FREDERICTON.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Fredericton at the bookstore of W. T. H. Fenety and by James H. Hawthorne.]

SEPT. 16.—The social event of this week is the marriage of Miss Mabel Estey, eldest daughter of Mr. R. A. Estey, to Mr. Arthur C. Edgecombe, youngest son of the late John Edgecombe, of this city. The wedding was to have been a very gay affair, and the ceremony performed in the Methodist church, but owing to the very serious illness of Mr. Edgecombe's mother, it was comparatively quiet. The marriage was celebrated in the large front drawing room at Mr. Estey's residence, Carlton street, at noon today, by Rev. R. W. Weddall. The bride, who has always been considered one of Fredericton's very prettiest young ladies, looked lovely in her bridal dress of white bengaline poplin, long train, and trimmed with elegant white silk fringe and chiffon. She wore no veil, but had white ostrich tips in her hair, and carried an elegant bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, tied with long white ribbons, and here and there on the ribbons were a rose bud and spray of stephanotis. Her slippers were French grey undressed kid.

Her sister, Miss Lillie Estey, was bridesmaid, and she was dressed in a very handsome, turquoise blue bengaline, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Hedley Edgecombe.

After the ceremony an elegant luncheon was served, when the bride's health was toasted. The drawing room was a perfect bower of flowers; the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends under a bell of white roses, and asters hung in the centre of the room. The mantel was banked with ferns and moss, and filled in with asters and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Edgecombe left the 5 p. m. train for St. John, where a very pleasant home awaits them on King street east, followed by the good wishes of hosts of friends in this city, who have known them from childhood.

The following is the list of invited guests: Mrs. Richard Estey, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Edgecombe, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Edgecombe, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Edgecombe, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edgecombe, Dr. and Mrs. Coulthard, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. David Hatt, Miss Ethel Hatt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fowler, Miss Annie Fowler, Mr. Thos.
