T. B. BARKER & SONS, PROPRIETORS, SAINT JOHN, N. B.

St. John—South End.

It was undoubtedly queens weather on Monday last on which the queen's birthday was celebrated, and boats and trains were crowded with pleasure seekers who wished to get their first breath of country air. A great many picnics were given, and Rothesay seemed to be the favorite resort, but I do not know by whom they were all given. One, however, was got up by Mr. D. Russell Jack and Mr. Thomas Millidge at their camp at Rothesay which they have fitted up in a comfortable though rustic style for the summer. A handsome lunch was provided by the hosts, who were assisted in laying the table and cooking meals, etc. by some of their lady guests, which rendered no little fun and merriment. Boating was enjoyed by many on the river, and before leaving for town the whole party was photographed by Mr. Herbert Tilley. Amateur photography is now so fashionable that no picnic seems complete without a camera. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Millidge, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilbert, the Misses Gilbert, Miss Walker, Mrs. Rosa Street, Mr. B. Gilbert, Miss Annie Puddington, Mr. I. Allen Jack, Mr. Wm. Jack, Miss Marion Jack, Mr. A. Hazen, Mr. B. Hazen, Miss Travers, the Misses Parks, Mr. W. Parks, Mr. Gillis Keator, the Misses Millidge, Mr. Herbert Tilley, Mr. J. McDonald, Miss F. King, Miss Josie Troop, Mr. A. Thomson and others.

Another pleasant picnic also took place at Rothesay, which has become an annual affair on the queen's birthday, and is got up by Mrs. J. C. Allison, the Misses Smith and other friends. Each lady provided a basket of refreshments and the usual picnic pastimes—boating, sailing and playing games—were indulged in. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allison, Mrs. R. C. Grant, the Misses Smith, the Misses Snider, the Misses MacLaren, the Misses DeVeber, Miss Hazen, Miss Robinson, Mr. Short, Mr. Hartt, Mr. G. Ruel, Mr. Bowzer Smith, Mr. H. Robinson, Miss Albro, Miss Adams, Mr. F. Starr and others.

FREDERICTON.

[Progress is for sale in Fredericton at the bookstore of W. T. H. Fenety and by James H. Hawthorne.]

MAX 27.—The 24th was a gay day in the city. Not forty years had the sun shone forth with such splendor as it did on that beautiful day. The first thing heard in the morning was the tune of "God save the queen," well rendered by the military band which played in the officers square. A short time after the red coats assembled for review on the same square, and they did indeed look beautiful as the bright morning sun flashed on their bayonets. A little later on in the morning, the Citizens band struck up the same tune as they marched to head the procession of the Ancient Order of the Hibernians, which society had assembled to accompany the body of Mr. Frank Martin to his last resting place, it was a very pretty procession. Over a hundred members marched after the band in beaver hats and black suits, followed by a great many prominent citizens.
