HOW HE DISCOVERED THE FAMOUS BARKLEY NUGGET.

How it was Conveyed to the Coast-How Napier was Presented to the Queen-His Intimacy With Lords and Dukes and His Antipathy to Mr. Schrieber.

The North Shore is the section of this province where nature has pre-eminently

She humped herself when she formed the wide-spreading forests of the north, o'er which she is now throwing far and wide the crazy quilt of autumn

Most unmistakably did nature hump herself in the production of the subject of this sketch, Mr. Samuel H. Napier.

An unassuming man upon a cursory view is Samuel. The wide hat that he wears is native of the soil; the fall winds toy with his whiskers in a wanton way, and his ulterior habiliments display a goodly height catch a glimpse of Samuel, and multitudes without a crown have read of him and wondered. For Samuel enjoys not only good health, but the distinction of having chunk of gold that ever gladdened the eyes

All this summer Mr. Napier has been hunting for gold upon the Tobique, the Naskwaak, the Nepisiguit, the Nappadogabound. He has found many traces of He objected strongly also to having his silver in the province—for Samuel has friends who dislike to see him thirsty. When Progress called upon Mr. Napier that gentleman complained that the season had been unusually dry. "What we want," said Samuel, "is irrigation." Upon being assured that Progress was in favor of irrigation in moderation, Mr. Napier cheerfully responded to the request to relate the event which had made him famous

"It was in 1854," said Mr. Napier in a liquid tone, "that I left this country for Australia in the bark Marco Polo, which, when condemned a few years ago, was believed to be the oldest sailing craft afloat. She was no chicken I can tell you, even in the fifties. I sailed four voyages from second mate, before I caught the mining fever. But in 1857 I started for the diggings and remained there a year and a half. I went called the Lodden. I had been at Kingower about six months when I found the famous Napier or Blanche Barkley nugget.

(Well, I don't care if I do). "My brother, Charles H. Napier, was in partnership with me, and our cook and general factotum was an old Englishman, 75 years of age, Robert Ambrose. He is dead now, or if he aint it's time he was.

one compared with the Bendigo, and didn't pan out much at first. It was on the 14th day of August, at 10 o'clock in the forehad dug down about 14 feet to the pipeclay strata, and were browsing around in the bottom of the shaft more dead than alive from the heat. Old Ambrose lit his with my pick. I turned it up-and good heavens! it was a hunk of gold as big as the moon

"Well, that minute I knew our fortune jumped around till I thought he'd have the whole diggings down on us. Charley and I kept cool and covered the nugget up again in the earth and didn't go nigh it for the rest of the day. At nightfall we lugged the beauty to the tent and covered it up in the bedding. That evening was an anxious one, for the boys were liable to licker up and we didn't know what minute they'd come in and turn our hull tabernakle upside down. About midnight when all the diggers was either in bed or in soak we set to work as foxy as possible with our picks and sunk a shaft down about six feet underneath the table in the tent and buried the nugget out of sight. For three long months it stayed there, with us eatin' over it and walkin' over it, sleepin' on it and dreamin' on it, not a soul at the diggings any the wiser. Sometimes we laid awake all night with our guns handy in case of being molested for there was plenty of tough subjects at the diggings that would have watted us up the golden spout in short meter if they'd guessed our secret.

"Well, about the middle of November we collared a horse and cart and lit out for Melbourne, having, in the meantime, dug our claim out and fished up enough of the stuff to carry us to London. It took us four days and four nights to reach Melbourne, and I hardly slept a wink on the way. The nugget was packed up in a Yough box with some old clothes, and we told everybody we met we were going to us for fear of being suspected. When we got to Melbourne we took private lodgings and the next morning lugged her ladyship down to the Bank of Victoria and made all her, and we never saw her again until I produced the documents at the Bank of England in London. Acorse by this time the thing had leaked out, and in no time the hull city was crazy with excitement.

"We sailed for England in a vessel called the Shaftsborough, paying 1,746 half crowns export duty on the nugget and £90 insurance. When we reached London we dozen lords and dukes for breakfast while beauty to the Bank of England for £10,-000 sterling, my brother and I dividing the profits equally and pooling in handsome for old Ambrose. How much did it weigh? The heft of that nugget was just 146 pounds, 4 ounces and 3 pennyweights, and when it was smelted it was found to be 23 % carets fine, containing only 10 ounces of dross. For some time it was exhibited at the British museum by permission of the bank, and there is a cast of it there now as well as one at Kingston college, Canada. While in London we were presented to the queen. She sent her carryall and a battalion of mounted all about it. policemen to portash the nugget and us to the palace. We stopped with her for

SAM NAPIER'S BIG FIND. lunch, and I must say she made herself generally agreeable. I teetered the Prince of Wales on my knee-for he was only a stripling then-and he promised to come to Canada and see me, which he did about eight years afterwards. Then I went to Liverpool and got married, and went into the ship chandlery and sail-making business, and pretty soon every cussed ounce of the nugget was gone to kingdom come. So then I came back to my old home; and when I got here the boys took hold and elected me to the legislature at the head of the poll by 140 majority. I have had strong inducements to go back to Australia since, but I prefer to rest my bones in New Brunswick. (Here's health to the land where the blueberries grow.)

"What other large nuggets have been discovered?" asked the commissioner. "The Weltham nugget," said Mr. Napier, "weighed 180 pounds, but it had 90 pounds of stone in it. A place called the Ovens was where it was found, about 100 miles from Ballarat, in the year 1859, and it grew within a foot of the ground. Then there was the Holtham nugget, found in Australia, I think about the year 1854 and beam behind. Yet the crowned heads by Mike Patchall. It weighed 40 pounds of Europe have craned their craniums to and some ounces, and was pure gold. A fac-simile of it is shown in the British

At this point Mr. Napier observed that the papers did not always get things once upon a time collided with the biggest straight. He had seen a piece in Prog-RESS about earthquakes at Dalhousie, suppose that he had been drinking. He denied that he had ever been connected with an earthquake in his life. In fact he gan and other streams where shining sands | had not been at Dalhousie for fifteen years.

> name mixed up with Mr. Schrieber. BILDAD.

A CORRESPONDENT'S TRIALS.

Snowdrop," of Sackville, Paints a True Picture of Them.

Never are we more forcibly reminded that it is impossible to please everybody as when gathering items for Progress, and hearing the comments thereon afterwards. First, we must please the editor, then the readers of Progress, who, of course, are subscribers. Then there is our belle, "who expects her "fetching" costume to be described in detail from the crown of her Liverpool to Melbourne, chiefly as purser and | head to the toe of her embroidered slipper. If we omit one single item, even to her pet curl, we are "off her books." Then there to Bendigo first and then staked a claim at are the beauties; they too must be done Kingower, about 40 miles from the Bendigo justice to, even at the expense of their to keep a mental record of every person diggings, on an arm of the Murimbedgic plainer sisters, and this makes the latter who goes in or out. our enemies. And what of the youth who expects us to take him at his own valua-

appear a very small morsel of humanity. Who does not know the conceited man, the would be Legrand Cannon or McAllis-"The Kingower diggings was a small ter; he too must be put in as a mighty host, a leader of men, and women too. His particular "best girl" must be made noon, that we made the big strike. We the belle of every ball, even though she be the homeliest girl in "our set," and a veritable "wall flower" or the full bane of his displeasure falls on our devoted head. pipe and leaned against the side of the hole | There also the aristocracy, (what is to rest. Just then I struck something left of them in this growing democracy of our fair Canada) dire their wrath if they in," and still an offended out. Then are the was made. Old Ambrose got excited, and chronic grumblers, those who do nothing to make society a delight, and are continually complaining of the efforts of those who do. Nothing suits them or ever What of the bores? They, too, must be noticed, even should we die in the attempt to do justice to these very agreeable people. Next comes the Charles Surfaces, the Lady Sneerwells, the Mrs. Grundys, &c., of society. No "word painting" can tell of the trials these worthies are to poor "Snowdrop." Resplendent in "stunning" get up, his "dudeship" appears on the scene! the sett of his claw hammer coat, even the hang of its swallow tails, must be in italies, his immaculate tie, must be given "a show," and his tooth-bird whisper it to her? He Knows How to Do It.

pick shoes must have the exact point in the toes, and altogether he must be described as the very "swellest" man everywhere, or

Progress is not worth the few cents asked for it. Now for the bright and obliging belles and beauxs of our society, who, are all unknown to themselves, are a real help to "Snowdrop," for she sometimes hears their kind words of praise, or does a little

The handsome advertisements of Ungar's Laundry which have been appearing in Progress have attracted a large amount of attention, for more reasons than one. New Zealand. We carried no arms with Mr. Ungar is one of the St. John business men who believe in advertising, properly done, and a glance at his announcements is all that is needed to show that the enterdown to the Bank of Victoria and made all is all that is needed to show that the enter-the necessary arrangements tor shipping prising laundry man knows how to do it. surprised that men passing every night of the necessary arrangements tor shipping prising laundry man knows how to do it. An advertisement such as is found on page ten of Progress is read with as much interest as any other part of the paper. Very few of the people who read the newspapers do not know all about Ungar's laundry, and the way things are done there. No doubt many readers of Progress would be surprised if found the news had got there before us, they began to think about how much they and we thought nothing of having half a knew about the "rough dry way" or other little specialties such as sewing on buttons has been their tendency to slip up and wasn't a fly speck on the map of the world and so forth. But the advantages of addown at the heel, and a rubber that will to us, for mor'n a week. We sold our vertising do not cease with a knowledge of not do this is what people have been lookthe way the work is done, for a steady increase in business shows that as people begin to learn how easily they can save both health, money and exertion, they take advantage of it. Every year has shown an increase of business at Ungar's Laundry. the premises have been enlarged again and of pure gum rubber. again, and additions to the machinery and working staff are constantly being made. Mr. Ungar attributes his success to doing good work, and telling the people all

Fancy Plush Goods. McArthur's, 80

NIGHT IN THE THEATRE.

WHAT THE WATCHMAN HEARS AND SEES IN THE BUILDING.

All Kinds of Noises That Cannot be Accounted for-Ghosts in the Gallery-Superstitious Night Watchmen, and Some of Their Experiences.

A theatre wears many aspects according to the circumstances under which it is seen. The ordinary spectator connects it with its show and glitter, its music and its varied appeals to the luxuries of the senses; when he gets outside he remembers and criticises the acting, the dancing or the scenery, and shares the almost universal desire to penetrate that mystery of mysteries "behind

The night watchman as he wanders hour after hour in the gloomy recesses of the vast and cavernous building, couples it in his mind with the essential idea of desolate

The ordinary spectator also frequently imagines that what is so easy for him to witness must be easy to those engaged in it; the carpenters, the painters, the property men, the actors, often working as if which was calculated to lead his friends to a day, look upon it as one of the most active and fatiguing fields of labor known to mankind. A visit to a theatre on the eve of a new production, with its hammering and hustling, its busy work of a thousand curious kinds, would dispel the notion; he would then understand how it is that sometimes theatrical people have scarcely time either to eat or be civil.

But it is the poor unthought of night watchman who looks at it in the gloomiest light-I had almost written gloomiest darkness-shut up in it alone for 365 nights in the year, sleeping like the owls, when other men see the sun.

Let us suppose ourselves to be like the Spanish student for whom the lame spirit Asmodeus unroofed the houses in Madrid, and that we can see what is going.

The night watchman has relieved the stage door keeper at seven in the evening. His work commences by taking the tally of all the persons employed in the theatre as they arrive, often a very large number, and watching with the vigilance of a hawk to see that no unauthorized person enters. From then to the close of the performance he is bothered with all sorts of questions, messages and petty business besides having

The time arrives when the has left and the door is locked. He heaves a sigh, (they all do it) lights the lantern, and goes into every hole and corner look-If we set him down at our own, he would | ing for fire and "stowaways." During the hour or so this occupies him the temperature of the theatre, denuded of its occupants and its lights, lowers very perceptibly and then all kinds of strange noises strike

Sometimes it seems as if fifty people were in the house—boards creak, ropes strain, pulleys squeak, joints in timbers open with a report like a pistol shot, unusual sounds in the street will re-echo and reverberate in a strange sepulchral style. The watchman peers out into the vast dark chamber, but can see nothing to account for the strange uproar, and then will come a silence, and such a silence; a silence that you not only hear but feel; a silence fit for the tombs of the Pharoahs.

What wonder then that night watchmen see ghosts? The watchman at the Star theatre in New York sees Wallack walk across the stage every night, and the honest belief is so gratted in him that cart horses couldn't pull it out. The watchman at another large theatre in New York believes that beings who can make a noise get in at the upper windows for the express purpose of leading him a dance. Having frequently myself worked all night at the theatre in question (it is an immense boom to the watchman to have an unlucky overworked scene painter or carpenter shut up with him) I must say that is often difficult to convince one's self even by searching the place from cellar to roof, that there are not at least a dozen people skylarking in

The ghost idea is not difficult to account for-costumes or draperies left on a chair in the gloom will assume strange

Some five years ago I was working by myself in a country theatre and happening to look up into the balcomy saw the figures of two women with shawls and bonnets on so plainly that I asked them how they got in and what they wanted. As there was no response I went up to the balcony to investigate when they resolved themselves into a sheet used for covering the seats thrown into a careless heap

Shadows again will take strange shapes and motions. I recollect at the Academy Music in New York seeing my own shadow cast into the vast auditorium by a light in the paint room, and there appearing like the famous apparition of the Brocken Mountain in the Black Forest, of enormous proportions, some 50 or 60 feet in height. I am therefore not

"spooks." In large theatres the watchman has to make his round every hour, recording it at specified parts of the house on a tell tale clock. He is glad enough when "the first gray streak of early dawn heralds the roseate tints of incense breathing morn." SYDNEY CHEDLEY.

Just What Was Wanted.

One of the greatest objection to rubbers ing for for some time. It has been found, however, and one who visits Hallett's shoe store at the head of King street, and asks to see the "Marvel" rubber can have an opportunity of examining it-which usually ends in a sale. The marvel is made

Always Send the Name.

Many persons who send in interesting personal items will be surprised, perhaps, that they do not appear. If they would send their name and address the contributions would be gladly accepted.

Pianos for the School for Blind.

The School for the Blind are going to put in all new pianos, of which eight will be required now, and they have decided to get the pianos manufactured by Evans Bros. and D. W. Karn & Co. (fast becoming popular), from Miller Bros, Granville Street, who are the sole agents. When the school is full about seven more will be required, which will also be taken from the same firm (Miller Bros., Halifax).

The Length of Life.

An eminent statistican of Germany has recently given out the following as general facts, proved by vital statistics: The average length of life is 37 years; 25 per cent. of mankind dies before attaining the age of 17. Of 1,000 persons only one reaches the age of 100 years and six that of 65 years; 35,214,000 die every year, 96,480 every day, 4,020 every hour; 97 every minute; the births amount to 36,792,000 every year, 108,000 every day,4,200 every hour, 70 every minute.

Can Dogs Talk?

Dogs in a native or wild state never bark; they simply whine, howl and growl; the noise which we call barking is found only among those that are domesticated. Columbus found that to be the case with for very life for fifteen and eighteen hours the dogs he first brought to America and left at large, for on his return he tells us that they had lost their propensity to bark. Scientific men say that barking is really an effort on the part of the dog to speak.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS.

Announcements under this heading not exceeding five lines (about 35 words) cost 25 cents each insertion. Five cents extra for every additional

PHOTO. OF QUEEN VICTORIA, cabinet size; very handsome. Sent by mail for 25c. in coin or stamps.—H. V. MORAN & Co., Box 21, St. Jehn, N. B.

ENERGETIC CANVASSERS, men or women, wanted to work in this city or suburbs. A splendid chance for the right people to make money easily. For further particulars address O. K., Drawer 21, St. John, N. B. Oct. 10-ef

WANTED! SMART BOYS everywhere to sell stamps from our approval sheets, at 33½ per cent. commission. Stamps for beginners a specialty. Reference required. Address: Hanson & Saunders. Box 309, St. John, N. B. Oct. 10.4i OYSTERS. Prince Edward Island oysters; fresh arrivals daily. Prime Apples always in stock. Cranberries, Pears, etc., etc., at LESTER & CO.'S, Fruit and

Pears, etc., etc., at LESTER Street.
Produce Exchange, 83 Prince William Street.
9-26-tf LADIES' NOTE PAPER, Centric Pens, Fountain Pens, etc. Lowest prices. Mc ARTHUR'S BOOKSTO SE, 80 King street.

very best in every grade .- A. GILMOUR, Tailor, 72

FEMALE STENOGRAPHER WANTS a situation. Can take from dictation; uses either Caligraph or Remington; city preferred; references given.

—Address "P," Progress Office. sept 5. tf.

ADVERTISING, IF YOU WISH TO ADwhere, at anytime, write to Geo. P. Rowell & Co., No. 10 Spruce street, New York.

EVERY ONE IN NEED OF INFORMATION on the subject of advertising will do well to obtain a copy of "Book for Advertisers," 368 pages, price one dollar. Mailed, postage paid, on receipt of price. Contains a careful compilation from the American Newspaper Directory of all the best papers and class journals; gives the circulation rating of everyone, and a good deal of information about rates and other matters pertaining to the business of advertising.—Address Rowell's Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce street, N. Y.

EVERY WEEK THERE ARE BRIGHT boys in towns and villages where we have no agencies, sending to secure the right to sell Progress. There are scores of small places where the people would be glad to take Progress every week, if any boy could be found who would deliver it, and collect the money. There is enjoyment in it for them, and money for the boys.

SEATING FOR SALE Cheap. Parties looking for seating for new halls or public buildings, of any kind, can get a great bargain in this line by applying to Taylor & Dockrill, St. John,

FOR SALE, HALLETT, DAVIS & CO. Square Piano, 7% octave; four round corners. Cost $600.00, only a short time in use; must be sold; price, $250.00.—C. FLOOD & SONS, 31 and 33 King street.

SHORTHAND FRED DEVINE (Court steno-in shorthand and typewriting, at 251 King street east; Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings,

BLUINE THE GREAT BLEACHING Bluing do 24 washings and last six months. The cheapest and best Bluine on the market. Send 10 cts. to R. Parkin, 78 Germain st for a sample. COSTUMES, WIGS, WHISKERS.—A. L. SPENCER, Balmoral Hotel, 10 King st., St. John, N. B., has the largest and best assortment of the above in the Maritime Previnces, which can be hired for Parades, Carnivals, Theatres, Concerts, etc., at right prices. LAMP BURNER-LAMBERTSON'S safety Lamp Burner, which I have been selling four years, is the most paying, and most satisfactory article for agents to handle. Send 45 cents for pretty sample Burner, descriptive circulars, and testimonisls.—A. L. SPENCER, Wholesale and Retail Agent for Maritime Provinces, Balmoral Hotal 10 King st. St. John N. B.

BOARDING, A FEW PERMANENT on Boarders can be accommodated with large and pleasant rooms, in that very centrally located house, 78 Sidney street.— Mrs. McInnis. May2:

Hotel 10 King st., St. John, N. B.

FIVE LINES IN THIS COLUMN cost 25 cents for one insertion—$1 for one month. If you have anything to sell that any person wants, you cannot do better than say so here.

FOUNTAIN PEN, 25cts. SOLID RUBBER; made same as $2:00 pen; writes beautifully; does not clog or get out of order; very simple. Sent with filler, on neceipt of 25cts., in stamps or cash. Agent wanted. H. V. Moran & Co., Box 21, St. John, N. B.

GOUNTRY RESIDENCE; situated at Rothe-For Sale, or to Let for the summer. Just the place to spend a summer holiday. Two minutes walk from Kennebecasis; plenty of ground. House in good repair; barns attached.—Apply, for particulars, at Progress Office.

FRIENDS OF PROGRESS who know of bright making some money for themselves, or keeping their parents, by two or three hours work every Saturday, in such towns and villages in the Maritime provinces where Progress is not for sale at present, can learn the statement of the sale at the s of something to their advantage, by writing to Progress "Circulation Department," St. John, N. B.

SMALL TOWNS LIKE BUCTOUCHE, Norton, Marysville, Chipman, Harvey, Vanceboro, Grand Falls, Upper Woodstock, Presque Isle, Caribou, Fort Fairfield, Edmondston, Wey mouth, and scores of other places should each have a boy willing to make money. He can do it easily by selling Progress. Splendid profit and little work.—address for information, Circulation Dept. Progress St. John N. B.

AGENTS, OUR 2ND EDITION of the "Story of Springhill Colliery Disaster," illustrated, including a complete history of Coal, Coal Mining, etc., is now ready. Agents wanted everywhere. Any intelligent person able to describe everywhere. Any intelligent person able to describe this book can sell it. One agent reports 65 orders taken in two days. Another who ordered 400 copies states: "The book only requires to be put in good hands and they can sell it fast." Although only a few places have been canvassed as yet, the sales have exceeded 3,000 copies. Write at once for terms, or send $1 for copy of the book and agent's prospectus. R. A. H. Morrow, Publisher, 59 Garden street, St. John, N. B.

67, and 69 Dock St. OSEPH

IN if you have time. If you havn't time, make time anyway, to see our stock of an elegant line. Fancy Stuffs if you want a pretty Suit. Our OVERCOATINGS are all New Styles and Goods.

FALL SUITINGS AND WINTER GOODS,

SCOVIL, FRASER & CO.

47 and 51 KING STREET.

New York, Maine & New Brunswick S. S. Company. SECOND 1891. Annual Excursion! 1891.

NEW YORK.

SERGES.—MY STOCK OF FALL SERGES, Four Grand Excursion Trips will be made by the S. S. "Winthrop" between St. John and New York during the month of October between St. John and New York during the month of October.

THE SEVERAL EXCURSION TRIPS will leave ST. JOHN at 3 p. m. on Tuesdays, October 6th, 13th, 20th and 27th, and Tickets will be valid to return from NEW YORK upon any trip within Three Weeks from date of issue. Steamer will leave New York Pier, 49 E. R. on Saturdays, at 5 p. m.

$10.00 FARE FOR ROUND TRIP $10.00

Staterooms can be secured at the Agent's Office, 162 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B.

TROOP & SON, Agents, ass. Agent. St. John. F. H. SMITH & CO., General Managers, 17 and 19 William St., New York. H.D. McLEOD, Gen'l Freight and Pass. Agent.

"ADVANCE."

The new and best thing in Rubbers, manufactured by the Woonsocket Rubber Co., Providence, R. I.

For sale Wholesale at lowest Boston prices, with duty added, by IIGGINS & CO. MONCTON, N. B.

A Full Line of Rubber Footwear always in stock, at lowest Wholesale prices.-L. H. & CO.

ENGLISH CUTLERY.

A Large Assortment of NEW TABLE CUTLERY received this week, Handled in Ivory, Xylonite, Celluloid, etc. CARVERS in Buckhorn, Ivory and Xylonite Handles.

POCKET KNIVES in hundreds of patterns and styles. Largest Assortment of Cutlery in the City.

T. MCAVITY & SONS, - - 13 and 15 KING STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B. Cheap Stoves VS. Dear Stoves.

YES, WE HAVE THEM BOTH. Some Cheap Stoves that not Low Priced, SOME DEAR ONES THAT ARE VERY Low Priced.

HALL STOVES, FRANKLINS, Ranges, Cooks

FOR COAL OR WOOD, FOR CITY OR COUNTRY, all kinds and sizes.

As to Prices: We invite comparison, which is all we need say on this point.

EMERSON & FISHER, 75 and 79 Prince William Street.