THE UP JOHN PILLS!

BY examining the physical condition of these Pills it will be observed that most of them can readily be crushed and reduced to a powder by pressure under the thumb, showing a pliable condition, not found in Pills of other make. Made

RECIPIENT, BY PRESSURE, the process employed leaves the Pills in a dry powder and porous condition, which does not harden by age. A full assortment of different kinds just received.

"ASTRA'S" TALKS WITH GIRLS.

[Correspondents seeking information in this department should address their queries to "ASTRA," Progress, St. John.]

QUESTER, Fredericton.—For a morning wedding, the groom always wears morning dress—that is to say, a Prince Albert coat, light-gray trousers and lavender tie and gloves. This costume is always correct, whether the bride wears the regulation cream-colored satin or a simple travelling dress. One bridesmaid and one groomsmen are considered in better taste than a number, and among very fashionable people they are frequently dispensed with altogether; indeed, the more simply the marriage service is performed now-a-days, the better form it is considered.

CONSTANT READER, St. John.—Vase-line cold cream is the best thing for the complexion that I know of. Lanoline is another excellent preparation either for the face or hands. Rub it thoroughly into the face at night, and it will have the effect of preventing the roughness caused by the wind, and also keep the skin soft and smooth.

CANADIAN GIRL, Boston.—Many thanks for the kind words about PROGRESS. I will tell the editor what you say, and I can readily imagine that it would be most welcome to the Canadian sojourner in a strange land. The lines you quote are George Herbert's, and end with these:

A servant with this clause Makes meast work divine;
Who sweeps a floor, as by God's laws, Makes that and the action fine.

LEAH.—Not "The Forsaken," I hope.
Do not let yourself grow morbid. Try and take a more cheerful view of the matter; remember the maxim, "Look forward, not backward, out not in, and lend a hand." Dark days must come to all of us sooner or later, and it is best to remember if you can, that "Behind the clouds is the sun still shining."

MARCE, Woodstock.—I think this must be the verse you mean. I do not know of any other with the same meaning, and I ought to be familiar with this, as I keep it stuck in the frame of my mirror. I can see it very often. It is by Oliver Wendell Holmes, and reads thus:

Yet in opinions, look not always back;
Your wake is nothing, mind the coming track; Leave what you've done, for what you have to do.
Don't be "consistent," but be simply true.

RUTH, Toronto.—Give your "Boaz" the benefit of the doubt, Ruth, by all means, and don't be too ready to resent a probably unintentional slight. Remember that no matter how devotedly a man may love you, you cannot expect him to put in all his time loving you to the exclusion of everything else. He must, if he is worth anything at all, think, and think earnestly too, of a great many other things besides you. It would take him a long time to earn a dollar by sitting down quietly and devoting all his energy to thinking about "the dearest girl in the world" to the exclusion of his business, and all his other interests; remember also, that—

Love is of man's life a thing apart, 'Tis woman's whole existence.

And so your birthday may well have slipped from his mind without his meaning to hurt your feelings in any way.

A. N., Sackville.—An excellent tonic for the hair, recommended by "Kit" of the Toronto Mail and which I have myself found invaluable consists of 8 grains of red oxide of mercury, in an ounce of vaseline.
Get it put up by your druggist—it will only cost you ten cents if he is as conscientious as mine is, and rub it carefully into the roots of your hair, every night, using very little of the mixture at a time. You will really be surprised at the results.

M.C.—The meaning of "mizpah" is "The Lord watch between thee and me, while we are absent one from the other." A. E.
I. is usually supposed to signify "Yesterday, Today, and Forever," but its real meaning is simply "forever." It is frequently seen engraved on jewelry, though not as popular a motto now as it once was.

E. R. C., Annapolis.—The "Muses"— well that is a tough question for a person, who has not their heathen mythology at hand, but if I remember aright the oft-invoked nine, were the nine daughters of Jupiter and Mnemosyne. They were mistresses of all the sciences and arts, Goddesses of poetry, music and dancing; and were supposed to have poets under their special protection.

MARCIA.—Use glycerine and rosewater for your chapped hands; you will find it invaluable. I do not know anything about Recamier remedies, never having tried them, but if they are all they claim to be of use we need ever be plain any more, since beauty awaits us at a dollar and a half a pot. A Russian bath is an excellent thing for the complexion. It consists in bathing the face with water so hot that you wonder how you can stand it, and then plunging it immediately into ice-cold water. It is best done at night, the last thing before going to bed, as it makes the face glow rather unpleasantly, but it is said to be a sovereign remedy for wrinkles, and you know even the youngest girls will get a nasty little cluster of wrinkles under the eyes, if they are given to laughing much.

GLADYS, Nova Scotia.—You are much too young to be thinking about such a thing as getting engaged, my child. Wait till you are a good many years older than you are now, and you will be surprised to find how your ideas will change. The man who seems all that is charming to you, at sixteen, you would not look at when you are 21. You will wonder how you could ever have given him a thought, far less contemplated spending your life with him.
Indeed this is no new fact! It is so old as to have become proverbial.

Whom first we love, you know, We seldom wed.

and very thankful he should be that it is so. When my thoughts turn back to the man I was so deeply in love with when I was fifteen. I am lost in wonder, and in gratitude, wonder, that I could ever have been so silly, and gratitude that the fates saw fit to interfere and prevent me from making a little fool of myself. So take my advice "Gladys" and tell your admirer, that you're "over young to marry yet" as the old Scotch song says, and so you are going to give up all such folly till you have finished your education, and come out, and then you know, it will not be folly at all.

hair was falling, are enthusiastic in praising

Red Tape and Old Ideas.

A remarkable story is told of red tape in the General Post Office, London. Some time ago a cord of a Venetian blind in one of the rooms broke. The post-master has no authority to employ a tradesman to put a matter of this kind right; it must be attended to through the Office of Works.
To that office, therefore, he applied. In the course of a few days a surveyor appeared to ascertain what was wanted, and this work he performed with the utmost deliberation. A few days followed, and then a cart, manned by two men and a boy, appeared on the scene! It is needless to say that such a force proved equal as a remedy to the broken cord.

Happy for the people of Canada, we can boast of an almost entire absence of "red tape," and "old ideas," not only in the conduct of our parliamentary affairs, but in commercial and household matters also.

Still there are now to be found men and women, who, if they do not believe in "red tape" as a theory, certainly often practise it. In this way thousands of dollars are needlessly thrown away every year by the families of our Dominion in the matter of dyeing. The great idea of family dyeing, is to economize and save money.

There are many who imagine, that, if they want an article of wearing apparel dyed, that it is cheaper to hand over the job to the town or city dyer, so as to ensure good work.

This is a fallacy and delusion, as thousands are willing to prove from experience after having used Diamond Dyes for home dyeing.

Any person of ordinary understanding by following the advice and directions given by the manufacturers of Diamond Dyes, can dye any material or garment whether in Wool, Silk, Union or Cotton, as well and often better than the regular town dyer, who often uses strong acids and dangerous mill dyes.

Then another important point, is the great difference in cost; home dyeing with Diamond Dyes costing only about one-tenth of factory dyeing.

These are facts worth considering by every economical house-wife in the land.

Comfort and ease in work; safety as far as material is concerned; and perfect satisfaction regarding durability of color; all are guaranteed by using the popular "Diamond Dyes" manufactured by Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal.—Advt.

The Prodigal Son.

The teacher of a Sunday school class of colored children expounded to them the parable of the prodigal son. She described in as graphic a manner as she could the young man eating husks while the swine fed on the corn. In the midst of her description one attentive boy held up his hand and said: "Missus, that white boy was a fool." "Why do you think so?"
"Case if I had been him I would 'a' stole one o' dem hogs 'an' had a good dinner." —Christian Advocate.

How to Do It.

There are innumerable things that interest women, but the preservation of their own health and beauty is generally the first consideration. In the newly introduced underwear known as the "Health" Brand, and recommended by every doctor in Canada of any prominence, will be found the great solution of the problem of how to combine luxurious ease in an article of dress with absolute safety from cold and its attendant evils. Do not read this and dismiss it without a thought, but go straight to any first-class dry goods house, where these goods are for sale, and ask to see a "Health" Undervest. You will be at once convinced that it is the best article of the kind ever brought to your notice.

Always Ready.

"Did the plumber come down to inspep the pipes this morning?"
"Yes."
"What did he say?"
"He said there was nothing the matter, but he could very soon remedy that."
—New York Sun.

Not in the Market.

Husband—Anything you want down town today, my dear? Shall I order some more of that self-rising flour?
Wife—We have plenty left, but I wish you would stop at an intelligence office and order me a self-rising servant girl.—New York Weekly.

Much Given to Reflection.

"Miss Rosie is very pretty."
"Yes, and she knows it and is vain over it."
"You don't say?"
"Fact. Why, that girl has worn out four looking glasses looking at herself."
—Cape Cod Item.
