PROGRESS, SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1891.

St. John-South End.

July 1st, a public holiday which all pleasure seekers look forward to as the holiday of the year, was all that could be desired as regards weather, and was the more appreciated after the many days of rain which preceded it. But while many were enjoying it, others were spending it behind closed blinds and with sorrowing hearts, for since last I wrote, several of the cheerful homes of this city have been turned into houses of mourning. The community has received two sad and sudden shocks this week, in the death of Mrs. Thomas Furlong, and Mr. Arthur Howe. The former which occurred last Sunday, was rendered doubly sad from the fact of her death taking place [the day of her son, Mr. Maurice Furlong's funeral. On Saturday last Mrs. Furlong was seized with paralysis but had somewhat recovered on Sunday, when another attack of the same disease caused her death, the news coming most unexpectedly to her large circle of friends, among whom she was greatly beloved. Mrs. Furlong was an Irish lady of rare talents and most philanthropic, and was ever ready to render substantial help in the furtherance of a good cause. She leaves besides a husband five children, namely, One, Two, and Three Misses Lizzie, Katheelen, Helen, and Marie Furlong, and one son, Gerard. Her sister, Miss Mary Fennell, resided with her. Her funeral took place on Tuesday last, and was attended by large numbers of all classes. The pallbearers were: Count de Bury, Mr. John McMillan, Mayor Peters, Dr. McAvenny, Senator Boyd, and Mr. James Reynolds. The deepest sympathy is felt for Mrs. Arthur Howe and her family. Mr. Howe who died of congestion and heart failure on Tuesday last at his residence, "Glenera," was a great favorite with all who knew him. His illness, which was a most trying one, extended over nearly a fortnight. He leaves, besides his widow and four children, a father, brother, and three sisters.

Mrs. A. P. Tippet and family are summering at Bathurst. Miss Katie Jones has returned home; she was accompanied by Mrs. Downey, of Buffalo, who is her guest. Miss Tuck leaves tomorrow night for Winnipeg to visit her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles
