The late delightful weather has put society on excellent terms with itself, making it very gay in fashionable circles. The event of the week was, of course, the grand picnic given on McNab's Island by the officers of the R. A. and R. E. on Monday last. It was a very grand affair and immensely en. joyed. The day was perfect, though slightly foggy and overcast in the early part of the morning, but before 11 a.m., the sun shone brilliantly in an unclouded sky. A very numerous gathering of the fair sex looking their best in their sweetest summer gowns graced the occasion. Many naval men were of the party, which was just the necessary element to render the picnic thoroughly successful. Admiral, Lady and Miss Watson, and General Sir John Ross and Miss Copeland were among the guests. After an elaborate luncheon eaten under the sylvan shade, a charming afternoon passed away all too quickly boating or wandering over the many points of interest on the island. Just as the evening shadows commenced to deepen the happy party returned to the city in steam launches very prettily illuminated with Chinese lanterns and other lights

Apropos of picnics, regattas, tennis, polo, and the many out-door amusements in which society takes such a keen interest just at this particular season, we have remarked that some of the ladies look awfully chic, their gowns have such a fresh stylish air, besides, best of all, fitting them so perfectly. But please do not forget I did not say all our society girls dressed well—some women will insist upon making frights of themselves in affecting the Louis XV mode. On Saturday, at the regatta, there stood beside me a girl, short and rather stout, clad in the long Louis XV basque. I couldn't help won-dering if that girl owned a mirror, and if so, did she ever look at herself when she wore that particular frock. This style of dress is suited only to tall, slight women, and none others should affect it. Can you imagine Worth dressing a short stumpy woman in a Louis XV? Oh horror; I saw another girl on Saturday—there were lots of pretty girls there, but this was, I think, the prettiest—who took my fancy immensely. She wore a simple, navy blue skirt and white vest, with a rolling white collar and blue necktie; over this a short blue jacket, a white sailor hat with blue band, white parasol, and tan shoes completed this jaunty costume. The tan shoes were well fitting, and I happen to know that they came from New York and cost the tidy little sum of $12. This girl, I assure you, looked well, and was the cynosure of all eyes. Besides about the tout ensemble there hovered a nameless something which denoted very eloquently, good blood and good breeding. White and gold is very fashionable, and on some brunettes who affect this style, it is very dashing.

The regatta on Saturday was very successful; the piazza on the yacht club grounds was filled with spectators. Among the number of people we noticed several Americans. The pleasantest feature of the afternoon was certainly the boat race. In each of the atternoon was certainly the boat race. In each boat were two men and a lady who steered. Among those who rowed in the race were the following: Mr. Cornish, Mr. Hoskins-steered by Miss Minnie Vizard; Mr. Lluck, Mr. Furnace-steered by Miss Lluck ; Mr. Marsh, Mr. Kenney-steered by Miss K. Kenney. Mr. Cornish and Mr. Hoskins won the day and the prize was presented to Miss Vizard by the lieutenant-governor. These Saturday afternoo regattas are extremely pleasant. You really can imagine nothing more enjoyable than on a clear bright day to stand looking out on the blue harbor at the white yachts skimming the surface of the water like so many sea gulls; then there are the Rob Roy and canoe races, which makes us watch our friends as they handle their slight crafts with a delightful, fearful interest. Then, on these afternoons, there is always a band, and when does music sound more delightful than floating out on the sea breeze? I am of opinion that there are too many amusements on the tapis Saturday afternoons. As all are of a high order, one of course cannot attend them all. There is, for example, the band at the gardens -that splendid Leicestershire band-to hear which should be counted a rare treat, and yet, we hear, that nobody goes. It is really a pity that good music should be wasted upon the desert air, or at least upon the unappreciative nursery maid or cry-ing occupant of the perambulator. Well, Halifax is a strange place. I wonder if other towns take fads, drive them into the mud, then trample them well out of sight and forget all about them. The tennis tournament at the South End club was continued on Saturday, the first game being played solely by gentlemen. One game played by Capt. Jenkins and Mr. Tobin in No. 3 court, and Capt. Alexander and Mr. Ryan in No. 4 court was parti-cularly interesting, all being considered our best players. After much brilliant playing and clever rallies victory was decided in favor of Capt. Alexander over Mr. Ryan, and Capt. Jenkins over Mr. Tobin. The great interest, however, was centred in the united doubles in which semi-finale and finale were played. Capt. and Mrs. Alexander rep-resented the South End club, having two teams of noted players to vanquish before they could attain first place, but equal to the occasion they scored steadily, capturing the sett, 6–2. This was "sett all." The competitors then changed courts, but the Alexanders again won the sett, and having won the succeeding setts will thus carry off the first prize. Mrs. Peacock won the lieutenant governor's prize, besides being considered the best lady player in Halifax, which is saying a good deal in a city where the ladies are such capital hands at tennis. Mrs. Wood's tea came off in good style one day last week. Lots of small folks were there, though some were rather rushed to get off in time to attend the Leicestershire "at home" at the Wellington barracks, which was a charming affair, all the elite choir gets along without the aid of an organ. The members have seats directly in front of the pulpit, and furnish very fair singing at the various ser-vices. The congregation very generally join in the singing. It so happens that one or two lady members of the congregation, who have seats near the choir, have very loud voices and have a wonderful faculty for singing out of tune. They had been in the habit of joining heartily in the praise up to a few weeks ago. A well-known city drug-gist, who has a seat near the ladies in question, decided that he could stand the discord no longer and intimated in a quiet way to some of the deacons that they had better put a stop to it. The deacons, it appears, were not inclined to interfere; so the ladies in question continued their efforts, all unconscious that they were distressing those about them. The druggist eventually under-took to bring the matter to a crisis, and during the singing of a Psalm on a certain Sunday morning left the church. This determined the deacons and they intimated to the father of the offending ladies that they should be requested to sing less loudly and more in tune with the choir. This was done and now the ladies take no part in the musical portion of the services. The druggist and other sensitive members of the congregation now keep their pews

AUG. 5 .- I regret that I was unable to send items for last week's PROGRESS, but I was out of town, and couldn't get back in time to collect news and send it. I think I would have adopted "Dora's" sug. gestion, but unfortunately in the country "our morning paper" is not to be had, and I was over 40 miles from the city where that "bright and newsy sheet" is quite unknown. All the same, "Dora," I am very much obliged to you for the idea of copying-I had never thought of it, nor had I seen such a useful and variegated copy of the paper as you seem to have run across.

I cannot say that your readers of last week missed much by the absence of a letter from "Jack,"news was scarce because, though there were no end of picnics, etc., etc., going on, I being away, was "really not in it." One of our daily papers said that the St. Peter's bay excursion was a great success and that when the trains met at Mount Stewart (twenty-six carloads in all) "so immense was the crowd that one could imagine he was set down in Boston." Population of Boston, 400,000; population of Mo unt Stewart, 452.

Mrs. Carvell gave an "at home" at government house on Thursday evening. Had I been present I house on industry evening. That I been present I would not dare describe the dresses worn by our belles on this occasion, for I was pounced upon be-fore for attempting it and getting "all mixed up." Mrs. Carvell is a very charming hostess and ably supported by the lieutenant-governor, who is a host in himself n himself.

I notice that cards are out for "at homes" today and tomorrow from 4 to 6.30. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robinson, of Bermnda, are guests at government house. Miss Edith Wright, of Boston, is visiting the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Chandler. Rev. E. and Mrs. Simpson have returned from their bridal tour.

We are waiting anxiously for the arrival of the men-of-war. At least the ladies are. Our noses are out of joint as soon as the first uniforms put in an We are snubbed and sat upon from appearance. the moment the ships arrive until about a week after the moment the ships arrive until about a week after they depart, and by that time we are more than ready to be taken back, smiled upon and be once more happy! Well this time there are at least five balls in prospect and parties no end in addition. Senator Montgomery has returned from Ottawa. Mrs. Lewis Carvell and Miss Carvell left for Bos on by the State of Indiana. Mr. David Schurman has been visiting the city. Mr. Walter Scott, who has been attending McGill ollege, Montreal, has returned home. Dr. McLeod has returned to the city from St. John, where he attended the meeting of the medical association. The doctor looks well after his trip, and seems to have enjoyed it thoroughly. Mr. Fred Scott has been compelled to leave his office in the city on account of ill health. Mr. Scott will try farming for a change, and his friends trust

AMHERST.

[PROGRESS is for sale at Amherst, by George Douglas, at the Western Union Telegraph office.] Aug. 5 .- There was a very bright and hearty service on Sunday, at 10 o'clock, a. m., it being the annual floral service for the pupils of Christ church Sunday school. The flowers presented were very beautiful, and on Monday were carefully packed and sent to the Church hospital at Halifax. There was also a presentation and the dedication of a Font cover given by some members of the S. S. It is of ash and walnut, beautifully and suitably carved. On Monday Mrs. A. Wilson entertained a number of ladies at a very pleasant afternoon tea. Mrs. Wilson was assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Dobson, and Miss Wilson, also, Miss Sleep. Among the guests were Mrs. S. Armstrong, Mrs. J. Baker, Mrs. M. E. Bent, Mrs. C. Bliss, Mrs. B. D. Bent, Mrs. N. Curry, Mrs. R. B. Dickey, Mrs. J. Dickey, Mrs. C. Hillson, Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, Mrs. C. YARMOUTH.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Yarmouth at the stores of E. I. Vickery and Harris & Horsfall.]

Aug. 5-The Friday half holiday in the stores wil prove a boon to the young ladies of our town, as well as the clerks, as the latter have formed an "outing club," and purpose each Friday in August to entertain their lady friends with either a dance. picnic, or boating party. Friday last a few of the club drove to Tusket Lakes, took tea, and "tripped the light fantastic" for an hour at Gillman's hotel, and returned home delighted with their afternoon trip.

Miss Thompson, of Rothesay, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Job Hatfield gave a dance last Tuesday evening in honor of their guest, Mr. Thayer, of Boston

The Christian Endeavor society convention being held here, brought a great number of strangers, and they all speak in the highest terms of our lovely town, as the weather was everything that could be desired during their stay. Music hall was crowded at all their meetings, and a strong degree of interest was manifested.

Aug. 5 .- Among the pleasant picnics this summer from here, the one yesterday (Tuesday) under the joint management of the methodist and baptist churches, was pronounced a most delightful one. Metapedia is a nice little place some thirteen miles from here, and its beautiful scenery is not surpassed in the province. About three hundred persons went up by the Montreal express, and quite a number also went up by the afternoon freight. After spending a most enjoyable day, the gay crowd returned to the cars and were landed home in time for supper. The presbyterian Sunday school picnic held yes-terday was also well attended. The Christina, which carried the party, left the Moffat wharf at 9 o'clock, and sailing down river some five miles, turned and sailed up to Ferguson's point, where the crowd went ashore and spent five most enjoyable Miss Pride of Jacquet River and Miss Eliza Miller of Dalhousie are visiting their friends in Miss Wathen of Weldford, N. WE have much pleasure in calling the attention of Travellers and Tourist to the fact that the QUEEN has established a reputation for furnishing the best and cleanest bedrooms, and the best table and attention of any hotel in the maritime provinces, if not in all Canada. The QUEEN contains 130 rooms, and is fitted with all modern improvements, including bath-rooms and w. c's on every floor. The parlors a tract a great deal of attention, as nothing superior in that line is to be seen in Canada. The cuisine has been made a specialty from the first.

Aug. 4 .- How strange it is that two or three girls do love to gather together in a cosey nook and have a good talk as they say, but for some time these bevy of maidens have failed to supply each other with the usual spicy bit of gossip until within the last week or two, when they have almost been panting to see each other, and all because it has been announced that a popular young lady is to be married in the loveliest month of the year. It certainly was a surprise to the friends of this young lady that the happy event was to take place so soon, but on all sides I hear of congratulations that are awaiting the lucky maiden on her return from St. John.

I have often wondered if some of our young men are troubled with rheumatism in their arms, as it seems such an effort for them to lift their hats to the ladies. I am really sorry for you boys, if you are a martyr to this disease, but if you are not, let me tell you the ladies do not think any the more of you for this lack of gallantry on your part.
