last Sunday, and gave us two services, I believe he has kindly consented to look after our spiritual welfare for the present, and will come no every week to hold service till further notice. I do not hear very much about the choice of a new rector, we are an easy generation I think, as far as spiritual matters are concerned, and very much inclined to take our time, and not by any means hasty.

Our souls seem a long way off from us somehow, and our bodies are such a very present and pressing care, that we are disposed to look after our temporal welfare first, and let our spiritual needs "chance it."

So to speak. Perhaps by the time we have partaken of enough mince pie, and plum cake, and made ourselves sufficiently ill to feel the need of ghostly comfort, we may turn our thoughts in other directions.

I am happy to say that Mr. James McAllister has sufficiently recovered from his late illness to be able to be out again.

Mrs. George Chandler, of Dorchester, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Hewson, for some weeks past, returned home on Thursday.

Miss Harris returned, last Saturday, from her long visit to New York, and Boston, and it is needless to say that her friends are delighted to see her again.

The Misses Adelle and Maggie McKeen left town on Friday last for New York, where they intend spending some weeks with their sister, Mrs. T. F.
Williamson.

Mrs. Joseph A. Harris returned last week from a visit to her home in Boston. The approach of Christmas seems to gather all the wanderers home, by degrees.

Mr. G. A. Vye returned, on Thursday, from Nova Scotia, having closed his work on the Antigonish waterworks for the winter.

Judge and Mrs. Landry, of Dorchester, are registered at the Brunswick; but whether this means a near prospect of their taking up their residence among us soon, or not, I cannot say. I only hope that it may be so.

The Rev. J. M. Robinson left town yesterday for Truro, where he will spend two or three days.

The indications at present point toward a very quiet winter from a social point of view. I do not hear either of parties or soirees, but perhaps after the holiday season is over, matters may improve.

I am sorry to say that the amateur dramatic club is still in a quiescent state. It does not seem to have awakened yet from its summer sleep, but of course the new year is full of possibilities, and the Land of Egypt is running over with corn.

Mr. Josiah Wood, M.P., was in town on Friday, and left by the night train for Montreal.

on account of ill-health. He will remain until after the Xmas holidays.

Mr. E. B. Buckenfield started for England via Halifax, on Saturday.

Miss Mary Geddes left this morning for Acen, South Carolina, where she will remain for the winter.
Mr. Albert Geddes will accompany her as far as New York.

Mr. James Smith returned on Monday after five weeks' absence in Sussex, where he was quite ill.
He is now convalescent.

Rev. E. B. Hooper was presented with a valuable Astrachan coat by his parishioners last week—a kind reminder of this festive season to a worthy and popular clergyman.

There was a surprise party at Dr. Keith's on Wednesday evening of last week. Music of a high order and first-class refreshments held full sway.

At Mr. George Bailey's, on Monday afternoon, there was a juvenile party celebrating the anniversary of Miss Irene's birth, and an enjoyable celebration it was.

Dentists have struck this town in full force. Dr.
R. P. Doherty, of Moncton, arrived at the Eureka on Monday evening, and today Dr. G. J. Sprout of Chatham reached the Central and will operate at Harrovet Place, where he has secured rooms.

Mr. Charles Cumming and Mr. Walter Cummings are expected this evening from King's College, Windsor, N. S., to spend their holidays.

Mr. James M. Kennedy has been in town for a few days, having returned from his summer resort, Kingston. He will spend the remainder of the winter at Adamsville.

Mrs. Duncan Stevenson and Mr. Frank Curran, of Moncton, were at the Central on Monday on their way to St. Nicholas River to visit their mother who was seriously ill. They reached the old homestead on their aged parent had departed this life. Mrs.

Curran's funeral will take place tomorrow, Thursday.

Dr. Nicholson, of Newcastle, is in town this afternoon.

Mr. Duncan Stevenson, of Moncton, was at the Central today.

A concert in which the elite of the town will take part is billed for the first evening of the New Year in the Public Hall here.

Mr. J. Neales Wathen went to Kingston today, to attend a meeting of the Teachers' Institute.

Miss Minnie Buckley is expected home from Fredericton on Saturday.

PARSBORO.

[Progress is for sale in Parrsboro at A. C.
Berryman's bookstore.]

Dec. 16.—Rev. S. Gibbons and Mrs. Gibbons have returned from New York.

Dr. Townshend made a flying visit to the States last week, returning Saturday. Mr. J. Midley Townshend came down with him from Amherst and remained until Monday. Miss Townshend also returned from her visit to Amherst and Spring Hill.

Rev. C. Saddington, from Newfoundland, arrived here last Thursday and has entered upon his duties as curate.

Mr. Charles Young, of Calais, has been spending several days in Parrsboro, the guest of Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Young.

Miss Parsons, of Montreal, and Miss Strickland, of Amherst, are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Townshend.
