ST. STEPHEN.

[PROGRESS is for sale in St. Stephen at the book stores of C. H. Smith & Co., and G. S. Wall and H. M. Webber.]

Aug. 19 .- This has been a week of gaiety, and first among the gay doings comes Mr. F. W. Andrews's moonlight sail down the river, and ball at Oak Haven, a beautiful place some eight miles from here. The invitations were out for several days for this entertainment. All who were invited anticipated a good time, and they were not disappointed. Not for years has there been such a novel and delightful summer party. At seven o'clock Mr Andrews received his guests, numbering over 100 on the river barge and the tug Wellman. At half past seven they steamed slowly down the river. The evening was warm and pleasant and the scene perfect. Behind the barge the last rays of the setting sun threw a ruddy glow upon the water, mingled with the soft light of the rapidly rising moon, gave a color to the landscape, that would have filled an artist's heart with joy. Slowly the barge sailed on past the camping parties on the shore, whose camp fires shone out brightly, past Rockaway cottage and Hotel de Monts until they rounded Oak Point. Here, everyone was admiring and exclaiming at the unusual beauty of the scene. Douchets island. with its revolving light, lay in the distance, and up the bay twinkled the lights and bright colored lan-terns with which Oak Haven was decorated. As the boat approached Oak Haven, the house and grounds presented the appearance of a brightly illuminated castle. This effect was produced by the skilful arrangement of colored Chinese lanterns. As soon as all the guests had landed and reached the ballroom, dancing began. Quadrilles, followed by waltzes, lancers, and the lively military schottische, made time fly. Lemon-ade was served throughout the evening, and supper at one o'clock. Immediately after-wards ancing was resumed. Then such old-fash-ionethively dances as Portland Fancy, Lady of the Lake, ending with Sir Roger de Coverley, brought a most delightful evening to a close. It was then quite three o'clock, and not until six in the bright sunshine of early morning did they reach St. Stephen. Three cheers were given for the host, and "He's a jolly good fellow," rang through the morn-ing air. In the gayest spirits the guests bade their host "good morning," wended their way homeward, tired, but knowing it was a most charming party, and that Mr. Andrews proved himself a prince of hosts Calais rivals St. Stephen in gaiety; there seems to Tuesday, Judge Downes and his daughter, Miss Mina Downes, gave a very brilliant ball in the Grand Army hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags, bunting, pictures and flowers. A novel way of decorating and hiding the gallery in the have as this: Hammocks were stretched across, and flowers were put into the meshes of the net until the whole was filled, and presented a perfect well of flowers wall of flowers.

wall of flowers. Miss Downes, who is a tall, stately brunette, looked charming as she received her guests, in a handsome dress of cream bengaline silk. She was most gracefully assisted by Mrs. A. E. Neill, who wore a pretty costume of brown figured silk. Miss Bessie Mitchell, Miss Downes' guest, also stood beside her. She was prettily attired in white mull. Dancing, of course was the chief annusement Dancing, of course, was the chief amusement. Supper was served at one o'clock. The supper table presented a most beautiful appearance. It was in the form of the letter H. The floral decorations were very fine and showed great skill in the arranging. It was an exceedingly gay ball, the toilettes of the ladies were particularly handsome. I will try and describe a few of them.

Mrs. Henry Pike, green silk grenadine; diamond

Mr. W. B. Torrence, of Halifax, is in town this week, the guest of Judge Stevens. Mrs. William Howland, of Toronto, and her chil-dren, are visiting Mrs. Chipman, Mrs. Howland's mother, this week. Master Godfrey Newnham has been enjoying a week at Grand Manan. Miss Mary Melick and Miss Annie Bixby left this orning for Montreal, to visit their friend, Mrs. Otto Thorning, for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Blair, of Andover, Mass., are in Calais visiting Mrs. Blair's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Franklin Eaton. Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Grimmer are in St. Andrews today attending the marriage of Miss Gove to Dr. Raymond, of Sussex. Mr. James Harding, of St. John, was in town on nday and was registered at the Windsor. Mrs. Wm. Torrence and her family have re-turned, after a pleasant visit in St. John. Mr. Chas. Copeland of Beston is visiting relatives in Calais Mr. Ferdinand Emmerson of Boston, Mass., is in Calais, the guest of Judge Downes. Miss Neill of Washington is visiting in Calais, the guest of Miss Julia Kelley. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Eaton of New York city are spending a few weeks in Calais. Mr. Hodgins of Ottawa is visiting Calais, and is at the Border City hotel. Mr. Everett Damon of Boston is visiting friends

The baptist congregation started on a moonlight excursion last night. The fog was so dense in the river they were obliged to return. I believe they intend to go again this evening. Trinity church congregation also have an excursion to St. Andrews this evening.

Tomorrow night Mrs. A. E. Neill, of Calais, opens her handsome residence to the public, it be-ing the occasion of a concert and reading for the benefit of the Good Will farm society. Mrs. Neill is a member of the society, and takes great interest in it. There are several ladies of great talent who take part in the concert, and the programme is said to be remarkably fine. A number of prominent gentlemen from Calais have gone on a yachting cruise to Bar harbor, and other places on the coast of Maine. In the midst of all our enjoyment and pleasure, came the news of the sudden death of Mr. George Barker, the only son of Mr. C. O. Barker, who was drowned at St. Andrews on Wednesday. And the equally sudden death of Miss Lelia Watson, of heart failure on Saturday. Miss Watson was a most estimable young lady, and greatly loved by all her friends, to whom her sudden death was a sad shock. The friends of both have the deepest sym-pathy of the community in their grief and affliction.

MONCTON.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Moncton at the book stores of W. W. Black and W. H. Murray, Main street.] Aug. 19 .- I feel rather handicapped at the start this week by the consciousness that no matter what efforts I make, my news will not be as interesting as it was last week. But as a discriminating public will readily understand that a fashionable wedding does not fall to the lot of the society correspondent to describe every week, I will do my best and try not to be apprehensive as to the result. The public schools reopened on Monday, and I am glad to see that nearly all last year's teachers are back again : among others, Miss Simmons, Miss Fawcett, and Miss Bleakney, also Miss Burt, of Fredericton, whose Moncton friends are delighted o see her back again.

As the summer nears its close the Moncton visitors to the seaside are beginning to talk vaguely of coming home, but if the hot weather continues through September, as it frequently does, I fancy in will be some time yet before we see them. The pilgrims to the home of the spotted trout in the Tracadie river, Messrs. A. S. Hood, C. J. Butcher, M. Lodge, T. V. Cooke and W. H. Mur-ray, returned last week loaded down with spoils, and, judging by the number of fish caught, the trout must have had a very hard time of it during their stay. I believe they caught 250 pounds of trout in one evening. I really consider this a good fish story. Miss Blair, of Chatham, who has been staying

Miss Blair, of Chatham, who has been staying with Mrs. Weldon since Miss Weldon's marriage, returned home on Monday night. Mrs. Millidge, of St. John, who has been visiting Mrs. W. J. Weldon, returned last week. Mrs. R. A. Borden and Mrs. C. A. Palmer re-turned from Cape Tormentine on Saturday. Mrs. Harry Robb, of St. John, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robb, of Botsford street. Mrs. Gallaightly, formerly of Moneton, but now of Hampton, is spending a few days with Mrs. Edward Milliken.

We had yet another wedding in town last week, We had yet another wedding in town last week, but a much quieter one than Miss Weldon's. It took place at the house of Mr. J. H. Wran, on Bridge street, and the principals were Miss Emily Wran and Mr. J. W. Whitehead, of Moncton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Hooper, and the bride was attended by her two sisters, the Misses Eleanor and Fanny Wran, while her brother, Mr. J. G. Wran, acted as groomsman. Miss Wran Mr. J. G. Wran, acted as groomsman. Miss Wran looked charming in a dress of white cashmere, trimmed with lace and ribbon, while the brides-maids were dressed in pavy blue, and garnet cash-mere, Miss Eleanor wearing navy, and Miss Fanny garnet. There were between 20 and 30 guests pres ent, and after supper the evening was pleasantly spent, the party breaking up soon after midnight. Mrs. Whitehead appeared in St. George's church on Sunday, and wore a dress of pale grey costume cloth, with silver grey bonnet. Rev. Joseph Hogg returned to his home in Win-Rev. Joseph Hogg returned to his home in Win-nipeg, on Thursday evening, after a vacation of nearly three months, spent in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Mr. Hogg was accompanied by Miss Ella McSweeney, daughter of the late Thomas McSweeney, who will make her home with relatives in Winnipeg, and also by Miss McEwen, who mtends to reside in the Northwest in future. Had we but known in time, things would have been different, but unfortunately Miss McEwen did not consider it necessary to publish McEwen did not consider it necessary to publish her plans, otherwise a cordon of citizens would un-hesitati gly have surrounded the North-bound train on that fatal night and captured Miss Mc-Ewen, even as young Lochinvar captured his bride! It is quite sad enough to have our young men leaving us for pastures new, but when it comes to our most cherished young ladies deserting us in this cold-blooded manner, it behooves us to take me action in the matter. I don't know why Miss McEwen did it I am sure, for we always thought so much of her and valued her exceedingly, so that 1 really think we have grounds for feeling injured, but yet we will not let our indignation prevent us from wishing Miss McEwen all possible happiness in her new home. The many friends of Mr. James Mowatt, of St. with pink ribbons. Miss Thorne, (Havelock). wore a grey satin. John, former manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia Mrs. Casey, a pretty dress, cream colored pongee here, were glad to see him in town ag day. Miss Hickman, of Bridgewater, N.S., is spending for a week or so. Miss Ford and Miss Grierson returned on Satur. day to resume their school duties on Monday. The school house has been repaired and its ventilating school house has been repaired and its ventilating properties will not be so extensive next winter. Miss Maude Hanington's young friends will re-gret to hear that she will soon be departing to Windsor to attend the girls' school. Miss Sadie Forster returns at the same time, and when Miss Nellie Palmer also goes again to Sackville there will be a sad break in the ranks of "our girls." The prospects for the winter are not cheerful. Mr. R. W. Hanington is also going to forsake us to take a term at the law school in Halifax.

to take a term at the law school in Halifax. Rev. Mr. Harris took Mr. Campbell's services on Sunday, the latter going to Amherst for the day. Mr. Harris looks much better since his return from the old country. Mr. J. W. Y, Smith has resumed his Saturday rips to St. John. THYSME.

SACKVILLE.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Sackville at C. H. Moore's

Aug. 17 .- Seldom, if ever, has there been a more successful party in Sackville than that given by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fawcett last Wednesday evening. The hostess is one of our most popular young matrons. I do not wonder at that, for a more charming, bright and sparkling person is not met with every day. Shortly after eight o'clock the guests began to arrive, and at half-past nine, the spacious drawing room was a scene not to be forgotten. Lights gleamed, music allured, beautiful faces smiled, and feet flew over the smooth floor; each one apparently had thrown off the cares of every day life, and all seemed to go in for a jolly, good time. Who was the belle? is beyond my ability to say, there were so many pretty ladies that it was absolutely provoking. On dit, that the Sackville maidens had a hard pull with the Amherst belles, as the cream of Amherst's beauty were in full force. I felt very much annoyed to think I full force. I felt very much annoyed to think I had left my kodiak at home. At twelve o'clock supper was announced, which consisted of the most delicate dishes of the season. Ice cream and lemonade were served during the evening, which was very acceptable to the heated dancers. After supper dancing was renewed with even greater zest, and it was not till one gen leman announced that breakfast was ready, that the fair dancers gave up the fascinating waltz. The host and hostess were untiring in their efforts to please, and it must have been a great satisfaction to them that their have been a great satisfaction to them that their party was such a success. HOULTON, ME.

Aug. 19 .- The party to be given by the whist club mentioned in last week's paper, came off on Friday night, and was pronounced a great success and one of the pleasantest ever given in Houlton. About 100 were present. Whist was played until eleven, Miss Wellington winning the ladies' prize, a cut glass sugar basin, with silver handle, and Mr. C. F. Ross the gentleman's prize, a pair of silver salt cellars, after which refreshments were served, the remainder of the evening being devoted to dancing, which was kept up with unflagging zeal until the wee sma hours. The night was delightful ly cool for that amusement. The toilettes of the ladies were many of them re markably pretty. I have not a complete list of the guests, but many from out of town were present, cluding Mr. Augustus Dudley and Miss Dudley, of Presque Isle, Mr. Henry Cunningham, Boston, Mrs. Bowler, Bangor, Miss Worthen, Passiac, N. J., Mr. and Miss Davis, Mrs. and Miss Edlefson, Boston. Some of the Houlton guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. visit to Eastport much benefited in health. Mrs. Llewellyn Powers and family arrived on Monday after a lengthened stay at St. Andrews, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L. H. and is Averill, of Lincoln.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John B. Madigan entertained a large number of guests. Whist and dancing, followed by refreshments of various kinds, were enjoyed. Quite a novel idea was introduced, which proved very amusing. The different card tables were named for stations on the new Bangor and Aroostook railway, and the cards designating the table for each gentleman to begin the game at, were made into small cars, with the lady's name inscribed, who was to be his fellow passenger from the post station. The party was a most en-ovable one. Rumor says we are to have a grand reception and ball in the near future, given by several popular roung ladies.

Mr. Lachlan Cameron, of Lepreau, was in town for a day last week, the guest of Miss Wetmore. An organ and song recital will be given soon in the Unitarian church by Mr. Frank Crowell, of Boston, assisted by Houlton ladies, in aid of the Benevolent Society.

Mr. James Unsworth, superintendent of the P. E. Island railway, was in town last week. Judge Landry, of Dorchester, paid a short visit

o Moncton on Saturday. Mr. Joseph M. Hayward, of St. Georges, Bermuda, made a short stay in Moncton last week. Attorney general Blair, of Fredericton, was in own on Saturday en route for Richibucto. Mr. Harper, of Montreal, 18 visiting his sister Mrs. Thomas Evans. Mrs. Lewis Wright, of Salisbury, is visiting her mother, Mrs. William Elliott, of Botsford street. St. George's church Sunday school picnic today at Point du Chene, and as the whole day has been perfectly lovely, no doubt they will enjoy themselves greatly. Quite a number outside the Sunday school took advantage of the trip so I fancy it will be a financial success also.

Just as I am finishing this, the sad news has come Mrs. Olney. to town of a drowning accident at Humphrey's mill pond. Three young tellows scarcely more than lads, Fred. Walker, son of Mr. J. J. Miss Annie Shireff, a highly cultured and trained singer, from Boston, spent a few days with Mrs. J. Miller. She sang in the Aug. 19 .- Melancholy has claimed us for her own service last Sunday evening at the presbyterian church as did also Mrs. J. Miller a former Boston lady who had a thorough musical training in that city. Their singing of solos and duets was much since yesterday atternoon, and I hardly can pluck up spirit to indite the weekly epistle. The sad occasion of this thusness is the victory of Amherst appreciated by the large congregation present, many coming from Newcastle and Nelson. over Dorchester in yesterday's shooting match. Our marksmen were not at all up to their usual stand-Robinson last week. ard, as is so often the case, and though two or three did well, the enemy crept slowly up until at the for the Miramichi yacht club sailing race on the close of the engagement they stood 77 to our 67. 20th instant, and is going to try and capture first place if skill can do it. Many ladies viewed the contest, and were highly interested, their disappointment being only second to that of the shooters themselves. A heavy rain put an abrupt end to proceedings, and as that cosy club house is still extant only in fancy's eye, there political address delivered in the temperance hall was a hurried scattering. Messrs. Wilson, Tre-maine, Steele, Betts and Dr. Bliss composed the on Monday evening by Hon. A. G. Blair. The fact of such an event as the attorney general making an Amherst team.
