MARCH 9.—Colonel Dudley North who has come to take Colonel Goldie's place in this garrison is not making his first acquaintance with Halifax. His regiment the 47th was quartered in Canada years ago, and was here for a short time on its way to the West Indies. Dr. and Mrs. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Uniacke, Mr. and Mrs. Hill and various other well known people, are among the old friends of Colonel North, who was at the rink party on Saturday evening with the first named.

A great many teas were given during the week to Colonel and Mrs. Goldie and their daughters, who go to England today. They have been for five years in Halifax and have made a number of friends who sincerely regret their departure. Mrs. Goldie has been noted during her stay here for her untiring kindness in case of illness; which had practically no limit. She will be much missed in society, where her handsome face, gray hair and charming figure was, until lately, so much seen. The Misses Gordon, who are very pretty and popular, both "came out" during their stay here, and will be much regretted at future festivities, and also at the rink. They go, I hear, to sailing, where they intend to make their home.

Mrs. Ryan had a large tea on Wednesday and Mrs. Uniacke on Thursday; both more or less festive and well attended by Colonel and Mrs. Goldie.

Staff-Surgeon and Mrs. Charlton are at the Queen hotel on a short visit from Bermuda. The rink party given last Saturday evening by the civilian subscribers was a great success in every way. There were a larger number of guests than at the one given by the same regiment about the same time as was at the rink party on Saturday evening. The ice was not at all too crowded to be pleasant. The invitations had not been confined to subscribers only, as was at the rink party, so that there was a much larger contingent of men than the rink usually boasts. The hosts looked after the comfort of their guests to perfection, and the committee in charge of the supper were in the rule at such parties, had done their work excellently. Every thing was good, notably the very hot coffee and the sandwiches and everything was well patronized. There were a great many small boys to be seen on the ice, which is rather a new departure for a rink party, and their enjoyment was something amusing to witness; also the plates of cake which disappeared before them. Perhaps the best feature of a thoroughly well managed and charming affair was the wonderfully well-played dance music of the 66th band. Their waltzes and dances were all well chosen and cheery, and their time unexceptionable. There was a swing and go about the dancing in consequence which was pretty to see.

I am ashamed to say that I am ignorant of the name of the 66th bandmaster, but whoever he is, he and his men deserve the greatest credit for their capital playing. Mr. L. G. Kenny—Captain Kenny more properly—is president of the committee, and has every reason to be proud of the many compliments paid on Saturday evening to the band.

The ice was fairly good in spite of the mild weather, and there were a great many people looking on at the graceful dancing for which Halifax is famous. There was nothing new, of course, in the way of gowns, this being a season of sackcloth and ashes, and a good deal of red was worn which was bright and pretty on the ice. Altogether the civilians are to be in every way congratulated on the success of their party, which was thoroughly enjoyed by every one.

News has been received from Ireland of the sudden death of the eldest son of Dr. Keogh, at present in Philadelphia with Mrs. Keogh, who is slowly recovering from a severe illness, and who is yet in ignorance of the cause of his death, as her health is not yet sufficiently established to admit of her being told.

The only attraction on Tuesday night was the Doering Bauer concert, or rather a concert given by the pupils of Herr Ernst Doering and Frau Marianne Doering Bauer, at the Orpheus hall. This is the season to give concerts for there are no other social attractions to interfere, not that this same concert required a monopoly to ensure its success, on the contrary its success was amply ensured. Every person who went came away delighted except some, and they poor souls went but did not see for there was no room for them, for the fairly good sized Orpheus hall was more than crowded to the very doors. Some well known amateurs assisted the pupils, amongst others Mrs. and Miss Clark and Miss Burns. It is hoped that the talented teachers will repeat this success again at some very near date.

Mrs. Chipman has arrived from England, being called here by the very serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Horrocks. Mrs. Chipman's husband is the private secretary to the High Commissioner in London.

Major and Mrs. Waldrose gave a farewell dinner for Col. and Mrs. Goldie on Tuesday night last. Disappointment reigns in some breasts, for there were to have been seven young ladies going home on the trooper "Atlas," and now, alas! the government interferes by delaying the arrival and departure of that same vessel, and these young ladies are doomed to go by means of the ordinary and pleasant way of the ordinary mail steamer. The life of the trooper is not for them. Mr. W. S. Gilbert could never get a man out of a regiment, opera out of the idea of seven young ladies on a trooper; after all, "we are seven" is better than "we are one," for we all remember that the "Trooper" was a great event in Halifax. It has its element of sadness, and but likewise its element of joy—and we have this consolation that we know what we lose but we do not know how much we may gain. But I must say that Halifax is very sorry when the "Trooper" bears away its favorites never probably to be seen again—for man is human, and there never yet was a favorite who on leaving did not express himself then that the one desire of his heart was to return to Halifax, as soon as he could get leave. But very few return, which is natural for a man who is a favorite here is very likely to be a favorite anywhere he may go, that is, if we respect the judgment of Halifax, and so the mist of his new friends, the memory of his old ones gradually fades away till they become a dream. This is only human and the way with all people.

When a trooper arrives it brings precious freight for some one. It is a curious thing to think of. Here we have a ship and a man coming of the same country, on shore we have a maiden not knowing who is on that ship or what they are like. Yet these two souls are destined to be as one for the rest of their mortal life, and according to some for all eternity. It is strange, it is mysterious, and the arrival of a trooper always make one think of such things.

There was a report that one member of the local house was, during the session, going to introduce a bill to place an export tax on young ladies. It is an odd question, much discussed, this question of, we may say, international marriages. There is no doubt but this very thing tends in some degree to keep Halifax a comparatively poor stricken place. For we must recollect that almost every one of the legion of young ladies that have been married and gone away from here during the last thirty years has drawn some money away from Halifax or continues to do so. Perhaps it would be cruel and unjust to put a prohibitory tax upon them, but a small export duty would be willingly paid by the would be husband and would be a source of income to the country.

I am sorry that I was mistaken about the supper at government house on Tuesday last week. It had unfortunately to be put off owing to Mrs. Daly not being very well. She has like most people been suffering from the "scourge of mankind," influenza.

The amateur dramatics department has been organized in having placed one large sum at the disposal of the Academy of Music directors, to help pay for the work of art in the way of a curtain and also other scenery. Could not this same company of a similar one, at very little trouble to the members, for the majority have nothing else to do—could not this company get up a performance for a most deserving charity, namely the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty. It is, I believe, almost without funds, and is, therefore, unable to do all the work it might be able to do. I have never seen so many cases of cruelty than I have seen during the last few days.

DARTMOUTH.

MARCH 9.—The dance at Mrs. Dixon's on Tuesday was a large and brilliant affair, besides all Mrs. Dixon's Dartmouth friends, there was a large number from Halifax, and most of the costumes were exceedingly pretty, two in particular were especially admired—one a Nile green silk and chiffon, the other a cream colored, but there were several sombre ones which were equally effective. It being the tenth anniversary of Mrs. Dixon's wedding, a number of gifts appropriate to the occasion were presented, some very pretty, others purely useful. The impetuosity of a cabman or some other such cause, caused the absence of a very popular young lady and her brother, which was more than an ordinary disappointment to more than one. Everyone pronounced this one of the pleasantest parties given in Dartmouth for a long time.

Mrs. Dolby who has been very ill with inflammation of the lungs is, I am happy to say, much better. The intelligence of the death of Mrs. Wm. Sterling at Montreal last week, was received with much regret by her many friends here. Mrs. Sterling was for a number of years a resident of Dartmouth, and Mr. T. Cutler has returned from his trip to British Columbia.

Mr. Winfield the lay evangelist of St. Paul's, conducted the lecture service in Christ church school-room on Wednesday. Owing to the very disagreeable walking not so large a number were present as would otherwise have been.

Miss Rolands of Halifax, spent last week with her friends in Dartmouth.

Mr. H. Duxton was present at the bachelors' ball in Moncton.

Miss Hare of Bedford, spent Sunday at Judge Johnston's.

Mr. Parker of Boston and his sister Mrs. Brittain of New York, arrived here last Friday night to attend the obsequies of their mother, Mrs. Chas. S. Schoeder, late proprietress of the Parker House, whose sudden death is much regretted by a large circle of friends.

Miss Wetmore, of St. John, who had been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilson, left for home on Monday last.

My sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gladwin in the loss of brain fever of their daughter, Miss George Henderson, a bright, clever little girl of sixteen. The funeral service was held in St. John's church, Sunday afternoon, the funeral taking place from the church.

Mrs. E. MacDonald gave a five-o'clock on Saturday afternoon to her married friends, Mrs. R. Chisholm and Miss Annie MacDonald assisted at the recently decorated table, and delicious food was passed round. Among those present were: Dr. and Mrs. MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dastan, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Faulkner, Miss Carmichael, Mrs. W. Miss Mabel Townsend of Halifax, is the guest of Mrs. C. Chisholm.

Mr. C. Chisholm is paying a short visit to his brother Mr. R. Chisholm. Those who have heard Mr. Chisholm play the violin have had a great pleasure, he is a talented musician.

Mrs. George Ives had a most delightful dance on Monday evening. Everyone looked thoroughly happy and the waxed floors left nothing to be desired by the many through. All the ladies looked charming and space only permits mention of a few of the pretty gowns worn and trimmed with jet; Mrs. Snow, a very pretty gown of pink silk with white lace over dress; Miss Sadie Gordon, pale blue with cream sash; Miss M. Gordon, brown satin; Miss Link, black net with natural flowers; Miss Hudson, black lace with cream feathers; Miss Edith Carmichael, pale green silk with pink ribbons; Miss Patterson, red and pink silk.

Invitations are out for another tea at Mrs. E. McDonald's for this afternoon, and a musical and another dance are on "the tapis."

AMHERST.

[PROGRESS is for sale at Amherst, by George Douglas, at the Western Union Telegraph office.]

MARCH 9.—The Lenten season has caused a general gloom in society gatherings; in fact, as far as amusements and sports are concerned we have been for some time past. Our fine rink has been long numbered with the absent. The toboggan slide lost its descending energies last winter and has failed to revive, we are minus the slightest pretence to a musical society, and the dramatic club is off on an unlimited frolic. The sleighing has also reached the vanishing point, which helps to make the outlook rather shady.

A few of our oracles are preaching hard gigs, but saying from observation there is not the slightest provocation for alarm as yet. However, for the special interest of PROGRESS and benefit of our town I devote my time during the full season to taking stock of our general resources.

Mrs. Andrea has moved from her former pretty millinery store, to a new one below, which only needs the Easter decorations to make it as pretty a bower of fashion as the last one was.

Miss McLaughlin, who for the past few weeks has been the guest of Mrs. J. H. Stoddard, Havelock street, left on Saturday for her home in St. John.

Mrs. F. H. Hanford arrived home on Thursday evening from a few weeks absence in St. John. The pleasure of her visit was much saddened by the death of Mr. Hanford's father, who died on Monday last. On her return she found Mr. Hanford suffering from a very painful swelling on his hand, which has afflicted her for some time.

Mrs. K. Fuglesy is suffering from an attack of the grippe, which, I trust, may not be of long duration.

Mr. John Jamieson, of Annapolis, has joined the large number of aspiring young mechanics in Robb's machine shop to learn electrical engineering.

Mr. Pelton, one of our local artists, has a very fine portrait of Mr. M. Curry on exhibition in the window of Mr. H. A. Hlood's music store. The work is quite above the average in that line and much discretion is shown in the choice of subject.

Mrs. F. Robb went to Halifax on Saturday to attend the funeral of her father, Mr. F. Robb. Dr. Allen has been confined to the house for the past week or so.

Mr. P. H. Dickie is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Carvel, Charlottetown, P. E. I.
