EAT -

Perfect Bread Nature's Great Vital Energy Recuperator.

MADE ONLY FROM THE FAMOUS ARLINGTON WHEAT MEAL.

Facts are Stubborn Truths. Flour is the only impoverished food used by man...

Flour, 2 1/2 parts of Phosphoric Acid, an impoverishment of about three-quarters. Wheat has 0.6 Lime and 0.6 Soda...

Flour 0.1 Lime and 0.1 Soda, an impoverishment of about five-eighths Lime and Soda each. Wheat has Sulphur 1.5; Flour has no Sulphur. Wheat has Silica 0.3; Flour has no Silica.

THE ARLINGTON WHEAT MEAL is a perfect food for Infants and Children, containing all the material for a strong and vigorous constitution.

It is a Positive Cure for Constipation. It is a PERFECT FOOD for the DYSPEPTIC, as it is in the best condition for the gastric juice to act upon...

It is a PERFECT FOOD for the BRAIN WORKER, as it is unsurpassed, containing all the phosphatic properties which the active brain demands, and without which it is incapable of endurance.

"Dogs fed by Magnesia, (vide Kirk and Paget's Physiology) on flour died in forty days; other dogs fed on wheat meal bread flourished and thrived." The three-fourth impoverishment of the mineral ingredients proved fatal to the first. Where Phosphorus, the physical element of all vitality, is wanting in food, the same will be wanting in the system, and the body will come short in vital energy, or the power of endurance. Thus the wasteful expense of living on the basis of superfine flour is enormous and foolish.

THE FAMOUS ARLINGTON WHEAT MEAL

Is recommended by all physicians, has been on the market for the past 18 years, bearing the highest reputation. Being ground from the best pure wheat, it furnishes to the public the means of supplying a PERFECT FOOD. Its quality as it leaves the Arlington Mills is guaranteed to be of superlative excellence and purity. Packed in barrels and half-barrels. Ask your grocer for it, and use no other.

"ASTRA'S" TALKS WITH GIRLS.

[Correspondents seeking information in this department should address their queries to "Astra," Progress, St. John.]

If I often get a mail like last week's I believe I should make an assignment of a half a box of "Relief" pens, three quarters of a bottle of ink, some penholders with the ends chewed off and a waste basket and go out of the business. Of course it is awfully flattering and nice to have the boys and girls assume that you know everything and a little more, but it is hard work to keep one's reputation for universal knowledge up to concert pitch all the time, and my weary brain longs to enjoy the relaxation indulged in by "Mary Jane," who "Munched a sprig of meetin' seed, And read her spelling book."

By the way, a spelling book would not afford much amusement, though, would it? I must really confess, girls, that some of you ask me very silly questions—not often of course—but sometimes, and then I feel that I want to shake you, just to shake a little sense into your heads. Here is a girl away up in Ontario, who is so far beyond the reach of corporal punishment, that I am going to publish her letter and just let her see how it looks in cold, calm, impartial type. She begins, like the Yorkshire people, on the pudding, and gives me nearly a page of tally about my column, and the benefit she derives from it—judging by her letter I don't see that it has done her much good so far—and then she proceeds to business.

COBORG, Ont., Jan. 24, 1891. DEAR ASTRA: In spite of the distance of my home from you, Progress reaches me regularly, and I have been especially interested in your talks with girls, receiving therefrom some excellent advice. I am now taking the liberty of asking you to set my mind at rest on a knotty point that has been agitating me greatly to late; humbly hoping that you will take an interest in me, even so far away as I am.

Is there any harm or is it contrary to the rules of etiquette for a young lady to sit out several dances at a party—Well, I might as well frank—and I would not think a chaperon who told her she should not dance so much with one person, and so spoiled a delightful le-tote, very offensive? What do you think of my name? I think it is horrid, but the young gentleman I mention says he thinks it is just sweet. Is he trying to flatter me? Yours, in a flutter, AMANDA.

I don't wonder you are in a flutter, Amanda. I am perfectly ashamed of you; scat! What do you want to sit "the greater part of the evening" with one young man at a party for? Cannot you spend the evening in his society at some other time without rendering yourself conspicuous by sitting around cuddling up to him, as if you both had rheumatism? Why, under the sun, don't you both go and dance? You say you like him very much. I dare say you do, but surely you don't want to publish the fact to the whole world, do you? You seem inclined to give yourself airs, on the strength of having refrained from going out of sight of the dancers or the chaperon! Where in the world could you have gone to out of sight of the dancers, unless you had either climbed up on the roof, or retired to the cellar? I think your chaperon did perfectly right, and showed great forbearance in not taking you home. I suppose you are very young, Amanda. You certainly cannot have been "out" more than one season, or you would know better; so I will stop scolding you, and give you a little advice. Sit out one, two or even three dances with your friend, if you wish to. You don't say whether he has a club foot or a wooden leg to prevent his dancing, or whether it is merely his religious principles which interfere—but don't make yourself conspicuous by clinging to him for the whole evening, as a shipwrecked mariner clings to a hencoop; give the other girls a chance, and don't make him conceited. If you must sit still half the evening, put a little book called Stops in your pocket and study punctuation; a few commas sprinkled through a letter are a great embellishment, and assist much in the reading of it.

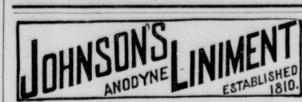

Your name is quite a matter of taste; it has an old fashioned, quaint sound, though I can't say I particularly admire it. CANADIAN, Moncton.—There is not the slightest difficulty about entering the Canadian militia, the officers are usually only too glad to receive recruits. Apply to the adjutant of the regiment you wish to enter, and you will doubtless be very welcome. There is supposed to be a medical examination, but I don't think it ever gets beyond the supposition, age is immaterial, though I imagine one would have to, at least, be sixteen. To obtain a lieutenantcy you would have to undergo a course of instruction at the Infantry school at Fredericton, or at least, pass the necessary examination, but the course is very short, six weeks, I think, being considered sufficient.

PANSY, St. John.—I am glad you were pleased with your answers, we all like a little appreciation. (1) I must say that I can hardly understand any one marrying "two or three times." I have always had an uncomfortable sort of feeling that I should feel awfully embarrassed if I met two ex-husbands in a better and brighter world. I would not be quite sure which I belonged to, and should be afraid of making the other one jealous. Seriously it is my firm belief that we can only love once, after that, we are capable of loving an indefinite number of times. Paradoxical, is it not? but never the less true, I think. Just once in our lives we give our whole hearts, the flower blooms in all its exquisite beauty, and then dies—forever—but the soil is still left, and from it spring up blossoms, fair and bright and sweet, but never the same. I do not say it is the first, but it is the one. (2) A true marriage is made in heaven, for it is the one remnant of God's Paradise, left upon this sad old earth, but I also think that there are many of them made in a place where matches—lucifer matches—are manufactured. But they are all, a great deal what we make them ourselves.

(3) I think it would be only right and proper for you to write to the young lady, and I think you should have done it long ago. You know it is by no means a pleasant thing to enter a family where you are not very sure you will be welcome, and it would certainly bridge over the difficulty very much if the young man's family wrote to you. Indeed it is customary when a son or brother becomes engaged for his mother and sisters to write at once to his intended wife, assuring her of her welcome as a member of the family, and your wish to become friends, even before you are relatives. I am afraid she must have felt the omission very much; write to her at once.

W. N. M., Brooklyn, L. I.—I am obliged to use your initials, as your signature was a little long, but I think you will recognize them at once and know who I mean. Thank you for your letter, and also for the clippings. I would like to publish the former, but have not space this week. I was greatly pleased to know of the interest you still take in the city from which you have been absent—it I understand you aright—for over 20 years, and that you approve of PROGRESS. Your idea is a good one, and I dare say that the next time PROGRESS hears of any "supposed gentleman" being rude, or insulting, to any unprotected girl it will make it quite apparent who the offender is, as it did in this case. You must remember, however, that St. John is not New York—even there it would probably not be prudent to mention a man's name in connection with a premeditated rather than an actual breach against society laws.

The one making the second best average will be rewarded with a first-class Safety Bicycle or Tricycle, value $75.00. The one making the third best average, will be rewarded with their choice of either a fine breech-loading English Shot Gun, or Elegant Silk Dress Pattern, value $40.00. Each of the next fifty making the best averages, will be rewarded with either a girls or boys, A. 1. Pocket Knife, containing four blades of the best Sheffield steel, value $1.50 each. If more than one correct answer is received, the one bearing the earliest postmark will be awarded the leading prize, the others following in order of merit.

THE QUESTIONS. The beautiful month of September. A deep, wide, rapid flowing river, whose bank on the North is high, steep, and rocky. Perched upon a point of this high bank, is a city surrounded by walls, and defended by a brave army under a brave general. Fleets of warships for months held the river below and vainly sought to force the surrender of the city. The dark night soldiers from the ships scramble up the steep bank, and with their General, gain the plain above. The morning light reveals to the garrison of the city, its enemy ready for attack. A fierce battle ensues. The generals of both armies die from wounds received. The city is captured. 1. Give the names of the river, city and general. 2. What nations were represented by the two armies? 3. Which army formed the garrison of the city? 4. By what name is the fierce battle known? 5. In what year did these things happen? 6. What was the result of the capture of the city?

The answers to the above questions must be accompanied by $1.00 for a year's subscription to THE QUEEN. The Young Peoples' Department of THE QUEEN, is devoted solely to entertaining and instructing the youth of Canada. The popularity of "Uncle Joe" who has charge of this Department is demonstrated by the fact that he receives daily, from sixty to one hundred letters and puzzles for publication from young people residing in all parts of the globe.

SPECIAL DAILY PRIZE. Each day during this Competition, either a first-class Stem Winding Nickel Watch, a good time keeper, or an Elegant Silver Desert Set, (Cream and Sugar) value $2.00, will be awarded to the person from whom the first correct answers to above questions are received at THE QUEEN office, and opened, for that day.

The history of our Country should interest every loyal Canadian. If you are a little rusty on this subject, take down your old school history, study up and join THE QUEEN'S "National History School."

The distribution of rewards will be in the hands of disinterested persons, and decisions will be based on the correctness of the answers. Competitors can use their own language in wording their answers.

Answers may be sent in any time before April 30th, but as postmarks may count in awarding the leading prizes, it is better to send as early as possible. No correction can be made after your answers are mailed.

Every one answering the entire six question correctly, will receive a present. If you have never seen a copy of THE QUEEN, send four 3c. stamps for a late number containing full particulars of all THE QUEEN'S Competitions, and letters from persons who have received over $10,000 in prizes during the past year. We intend distributing prizes to the value of $25,000 during 1891.

Our National History Competition is entirely separate and distinct from any other Contest offered by THE QUEEN, and all communications concerning it, must be addressed

THE CANADIAN QUEEN, "Historical Competition," 53 BAY STREET, TORONTO, CANADA.
