ST. STEPHEN.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen at the bookstores of C. H. Smith & Co. and G. S. Wall.]

APRIL 30.—It was a very gay wedding party that gathered in the spacious drawing room of Mr. and Mrs. Broad, last Wednesday evening, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ella Broad, to Mr.
Otto Thorning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Weddall, the bride and groom exchanging rings in true German fashion. The bride party stood in the deep bay window, which was filled from the floor nearly to the ceiling with beautiful plants, making a complete wall of flowers. After the congratulations and supper, the bride changed her bridal dress for her travelling costume, and amid the showers of slippers and rice, and the good wishes of their friends, the couple departed in the train for Halifax for a short wedding tour before going to Montreal, their future home. The presents were numerous, a number of them coming from friends abroad. The following is the description of the dresses worn by the guests:

Mrs. Broad, black satin, gold ornaments.
Miss Mellick, light blue cashmere with silver embroidery.
Mrs. Harry Broad, garnet silk covered with black lace; ornaments gold.
Mrs. Balkam (Milltown), handsome black silk with trimmings of black lace.
Mrs. T. J. Smith, old gold satin covered with black lace; ornaments, diamonds.
Mrs. C. H. Smith, dark green satin with trimmings of scarlet and green brocade; ornaments, gold.
Mrs. E. G. Vroom, black silk with bouquet of white roses; ornaments gold.
Mrs. Wetmore, rich black moire dress.
Miss Victoria Vroom, old rose silk with trimmings of black velvet and black lace; corsage bouquet of maraschino red roses.
Miss Beatrice Vroom, white silk grenadine with trimmings of white passamantrie and bouquet of la France roses.
Miss Nellie Smith, cream colored silk with black lace overdress.
Miss Georgie Simpson, black fish net with black silk sash, short sleeves and long black gloves.
Miss Alice Stevens, pale blue silk with panels of white lace.
Miss Mary Abbot, white cashmere and lace dress; silver ornaments.
Mrs. Weddall, black silk dress, with bouquet of geraniums.
Miss Bessie Bixby, pale green cashmere, with trimmings of white passamantrie.
Mrs. Whitney, handsome black silk costume; ornaments, gold.
Mrs. Walter Inghes, heliotrope cashmere, with trimmings of heliotrope velvet; ornaments, pearls.
Mrs. James Murray, white silk, with decorations of pearl passamantrie; corsage bouquet of scarlet poppies.
Mrs. Henry Murchie (Calais), cream-colored silk, with lace trimmings.

Miss Maud McKenzie is visiting her sister, Mrs.
George J. Clarke.

Todd sail from New York for England tomorrow.
Their many friends wish them a pleasant voyage and a speedy return, with renewed health for Mr.
Todd.

The young people of the Christian Endeavor society of the Methodist church, gave a very pleasing concert on Monday evening, in the vestry of the church. The singing of the quartette was excellent.
Miss Grace Veasy read, in a very expressive manner, "Kentucky Belle." A violin and piano duet, by the Misses Taylor, deserves much praise. Miss Nettie Murchie and Mr. Charles Black also delighted the audience with an instrumental duet.
There were several solos, but that of Mrs. Frank A. Grimmer, who sang "Visions of Old Folks at Home," deserves special mention. Mrs. Grimmer's voice is very sweet, and it is a pleasure to every one when she sings. The concert was a great success. It is to be hoped that the society will repeat it before long.

Rev. O. S. Newnam is visiting St. Andrews today.

Mrs. Wetmore entertain a number of friends of her little daughter, Miss Bessie Wetmore, this afternoon and evening.

AMHERST, N. S.

[Progress is for sale in Amherst on the streets, by George Douglas.]

AMHERST, May 1.—I forgot to notice last week a very pleasant little party given by Dr. Dobson at his residence. His sister, Mrs. Grey received for him.

Miss Lillie Ross, of Truro, who has been spending some months in town with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dunlop, returned to her home on Saturday.

Mr. Sherman Rogers returned on Saturday from a trip to Fall River, Mass.

Mr. Arthur Rogers, of Montreal, spent Sunday in town.

The Lord Bishop of the diocese is expected in this parish on the 8th inst. to administer the rite of confirmation.

Mrs. Arthur Dickey left on Monday for Ottawa.
I heard of a pleasant five o'clock tea on Saturday given by Mrs. C. E. Ratford. These afternoon teas seem to be decidedly popular with the ladies, quite to the exclusion of us, of the sterner sex.

Miss Christie, of River Hebert, has been spending several weeks with her friends in town.

Mr. Sidney Moore, agent of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at Oxford, and Mrs. Moore spent Saturday in town.

Mr. W. L. Harding, of St. John, spent Sunday in town.

The numerous circles of relatives and friends in town of Mrs. John McSweney sympathize very deeply with her in her late bereavement.

R. Hocken.

Mr. L. E. Winslow, while out driving on Saturday, was thrown from his carriage, but was not badly hurt.

KATHLEEN.

ONE MORE AWAY.

A Professor of the Ingres-Coutellier School Address his Pupils in Spanish.

The Ingres-Coutellier school has the habit of changing its teachers from one place to another. Herr Gunther von der Graben's turn has come. He being, for want of time, unable to say farewell to his many friends, I take this opportunity of thanking them for many kindnesses and courtesies extended to him during his stay here.

My turn is coming also, and I wish, before it arrives, to say something to my scholars:

Al llegar aqui me halle con muchas dificultades, y aun todavia las tengo; mas de mil veces he deseado retirarme, pero en parte por las bondades innumerables de algunos de mis discipulos; y mas, por las generosas ofertas de mi Director, he decidido daros gusto y complaceros a todo mi alcance, por un poco mas del tempo pensado.

Ya vendra quien os placera mas, mas politico, y guizas mas alagueno; pero no mas servicial.

Al ver el resultado de mis esfuerzos hacia algunos de mis alumnos, y para satisfacer a otros, dedico estos cortos renglones, que, aunque no tienen valor, encierran si la verdad.

Como que sois Estudiantes
Del idioma de Cervantes
Muy facil le comprendereis Si con tiempo os dediqueis, Cushing, Thompson, y Bain, Bartlett, Devitt, y Bolvin,
A aprovechar la ensenanza.
Y no hagais como Sancho Panza Que por cuidar de lo ajeno Perdio lo mas por lo menos.

Tambien algo que decir Aunque al parecer enverosmil, Que de mis otros alumnos Sin el permiso de algunos.
Aqui no puedo nombrar:
Porque culpa han de hallar
Para gemir, murmurar;
Clarlar, y quizas gritar,
Que no es cosa ideal Pero si muy natural

Espero que acojais estas lineas y las comprendais en el sentido en que estan escritas. Quedando como siempre ss.

TALKING OVER THE 1ST OF MAY.

What Two Weary Women Found to Console Each Other With.

Two tired women met at the corner of Duke and Sydney streets yesterday. They were weary, and they looked so. They had been moving. Each was prepared to be sympathetic. The usual inquiries for Mr. — and the baby were made and answered, and then the stories of troubles were told. One told the other how, the first thing in the morning, the cartman had failed to put in an appearance. He had promised faithfully, but went with another man for more money. Then there was hurry and rush; the parlor furniture had been scratched; the carpets were an atrocious misfit throughout the whole house; their new range fell in some way and was broken, and the house they went in had to be cleaned from bottom to top.

The other woman had got along fairly well, and had had no mishaps. "But," said she, "I would rather move again than do up all my curtains. I have no stretcher and if I had I never could get them done as I want them. Now, your curtains always look nice. How do you do them?"

"I don't do them at all," said her friend,
"I send them to Ungar's and get them done.
The cost is trifling and there is no bother.
Take my advice and you do the same."

"Is that so; well, I wondered how you got your's so nice. I will send mine to them in the morning. Thank you so much."

And she walked away radiant. A.
