Last week was quite gay in fashionable circles. This week it has been much quieter, though at this particular season society is never afflicted with dullness. When nothing of greater interest is affoat, there are always the several tennis clubs to hie away to. Here one may meet all one's friends, and frequently at these afternoon reunions charming little evening parties-sometimes resulting in a dance at some friend's house, or perhaps it may be a boating excursion on the harbor or up the Arm, gotten up sans ceremonie, no invitations issued, consequently no one is offended.

Oh, yes! I assure you, even though the numerous society writers tell us it is dull because there are few dances to record, in reality the elite are having a very good time of it. Then, the North-West Arm people give quite a number of small picnics afternoon teas across the Arm, which form quite a feature in the summer gaiety. Besides, the army and navy men are usually devising some pleasure excursion for their fair friends. On the whole, if you belong to the fashionable set, I don't know of any other city where the summer passes as pleasantly or as swiftly as it does in Halifax.

On Saturday the tournament came off at the south end tennis club. The band of the Bellerophon was present. A very large number of guests had been invited, almost too great a number for comfort, as the grounds were completely packed with youth, middle age, and old age. The army and navy were well represented; there was also sprinkling of American officers. Altogether the tournament was most successful. I trust it will not be the last of the season.

The principal and most enjoyed event of the week was without doubt the dance at the Wellington barracks, given by the officers of the Leicestershire regiment. At first it was intended to be "small and early," but like other affairs of its kind, it grew, culminating in a ball, and it was a very late, or rather, a very early hour at which the last carriage with its weary burdens, rattled over the echoing stones, out through the gates of Wellington. This is the first dance the regiment has given since its arrival, and it was thoroughly successful in

On Monday of last week Col. Hill gave a small picnic to McNab's Island. About twenty ladies and gentlemen formed the party. After partaking of luncheon, the guests wandered up around the fort or watched the shooting, returning to town about 8.30 p. m., after a very pleasant day.

A garden party and moonlight excursion on Bedford Basin, organized by Mr. Morrison, proved very successful, though not so many as were expected purchased tickets. Tuesday being the day fixed for the excursion the following guests were present: Surgeon General Mr. Dowell and party, which included Col. and Mrs. Goldie, the Misses Goldie, Dr. and Mrs. Grier, Miss Henry, Rev. and Mrs. Norman Lee, Mr. G. M. Grier, Mrs. Devon shire, Mr. Walsh, Capt. Wolstead, Capt. Tarry, Mrs. Miss. Miss. Miss. Stabling also accepted array. Miss Worsely, Miss Sterling, also a second party' which composed Miss Page, Miss Scott, Mrs. Cowie, Miss Cowie, Miss A. Chisholm, Mr. Page, Mr. Gordon Cowie

The New York Bijou Opera company, gave their first performance at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening. The Princess of Trebizonde is a capital piece. The house was well filled with an appreciative audience, who were kept highly amused from the beginning to the ending of the extravaganza. Miss Randall, the prima donna, has a very superior voice. Her rendering of the "Last Rose of superior voice. Her rendering of the "Last Rose of Summer," in the second act, was highly enjoyed.

Miss McKay, of St. John's, Newfoundland, is the guest of Mrs. W. B. Wallace, Tower road.

A small picnic took place at Birch Cove on Satur-day afternoon. Among those present were Mrs. T. Murphy, Miss Payne, Miss Duncanson, Miss White, Miss Wilson, the Misses Moran. On Friday afternoon there was the pleasant garden party at the admiral's. This "at home" was all the more enjoyed in that the number of guests were not so large as on former occasions, consequently not so much crush. Nearly all the American officers of the fleet in port were among those invited.

The U. S. N. Philadelphia and Petrol leave Halifax this week. Owing to illness the American admiral has been unable to accept a very greal deal of hospitality while here, but the officers have, during their week's sojourn among us, had a very good time of it, and when they bid us adieu, even supposing they found the town so smoky and dirty, they must acknowledge that, after all, it is the people who make a place of residence endurable or the re-

On Friday afternoon the ladies of St. Stephen's chapel held a yery successful "Kermese" at the residence of Mr. Spike, Northwest Arm. This entertainment consisted of a garden party and afternoon tea. As quite a number were present, considering the many other diversions which had been arranged for the same afternoon a tidy little sum arranged for the same afternoon, a tidy little sum was realized, consequently the ladies were well satisfied with the success of their "Kermese."

Polo was played on the grounds on Monday. A brilliant circle of the elite were present to view the game. During the afternoon tea was served at the pavillion. It is considered very good form to go to polo, as only the creme de la creme ever invade

JULY 29 .- The unfavorable weather on the different days appointed for picnics, causes one to believe the mere mention of "picnic" is a signal for the clerk of the weather to change his plans, and instead of continuing the lovely weather we have been having lately, give us torrents of rain, with the usual accompaniment of fog. This has been the experience of several picnics, but particularly was it so last Friday, when a party of sixty ladies and gentlemen chartered the tug Marina to take them to John's Cove. After a very pleasant ramble over the rocks, tea was served, during which rain began to fall. It was then decided a surprise party would be more in order than a picnic, and they proceeded to a house near by, and were given a very cordial welcome. Music was obtained at very short notice, and while some "tripped the light fantastic," others indulged in whist. About nine o'clock the tug called for the party, but as the rain was coming down so heavily, their departure was delayed for some time, and home was not reached until a late hour, when a very dismal looking party landed, but despite oll inconveniences agreed they had had a

Several families boast their own courts, and tennis parties are very popular. Boating is indulged in very largely and the harbor is quite gay, both by day and moonlight. It has all the strong points of the "Remington;" all the good points of the "Caligraph," and many advantages not found in any other machine that I am acquainted with. I cannot enumerate all the things I like about the machine, but every one who uses it will appreciate the ease with touch, the mechanical perfection, and the ease with which the writing may be inspected and errors on any part of the page corrected. After the luncheon, prepared by the ladies, had had justice done to it, an address was read by Canon Brock, of Kentville. Then a number of letters from clergymen of the diocese who were unable to be present. Dr. Maynard was the recipient of a handsome doctor's gown, the gift of the clergy. After the presentation of the gown the health of the queen was proposed. After the National Anthem had been sung, the chairman called upon the Rev. W. J. Ancient to propose the toast of the day—the health of Canon Maynard. This toast was seconded by Mr. Chas. Wilcox. Rev. J. O. Ruggles, Rev. Jas. Spencer, Rev. P. H. Brown, Rev. Jas. Simpson, and Dr. Gossip also spoke. Canon Maynard rose to respond amid prolonged cheers. His speech was one to be remembered by all who were present. was one to be remembered by all who were present. It dealt with the difficulties as well as the blessings of a clergyman's life. Anyone who has been a mem ber of any congregation must know that the clergy-man's life is not all (I was going to say "cakes and ale," but that would scarcely be appropriate; I might substitute "lemonade" for ale with propriety though). Probably the clergyman has not yet been born who will on all occasions do exactly as every individual member of the congregation thinks he should. Poor man, he would have to do a good many things at once sometimes if he undertook to

At 7.30 choral evensong was held in the parish church, and Rev. E. T. Woolard, of New Ross, de-livered an interesting address upon the improvement in the fabrics and ritual of the church during the past fifty years. This service closed the cere-monies of the day, so eventful to Canon Maynard and the congregation of Christ's church. Canon Maynard has now retired from work, and spends the remainder of his useful and well spent life amid the love and honor of his former congregation. To revert to proceedings of a more secular nature. Mrs. Wm. O'Brien took the initiative in a very pleasant social improvement last week. She is usually at home to her friends on Thursday afternoons but last Thursday she asked them to come in the evening instead, and a very pleasant evening was spent from eight till ten. On warm summer days one feels much more like moving about in the evening than when the sun is hottest in the afternoon ing than when the sun is hottest in the alternoon. There were present Rev. Archdeacon S. Weston Jones, Mrs. Jones, Rev. M1. Simpson, Charlottetown, Mrs. Simpson, Rev. Father Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dimock, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Drysdale, Mr. and Miss Marsters, Bermuda; Miss Smith, Virginia; Miss Locke, Miss Carmichael, New Glasgow; Miss Carre.

On Saturday Mrs. O'Brien had a picnic to Blue beach.
