time ought to furnish many items of interest. The testivities are chiefly of a family nature, and the outsider has no part therein.

I saw two amiliar faces in church on Christmas day, those of Mr. J. Roy Campbell, of St. John, who has been spending the week at the Rectory, and Mr. A. Kortright Neales, who arrived last Wednesday evening and stayed until Moncav night. Mrs. Bent, of Amherst, spent Christmas with her father and mother returning home on Monday.

I wonder why people choose Christmas as the time to gather around the "home place," in preference to any other. It seems a curious custom, but a very charming one; yet if we were like our Australian brethren, and had it in the summer it would certainly be pleasanter. "Tis hard to be jolly when one's energies are devoted to keeping from freezing, but we must needs make the best of it.

Mrs. Shreve, with her son and daughter, spent Christmas with friends in Moncton.

Mr. M. G. Teed went to Fredericton on Thursday night, returning on Saturday.

Mr. Percy Forster spent Christmas in Richibucto, where Mr. John B. Forster, with his two little sons, now is.

DEC 30 .- The Misses Estabrooks know what takes with the young people. They treated them to a jolly little dance, on Christmas night, which was just the thing, as every ne was in a dancing humor. Among those who were not slow to get there, were Mr. and Mrs. F. MacDongall, the Misses Black, Miss Ayer, Miss L. Fawcett, Miss R. Knapp, Miss M. Rannie, Mr. Lane, Mr. Saunders, M. F. Rannie,

There were as usual a number of private family gatherings on Christmas day. I noticed a gay party wending their way to that hospitable mansion situated at "Acacia Grove."

ated at "Acacia Grove."

There was also a family dinner at Mr. Christopher Milner's "Thorne Cottage."

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kinnear, while driving home from Westmorland on Friday, met with what might have been a serious accident. In turning the corner opposite the Merchant's bank, the runner of the sleigh ran against some stones with such force that Mrs Kinnear was thrown out; but beyond a severe shaking, I believe Mrs. Kinnear escaped uninjured.

Mr. M. G. Lane found his way to Sackville on Thursday.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

A Canadian Druggist Makes a Discovery Rivalling that of Dr. Koch. The civilized world has recently been deeply agitated over the announcement that Dr. Koch, an eminent German physician, had discovered a lymp for the cure of consumption. This discovery has been heralded throughout the world, and is looked upon as one of the greatest achievements of modern medical science. Of equal, if not greater in importance, is child a discovery made by a well-known Cana- smile dian druggist, which, while it does not have the pretend to cure consumption after the lungs have been affected, is offered with every confidence as a preventative of that for her disease.
