SEPT. 30 .- A change has come over the spirit of the Celestial city during the pass week, and quietness now reigns supreme with the absence of our brave soldiers, and the large number of citizens attending the St. John exhibition; the streets of Fredericton are as quiet as Sunday, but never mind we are going to have an exhibition of our own next week, and if the clerk of the weather continues kind and sends us another week of the same delightful weather we have been enjoying for some time past, we should have our beautiful little city crowded with strangers. Outside of the exhibition New Brunswick's capital has attraction enough in itself to make a visit to it, at this season of the year, most enjoyable to anyone in search of beautiful scenery and charming weather.

Several of our prominent citizens have been improving their residences very much this summer. Notably among these is Mr. Whitehead on George street, who now has one of the handsomest residences in the city.

Messrs. D. F. George and Byron Winslow have had their handsome twin houses on Church street newly painted in a warm, rich red color, with pale green trummings, giving a very pretty effect. Mrs. King Hazen has also had her house on Brunswick street painted in a pretty shade of grey, with red trimmings.

Dr. Coburn has purchased a very pleasant house opposite the methodist church, on King street, and is having extensive repairs and improvements put upon it.

On Monday morning, at 7 o'clock, St. Ann's church was the scene of a very quiet wedding, when Mr. Charles F. Fraser, principal of the Halifax school for the blind, was united in marriage to Miss Ella Hunter, of this city, daughter of the late James Hunter, of St. John, and sister of Mrs. Dr. Coulthard, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Roberts, in the presence of a few immediate friends. The bride wore a very pretty travelling costume of brown plaid, camel's hair, with brown velvet trimmings, hat to match, and carried brown velvet trimmings, hat to match, and carried a lovely bouquet of yellow roses; she was attended by her sister, Miss Lydie Hunter, who wore a costume of red plaid camer's hair, trimmed with red velvet, and hat to match, carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Dr. Coulthard, and the bridegroom had the support of Mr. Goodridge Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser left immediately after the ceremony for the C. P. B. depot diately after the ceremony for the C. P. R. depot, where they took the train for Portland, Me, where they will spend a short time before returning to their home in Halifax. They were followed by the their home in Halifax. They were followed by the good wishes of a large number of friends. Mrs. Fraser received a large number of beautiful presents, including a lovely piece of statuary from the directors of Mr. Fraser's school, and an elegant silver fruit dish from the pupils of that institution.

The congregation of St. Paul's church met Monday evening in the old kirk, to make choice of a pastor to succeed Rev. Mr. Mowatt, now of Montreal, and elected Rev. Robert Atkinson, at present pastor of St. Andrews church. Pictou, N. S. sent pastor of St. Andrews church, Pictou, N. S. Rev. Mr. McLean, of Harvey, occupied the chair.
