JULY 8 .- The "Whitlock excursion" to St. Andrews on Wednesday last, was a decided success. If there had only been more time to enjoy the beauty of St. Andrews and the Algonquin hotel, it would have been a perfect outing, but "time and tide" wait for none. The Rose Standish was obliged to steam away from the shiretown shortly after 8 o'clock, to arrive at Calais at 10 o'clock. Mr. Whitlock is to be congratulated upon the success of the excursion, and the admirable manner in which he arranged it. More than 200 ladies and gentlemen were present on this occasion, and all were loud in their praise of the enjoyment it afforded- I believe Mr. Whitlock intends to arrange another excursion to the Algonquin some time during August.

A large number of excursionists arrived in town A large number of excursionists arrived in town by train on Saturday, to visit the driving park, to witness the races and the game of base ball, and to enjoy the pleasures of the "glorious fourth" in Calais. The pouring rain prevented the programme of sports for the day being carried out, with the exception of a few races on the street, and the fair held in St. Croix hall by the ladies of the Union church. There was little also to attract a program. church. There was little else to attract or amuse visitors to the city.

Although it rained, and rained, yet the streets were thronged with people, who tried to enjoy themselves by eating hoke pokie ice cream and listening to the hurdy gurdies, who were trying to outrival each other in playing "Little Annie Rooney" and other tunes more noted for their antiquity than anything else. At last the strangers were obliged to seek shelter in the cars in which obliged to seek shelter in the cars in which they came, and it was a tired, miserable crowd that wended its way to the railway stations. The rain was a great disappointment to the people on both sides of the river, it spoiled the day, and prevented the display of fire works in the evening. I heard that the gentlemen in Calais, who are on the amusment committee, intend to give the public an exhibition of fire works and a band concert on Main extract transfer. TENTH WONDER.

HILLSBORO.

July 9 .- Our pleasant little villiage after lying dormant throughout the winter months is now awakening up with all its freshness and beauty, and everything is full of life and joy. Society circles Society circles are stirring themselves up; strangers to arrive, and everything promises a gay summer. Among the strangers who arrived last week are Mr. and Mrs. E.Calhoun of Amherst, who have been spending the winter in Boston for the benefit of Mr. Calhoun's health. I regret to say that he is not as well as could be wished.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tomkins have returned home from New York, accompanied by their daugh ter, Mrs. Crawford, this being her first visit since

Miss Estey of the West End, Miss Hilyard of Boston and Miss Lottie Wallace, of Dorchester, are visiting here, the guests of Miss Josie Wallace. News of the departure of Rev. Thomas Pierce and family for their new home in Richmond is received with much regret. Since their stay with us they have become very popular, and their genial faces will be very much missed.

Our young people held a very successful garden party at the baptist parsonage last Saturday evening. The grounds were tastefully arranged, lanterns were promiscuously hung around, and the scene was quite picturesque, when, alas! the rain came down in torrents, and there was a rather hasty departure for the respective homes.

The table was profusely decorated with pansies; before each plate small bouquets were placed for each guest, the whole making a very artistic effect. ROBIN.

Eternal Vigilance

Is the price of health. But with all our precaution there are enemies always lurking about our systems, only waiting a favorable opportunity to assert themselves. Impurities in the blood may be hidden for years or even for generations and suddenly break forth, undermining health and bastening death. For all diseases arising from impure blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is the unequalled and unapproached remedy. It is King of them all, for it conquers disease.

miserable day or two now and then, "when it is too warm for hot spiced rum, too cold for lager beer," and one does not know whether to wear an overcoat or not. However, we cannot have everything, and when people come from Moncton with their melting tale of woe, we take another long breath of cool air, and are thankful.

The first of July was perfect here, and a good many strangers saw our little town under very favorable circumstances. Mrs. Beddome, of Moncton, with her two young daughters, spent the day with Mrs. Hickman at Rocklyn. Mrs. Hewson and her infant daughter came to spend some weeks with her mother, Mrs. Chandler. Mr. Hewson is often here too, and it seems like a little bit of the "days that are gone" to see them

Mrs. Geo. Ryan and her little girl are at Maplehurst for a month; and Mrs. Upham of St. John, with her two children, are staying with Mrs. J. E. Church, so our "visitors' list" is quite large.

Invitations were out for a tennis party on Mrs. Hanington's lawn last Friday afternoon, but the day proved a little chilly for those who do not play, so the programme was changed to a little dance in the evening. About twenty young people took part and enjoyed it very much, apparently. Miss Laura Shrives' violin waltzes made a very pleasant part

Mrs. J. B. Forster gave a very pleasant card party on Saturday evening, the guests being chiefly married people. Mrs. Hazen won the ladies' first prize, a very pretty perfume case, while Mr. M. B. Palmer again carried away the gentleman's prize. Mr. Palmer is extremely fortunate, though probably his fine playing must have much to do with it, and his brow must fairly ache under its weight of Miss Sadie Forster has returned from Windsor, looking exceedingly bright and well. School life seems to agree with her, as it does with nearly all girls, I think.

Mrs. T. R. Wetmore, of Adrian, Mich., is staying with Mrs. E. C. Tait, who has also Mrs. Fred Tait and her little girl, of North Sydney, visiting her.

We are all very sorry to hear that Mr. H. R. Emmerson is seriously thinking of moving to Tacoma. Dorchester can ill afford to lose him or his charming, little family, and we shall fervently his charming little family, and we shall fervently hope that it may prove but a passing cloud upon the social horizon. Out of door amusements have quite revived dur-ing the past week of fine weather, though today's down pour will rather dampen both fond aspirations and tennis courts. There has been a good deal of playing lately, and on Saturday afternoon the lawn at Mrs. Hanington's home presented a very pretty scene. Five o'clock tea was drunk under the trees by about a dozen young people, who seemed to enjoy it extremely. Bread and butter never taste so good as when eaten out of doors, I think, which must account for the quantities of provisions people have to take to picnics.

The tennis club has taken a fresh start and are making a court on a piece of ground very kindly given by Mrs. J. Chandler. Mr. Hiram U. Palmer is also making a court in his grounds, so we shall have lots of tennis soon. The old gun club also shows symptoms of new life, and at a meeting held last evening decided to begin practice at once—weather permitting. Mr. Geo. W. Wallace was appointed president, with Mr. C. S. Hickman as secretary. The trap will be in Mr. J. U. Y. Smith's field, and, no doubt, there will be a great slaughter of clay pigeons.

Mrs. U. B. Robinson of St. John, Mrs. J. F.

Allison, Miss Vail and Mr. Beverly Robinson drove over from Sackville to spend a part of dominion The postponed driving party was to take place Thursday evening, but this heavy rain will again put an extinguisher upon it, I imagine.

Mr. F. Stewart, of Montreal, spent Saturday and Sunday in town, the guest of Mrs. Campbell, at the Mr. A. Kortright Neales is visiting Mrs. Hanington for a week or two. Miss Lowerison, of Amherst, returned to her ome on Monday.

Mrs. Welch of Brooklyn, and her two daughters, arrived last evening, to spend the summer with Mrs. We were quite destitute of the means of grace on Sunday, in Trinty church, at least. Mr. Campbell is taking a short vacation, and as Mr. Wiggins is also away from Sackville, we have to cultivate the inner man of the heart without extraneous aid for a short time. Sunday was one of dame nature's very best, so it did not seem so long as it would otherwise have done under the circumstances. Mr. Fenton of Halifax, has arrived to take Mr, Kerr's place as book keeper for J. H. Hickman

The fishing party to Bulmer's lake, where swim those pink, happy, delicious looking trout, was more than a success, and the angling by the gay young people was not by any means a failure; and, did I hear it, or perhaps I dreamt it, that this happy party was minus a chaperon.
