ROOKWOOD POTTERY OF CINCINNATI.
Gold Medal, Paris Exposition, 1889.

THE ROOKWOOD POTTERY was established at Cincinnati in 1880 by Mrs Maria Longworth Storer, whose father, Joseph Longworth, was the founder of the Art School and a chief patron of the Art Museum in the same city. The artistic impulse which came from the ceramic display of Japan at the Centennial Exhibition of 1876, and the production still bears the impress of that influence. For a time a school for pottery painting formed part of the scheme, and from the beginning the commercial side of the enterprise has been subordinate to the artistic. We have just received a choice assortment.

St. John—South End.

A man-of-war being in harbor proved an incentive for a little gaiety this week, but I do not think citizens in general have shown as much hospitality or desire to make the visit of the officers pleasant, as they have on former occasions when a ship has been in port. The captain and officers attended a small afternoon at home, given by the Misses Nicholson on Monday last, which was a very pleasant affair.

On Wednesday afternoon a garden party was arranged and invitations issued by Mrs. and Miss Burpee at their pretty residence, Mount Pleasant, but a downpour of rain made the grounds too wet for tennis or other outdoor enjoyment, and the guests who numbered about forty, were entertained at five o'clock tea. Capt. and Mrs. Ranier and officers of H. M. S. Tourmaline were present. After spending an hour or two in pleasant intercourse and discussing the dainties provided, the party dispersed about six o'clock.

Wednesday evening a delightful little dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. G. Sydney Smith, at their residence, Dorchester street, at which between thirty and forty young people were present, including some of the ship's officers. The party was a merry one and was kept up until a late hour.

Capt. Ranier, with Mrs. Ranier, spent this week at the Clifton House.

On Wednesday afternoon Sir Leonard Tilley, accompanied by Lieut. Col. Armstrong, A. D. C., and his son, Lieut. Herbert Tilley, visited the Tourmaline, and was received with a salute of thirteen guns. Sir Leonard returned to St. Andrews in the evening.

Mayor Peters, Mrs. Peters, and other guests, were entertained by Capt. Ranier and officers on board the Tourmaline on Monday.

Miss Agnes Warner, who shortly leaves to resume her studies at McGill college, Montreal, gave a small but very pleasant dance on Tuesday evening, at the residence of her father, Gen. Warner, Mt. Pleasant. Fortunately the night was fine, and a stroll around the grounds between dances made it most enjoyable.

Among those present were: Miss Tuck, Miss Parks, Miss Matthews, Miss Edith Barker, Miss Fairweather, Miss Edith Hanington, Miss Valence, Miss Edge, Miss Winnie Hall, Miss McMillan, Miss Ada Bayard, Miss Nina Keator, Miss Burpee, Miss Mabel Smith, Miss Neale Robinson, Miss Scammell.

Mr. H. Fairweather, Mr. H. McAvity, Mr. W. Clarke, Mr. H. Brigstocke, Mr. Bowyer Smith, Mr. Stuart Fairweather, Mr. H. deBury, Mr. Gillis Keator, Mr. Walter Fairweather, Mr. F. Barker, Messrs. R. and A. Hazen, Mr. A. C. Thomson, Mr. C. J. Coster, Capt. W. Robinson.

Miss Bradford, of Boston, is the guest of Mrs. James Stratton, on Hazen street.

Dr. Charles Foster, of St. Andrews, spent this week in the city.

The formal opening of the Davenport school for boys takes place on Monday next. Invitations have been issued to a large number of citizens to be present on the occasion. The old Gilbert homestead, or as it is now to be called, "Portland Manor," has been thoroughly renovated and furnished, and in every way is well adapted for a first class school. The most sanguine expectations of the founders have been more than fully realized as to the number of applicants, as its first term commences with nineteen resident scholars and about 25 or more day pupils. The boys assemble today to be in readiness for the formal opening by its patron, the coadjutor bishop of the diocese, on Monday.

The picnic to Lepreau, given by the St. John fustiers, which was postponed in consequence of the wet weather last Friday, came off with great success yesterday. It was much regretted that H. M. S. Tourmaline left yesterday, as the captain and officers had received invitations to be present.

I hear of two engagements this week: one between a young English gentleman and a lady residing on Germain street. The other, a young merchant of this city and a daughter of an old and prominent merchant. Congratulations to all interested.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Wilson returned to Toronto this week.

Mr. J. Warner, Mr. R. Brigstocke and Mr. H. deBury returned this week to the Royal Military college, Kingston, Ont.

Thursday being ladies day at the tennis grounds, a large number of ladies and gentlemen were present, when a game of progressive tennis was played, which proved most novel and interesting. Five o'clock tea was served by some of the ladies. Last evening another little dance was given by Mrs. G. Sydney Smith which passed off as pleasantly as that of Wednesday night.

Watch For It.

Edgecombe & Sons, of Fredericton, propose to make as large an exhibit as possible of fine carriages at the exhibition to be held in St. John September 23 to October 3. Every person who has made up his mind to visit St. John at that time should make it a point to see the carriages, the makers of which carried off the gold medal and four other prizes last year.—A.

On the morning of that day they were presented with a handsome bouquet by some Digby friends; and at noon a box containing seven different kinds of roses arrived. In the evening a number of friends assembled at Mrs. Short's, and presented Mr. and Mrs. Fleming with elegant silver berry spoons, after which a pleasant time was spent.

[Progress is for sale in Fredericton at the bookstore of W. T. H. Fenety and by James H. Hawthorne.]

Sept. 3.—September bids fair to be a very lively month in the celestial city. I understand their are to be four weddings, and parties and picnics innumerable.

cupid has been very busy during the past months, and as a result Fredericton is to lose four of her young ladies; three of the gentlemen are strangers, and one a native of this city, although he will take his bride to a neighboring city where they will make their home. There are also rumors of more engagements.

There is to be a large ball at the officers' barracks on the evening of the 15th. Mrs. Tabor is also going to give one of her pleasant parties, also Miss Frank Tibbitts.
