- Dartmouth, N. S. MARCH 30 .- The fourth subscription concert given by the Orpheus club for this season came off on Tuesday night. It was a Mendelssohn night, and the following programme was offered:

The First Walpurgis Night, Orpheus club, Ladies' auxilliary and orchestra; Priests' March, from auxilliary and orchestra; Priests' March, from Athalie, Orpheus club orchestra; Cantata, Landa Sion, Orpheus club, Ladies' auxilliary and orchestra; Loreley, ditto. The solos in the first numbers were taken by Miss Bigh, Mr. Gillis, Mr. Currie; in the third by Mrs. Hagerty. In Loreley, an unfinished opera by Miss Madeleine Homer.

I had the pleasure of hearing Monday evening's rehearsal of this programme and came away delighted. The Walpurgis Night was beautifully done, and to the orchestra a large tribute of praise must be rendered. They must have practised hard and conscientiously to have obtained practised hard and conscientiously to have obtained the result they did. Their improvement in the last three months is something marvellous, and they and their leader are to be congratulated on last evening's work. The solos, too, went very well, though Mr. Cur-rie at the rehearsal sang infinitely better than at the concert. Miss Bligh's pleasant voice her audience was glad to hear once more; and Mr. Gillis sang well, the tenor solos if one may pick a small fault being undeniably too big for his voice. But he sang well, tunefully, and with understanding To the rendition of the Priests' March, from Athalie, nothing is due but praise. Mr. Klingenfeld had managed to infuse an enormous amount of verve and elau into his orchestra, who did the best work we have had from them since their organiza-

I have heard some few remarks concerning the superabundance of Mendelssohn on Tuesday evening, but where could one find a better contrast than Lauda Sion following after the mad hurly burly of the Walpurgis Night?

Lauda Sion, if not so excellent as the latter, was good. Mrs. Hagarry's solo was very well sing.

good. Mrs. Hagarty's solo was very well sung. We have, of course, had it before, and Lorniey also; indeed the vintage song in the last was sung even better by the club last year, but without the magnificent aid rendered by Miss Homer, who, to state a plain fact, sang divinely. On the whole we enjoyed such a concert as we have not had this season. One may have found other music more to one's individual taste than Mendelssohn, who has lately been a little out of fashion, but one has never heard the club sing better, nor the orchestra do as well. Mr. Porter and Mr. Klingenfeld are to be Quite the event of Thursday after soon and evening for people who care for the artistic and orna-mental side of existence was Miss Browne's exhibitton of china painting. People who had been lucky enough to receive an invitation went prepared to admire and covet, some fortunate ones to buy, although most of the clever artist's work is sold before the various articles are fired. Mrs. Longley's pleasantly situated and very pretty rooms were thronged in the afternoon and evening, and with good reason. The chief charm about the china which is a labor of love to Miss Browne, is the total absence of any amateurish quality in her work. Her designs are wonderfully simple and pure in color, would do honor to many a decorator who has a name to keep up in a larger city than Hali'ax. Indeed, from the point of view of anyone but the Halifax public, who in that case lose the occasional ion which is always a thing to be remembered, Miss Browne would do well to move her studio to some well known artistic centre, where her undoubted talent would at once give her a certain standing in the ceramic world—(if such an expression is allowable). More appreciated her work could hardly be; but certainly if she cared for such vanity, it could become really famous. Some of the little pieces, bowls, plates, tea and chocolate cups were especially dainty in execution and tone. There were bonbonnieres at the sight of which every woman in the room broke the tenth commandment, Lenten season though it is.

I do not know whether Miss Browne fires her own work, but I fancy she does; and the acme of judgment and patience are required for that simple sounding operation. Many a tyro in china-painting has had a woeful surprise at the utter changes of his scheme of color after firing. Miss Browne is a sister of Mrs. Longley, the wife of the attorney general of Nova Scotia. and is well known in social and arrising eigeles.

After all the ordinary and extraordinary pains taken to thoroughly fumigate and purify the Atlas, which has just arrived with troops from Barbadoes, a couple of cases of yellow fever developed after her pissengers were landed. It is not, of course, possible that such a disease can live in our climate, but the troops will be obliged to make a longer stay here than was anticipated in order that the necessary precautions may be gone through with to render her safe for the outgoing batteries. The Duart Castle which brings a detachment up from Bermuda is another cause for detention, as she has been delayed in leaving there. Major Crookenden and Lieut Boger are the two officers who remain in this garrison in place of Major Macdonald, Mr. Edwards, and Mr. Stuart.

The French consul general for Canada, M. le Comte de Turesse, is with his daughter making a short visit to Halifax. He was entertained at dinner on Tu-sday evening by Mr. Francklyn, the representative of his government here, and by other of the principal people of the town. Sir John Ross leaves today for England, also Major and Mrs. Reader and child.

Bishop Courtenay will leave England according to the latest accounts, in time to arrive here on Easter eve. Mrs. and Miss Courtenay, I understand, remain in England with friends.

Among the regrettable but unavoidable departues in May will be that of Surgeon Major Grier, A. M. S., and Mrs. Grier, whose time in Haifax has expired. They will be a great loss to the Rifle club, which by the bye, will resume work on the range as soon after Easter as the w ather may permit. Mrs. James Morrow leaves on Monday for a short visit to her home in Toronto, and another of our "leading ladies" goes in the course of the week to New York. This is a good time of year to be absent from Halifax, as there is always a social blank from

The engagement of Miss Baker, eldest daughter of Mr. Lorne Baker, of Yarmouth, to the Hon. Victor Stopford, R. N., is announced. Miss Baker is well known in Halitax society, where she will be much missed on her marriage.

I hear also of the engagement of the Hon. Victor Stanley, R. N., son of Lord Stanley of Preston, to another Canadian lady, who is indeed one of the belles of Halifax, and renowned for her exquisite face. For the present I withhold her name, as the engagement reacher.

This evening the band of the Leicestershire regiment, assisted by Mrs. Lear, Dr. Slayter, and Professor Currie, will give a performance of the Stabat Mater at the Academy of Music. The object is an excellent one, but setting that aside the performance will be unique. Mrs. Lear, who has a charming voice, will sing the Inflamatus; Miss Homes, who was asked to take part, is unfortunately debarred from doing so by a professional engagement. A fact to be regretted, as we have never heard her magnificent voice on the stage of the Academy. The proceeds of the performance go to the Garrison chapel, and to the Catholic Ladies' Benevolent Society. Mr. Hughes is assured of a full house, but it is to be beginning to the procession of the part of the procession of the process but it is to be hoped will not give us a full band; no four walls can stand so great a volume of sound as

An attraction on Thursday was the successful bazaar held by the W. C. T. U. at the Freemason's hall. An energetic committee had made every possible provision for attracting the friends and well-wishers of the union, and what is infinitely harder, the general public. The home-made sweets offered for sale were delicious, and the supply was drawn upon to its utmost limit. The useful work also went off well; at this season of the year many ladies are only too glad to obtain children's clothing, aprons and a host of things which otherwise they would feel themselves obliged to make. The W. C. T. U has—putting aside its own work—given us a boon in ferent parts of the town. The cake to be bought there is always excellent, as are the more solid viands procurable.

There has been several large teas this week and a host of small ones; among the former, that was given on Tuesday by Mrs. F. Doull, was one of the pleasantest, certainly it was one of the most generally attended. The hostess were an extremely pretty gown, I hear, and looked particularly well.

I have heard of but one card party this week, given by the bachelor host of whom I spoke last week. Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. Grier acted as chaperons for Dr. Dorman's party, which was given

Dr. Dorman gave extremely pretty prizes; though St. John in that particular is still a long way in advance of Halifax. His were the prettiest I have yet seen. They were all silver and extremely dainty. The ladies' prizes particu-larly were magnificent. Every detail of Dr. Dor-man's party had been perfectly carried out, and the result was as might be imagined, excellent.

Mr. Norman Lee, the Garrison chaplain, was the Mr. Norman Lee, the Garrison chapiain, was the originator of the pleasant little half-penny reading, half concert, held at the garrison gymnasium on Wednesday evening. These festivals were at one time a great feature in Halifax. Though they are ostensibly held for soldiers only there are always plenty of the haute voee of the civilian world. Among the numbers on the programme were songs from Major Brady and Surgeon-Captain Fowler, an excellent clarionet solo from a corporal in the Leicestershire regiment, a piano duett from Miss Morrow and Capt. Monteith, A. S. C., and various other songs and recitations. After the performance many small suppers were in order.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Norman-Lee gave a mall tea, which was very cheery and pleasant. Mrs. Kenny was also at home at Thornvale, to a few people, and on Wednesday afternoon I hear of several such entertainments, notably one for the omte de Turenne and his daughter I am amused to hear that a Halitax gentleman who is just on the eve of marriage with a St. John young lady, has recently received his trousseau or the masculine equivalent thereto. It consists—and let us hear no longer of feminine extravagance—of

An interesting event took place on Wednesday the 23rd, at half past eleven o'clock, at St. Paul's church, where a large crowd gathered to witness the marriage of Mr. J. W. Burn, chief engineer of S. S. Mackay-Bennett and Miss Magzie, daughter of Mr. William Baker. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dyson Hague. The bride was attended by her sisters, Misses Laura and Gracie, Dr Ross of the extremely handsome in a very becoming cornflower blue costume, trimmed with feather trimmings and hat to match. Miss Laura, wearing London-smoke trimmed ventbian brocade, with hat to match. Little Miss Grace, a handsome rose color velvet trimmed with surah silk, with cap to match. After a splendid dinner at the home of the bride's father, Caledonia hotel, the newly married couple left by the afternoon train for St. John. Among the guests present at the dinner were: Rev. Deyson Hague, Dr. T. R. Almon of Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor, Mr. J. Woods, and Mr. Priest, electrician of the McKay-Bennett. The present from the bride's father was a dianond sett watch, a check from the mond sett watch, a check from the bride's mother, an onyx clock from the groom's ellow officers of the Mackay-Bennett, a handsome lamp from W. A. Nois; a valuable wine sett from Mr. C. Priest; the groomsman's present was a very pretty bamboo cabinet; the bridesmaid, a silver tete-tete sett; the groom's present to the bride was a handsome sett of jewels; the bridesmaids he gave diamond ear-rings to Miss Laura, and a diamond pin to Miss Gracie Baker.
