them bon voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boyd have returned from Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Prescott are visiting Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Wardroper have been away on a trip to Montreal and other Canadian cities.

Much interest was evinced by society people generally in the wedding (which took place in St. John's church on Wednesday morning) of Mr. R. Cameron Grant and Miss Florence Adams, both well known in St. John. Although the early hour of 7.30 a. m. was appointed for the ceremony, quite a large congregation assembled in the church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. deSoyres, and the choir of the church, under the conductorship of Mr. Ford, rendered the musical portion of the service admirably.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Arthur W. Adams, and she was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Edith Burpee, and her niece, Miss Florence Boyd. The groomsman was Mr. Everett Morse, of Boston, and the ushers were Mr. J. Twining Hartt and Mr. Charles F. Harrison.

Mrs. W. H. Adams, Miss Adams, Mr. J. McG. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Boyd, Mrs. Thomas S. Adams, Miss Fellows (England), Mr. and Mrs. George F. Smith, the Misses Nicholson. These with the addition of the wedding party and ushers made a pleasant gathering, and their congratulations made a pleasant gathering. And their congratulations and good wishes as the bride and groom drove to the station were hearty and sincere. Each bridesmaid received from the groom an initial gold pin, with enamelled shamrocks and diamond settings.

And the Happenings in Social Circles of Fredericton, Moncton, Woodstock, Dor-chester, St. Stephen, Sussex, Amherst, Calais, Etc. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Troop, Orange street, enter-tained a number of their miends, on Thursday of last week, to a whist party. Tkeir handsome draw-ing-room, as well as the supper table, were taste-fully decorated with cut flowers and plants from their own conservatory. Whist was played for some hours, and after a sumptuous supper, the guests de-parted, much pleased with the evening's pleasure. This actestionment provented maay from attending parted, much pleased with the evening's pleasure. This entertainment prevented many from attending the first production of the Elevator at the Church of England Institute, but another opportunity was afforded them on Saturday evening, when all went off most satisfactorily. The nice little sum of $70 was realized for the flower mission. Judge King, accompanied by Mrs. King and two Judge King, accompanied by Mrs. King and two daughters, left the first of the week for a few months' tour on the Continent. Their many friends wish some weeks, is in a very low condition, and the doctor has little hope of his recovery. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Russell, of Salmon River, have been visiting in St. John during the past few days. I believe that it is their intention to shortly begin housekeeping. I sincerely trust that they will decide to make their home at the West End, as Mr. Russell is a "Carleton laddie," but has been for some time a resident of Salmon River. Mrs. J. A. Clark, who has been confined to the house during the past week with a slight illness, is house during the past week with a slight illness, is able to be out again. Miss Maggie Stuart, sister of the Rev. W. Stuart, who has been spending the winter with him, has reurned to Halifax. Mrs. T. H. Barr is passing a few days with her mother, Mrs. George F. Harding. Mr. John Olive, of Halifax, is home for a short vacation. He is visiting his father, Mr. Isaac Olive, on Prince street.

Mrs. McWilliams left a few days ago with her son, Mr. R. H. McWilliams, for her new home in Chat-ham, taking with her many little tokens of esteem from her many friends at the West End. The loss of Mrs. McWilliams as teacher of the young men's class in the Carleton Methodist Sunday school is much felt, and the young men, they say, are in de-spair as to who will be her successor. Mrs. Mc-Williams has the kindest wishes of the West End in her new home.

J. Twining Hartt and Mr. Charles F. Harrison. The bride wore a pretty travelling dress of grey cloth with hat to match, and carried an immense boquet of white roses, tied with wide ribbons. Miss Burpee was attired in a costume of old gold trimmed with brown, hat to match and bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Boyd wore a dress of grey cloth, hat almost orticals, composed of violets, and also carried a entirely composed of violets, and also carried a End m general, as they have during their residence boquet of yellow roses. On account of the recent bereavement of the family, the wedding was a very of friendship that will not easily be broken. I have not as yet heard who will fill Mr. Dobbs' place. Inquiet one, and only the following ladies and gentle-men were present at the ceremony and attended the like breakfart at the residence of Mrs. W. H

It will be a bitter disappointment to Miss Ethel Peters' numerous friends to hear that she will not return this week from her visit to Woodstock, as was expected, having been persuaded by her friend, Miss Lu Smith to pass a fortnight with her. Mrs. Joseph Clark will remove to the East End on the 1st of May, where she will reside on Orange people in real life have married their first love. Mr. and Mrs. Prince were sweethearts in their early youth, and now, after each one has lived a long mar-ried life with another partner, the old love has reawakened, and they are united in the autumn of their days. Mr. John McSweeney's many friends will rejoic Mr. John McSweeney's many friends will reporce to hear that he has rallied wonderfully, after his recent attack of hemorrhage of the lungs, and that there are good grounds for hope of his recovery, though of course he is very weak. Mrs. R. A. Borden returned on Saturday from Sussex, where she had been spending a week with her mother, Mrs. William Smith. Mr. Sangster returns today to the land of flowers, on a business trip. He will be absent some three weeks. Mrs. W. B. Mrs. Whitney, who has been a prisoner to her room for over eighteen months, is able to move about a little, with the aid of crutches, and hopes to be out again soon. Mrs. Whitney has been a most heroic sufferer, and the friends who have missed her bright society for so long will rejoice to see her restored to health and estimation more

Mr. R. B. Jack still lingers in Moncton, greatly to the satisfaction of his large circle of friends. I have heard a rumor that he is likely to be back again on the I. C. R., for a time at least, and I hope it may prove true, for we should all be glad to have him with us again.

Dr. James McAllister, of Fredericton, is expected in town this week, to pay a visit to his parents, en route for Southern California, where he intends making his home in future. Dr. McAllister has been in rather failing health for a year or two and hopes to regain his strength in the beautiful climate of California.

Miss Bessie Backhouse, of Dorchester, is spend-ing a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Forbes. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. The music was perfect fairest and bravest youth. The music was perfect, the host and hostess charming, and the ladies lovely. So it goes without saying, that the party was a grand success in every respect. Mr. F. A. McCully returned on Saturday from a trip to Fredericton. Mr. George F. Fair, whose clever letters, on the wing, to the daily Times have afforded its readers so much enjoyment, returned on Monday from his transcontinental tour. Mr. Fair had a most enjoy-able trip, and is looking all the better for his outing. Poor A. M. Hubby of Suesay, maid a short visit Rev. A. M. Hubly, of Sussex, paid a short visit to Moncton on Monday. This is only one of the weddings I spoke of some weeks ago, but there are several yet on the tapis, of which more anon.

On Wednesday evening a pleasant juvenile party was given by Mrs. John Thomson. The little ones were invited from 4 until 8 o'clock, during which time everything was thought of for their enjoyment. There were about 30 present.

On Thursday evening Mr. R. Peniston Starr entertained a few of his gentlemen friends to a whist party at his residence, Carleton street.

Mr. A. H. Beddome, of Moncton, was in town this week; also Mr. Alfred Street, of Fredericton. I understand Mrs. George M. Armstrong has abandoned the idea of removing to Amherst, and has decided to remain in St. John, having taken a house in Wellington row, adjacent to her former residence.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Algoma, is visiting the city, and will preach in some of the churches tomorrow. The Metropolitan and Coadjutor Bishop were in St. John this week, to attend the services in Trinity church on St. George's day.

Mrs. Hendershot is visiting friends at Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Street, of St. Andrews, arrived in St. John last week, to reside permanently. Mrs. Osmoud, of Hillsboro, who has been visiting

Wednesday night, Dr. Walker entertained at his | will not regret this more than THE EDITOR.] residence, Princess street, the special staff which had exemplified the work and a few other Masonic friends. It is quite unnecessary to say that the time was most enjoyably spent, and that the "grand honors" accorded to Mrs. Walker and the young ladies were given with a genuine enthusiasm. As was remarken by a distinguished member of the craft, the doctor is blessed with a wife who does not think that Masonry is largely made up of late hours and latch-keys, but who feels a genuine interest in the fraternity. If it were in the scope of Masonry to grant any woman an honorary rank for services rendered to the craft in the past, Mrs. Walker would undoubtedly receive it.

A very pleasant time was spent at Mrs. Fred R. Butcher's, Tuesday afternoon, when she heid a reception for her sister, Mrs. L. G. Crosby, of Yarmouth. APRIL 23.-The beautiful fountain which decorates the lawn of Mr. Oliver Jones serves as a sort of thermometer (or guide to the seasons) for Moneton people. When it retires from public view in the autumn and goes into sanctuary for the winter beneath its huge canvas overcoat, people say, "Oh, see the fountain!-it is covered up. That means winter.

And likewise when it discards its sheath, like a snake changing its skin, and shows its undraped glories of bronze and terra cotta, our thoughts turn naturally towards the flowers that ought to bloom in the spring. Last week the fountain came out in its spring suit and all nature seemed to follow its example and put on a cheerful expression.
