SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

[Progress is for sale in Moncton at the bookstore of W. H. Murray, Main street, and on the streets by J. E. McCoy.]

FEB. 3 .- In spite of the ravages of la grippe, which seems to have claimed fully one-half of Moncton as its lawful prey, and the general uncertainty as to who will be the next vietim, and whether he will escape with his life or not, those who are still "on deck" seem determined to drive away dull care and enjoy themselves while they may, for parties, musicales and entertainments seem to tread upon each other's heels with a velocity that makes one's head whirl. I do not know when I remember such a gay winter in Moncton, and after my announcing distinctly that everything pointed towards a quietude verging on stagnation in social circles!

The opening festivity of this week was on Monday evening, when Mrs. George Allen, our newest bride, entertained the bread and butter club at Mrs. C. W. Bradley's; Mrs. Bradley having loaned her handsome house on Botsford street to the young hostess for the evening, Mrs. Allen's father being in too delicate health to admit of the club meeting at her own house. A very jolly evening was spent. The rooms were delightful for a party, and Dr. and Mrs. Bradley kindness itself, while the youthful host and hostess won golden opinions from their guests by their gracefully dispensed hospitality at this their

On Thursday evening there were two whist parties, one at each end of the town. Mrs. E. T. Trites gave a very pleasant party at her home on Church street some 24 guests, making six tables. Mrs. Gordon Blair gave quite a large whist party, winding up with a carpet dance, which was very thoroughly enjoyed. The fortunate couple who carried off the honors of the evening and also the prizes were: Mrs. R. W. Hewson and Mr. George W. Babbitt. The lady's prize was a very pretty parian statuette, and the gentleman's a silver card case, so it is needless to say the winners were both proud and happy.

In addition to this feast of whist and flow of cards there was also a musicale at Mrs. A. E. Killam's residence near Louisville, in aid of the organ fund of St. John's Presbyterian church, which was a grand success. The night was so lovely and the extra inducement of a free sleigh drive so attractive that an unusually large number availed themselves of the opportunity. In fact, so largely was it attended that the rooms were crowded, and something over 40 dollars was taken at the door. The concert itself was an unqualified success. Refreshments were served at the close and another sleigh drive terminated the evening's Tonight the Junior Amateur Dramatic club give their entertainment in the Opera house, and I have little doubt that there will be some fresh attraction for each of the remaining evenings of the week, so I think we may fairly be called a gay people.

And now I think it is only fair to devote a little space to the invalids of whom, I regret to say, we have many, and a number of the victims are amongst our visitors. Mrs. E. A. Record, who is spending a little time with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Harris, has been quite ill with la grippe and is only just convalescent. Mrs. W. E. Stavert who is visiting her sister Mrs. C. J. See page 21 of the Official Report of the Inland Revenue Department issued Dec. 31st. 1891. REPORT ON "THE ISLAY BLEND" WHISKEY.

Registered by request of Messrs. MACKIE & CO., Lagavulin and Laphroaig, Island of Islay. Argylshire, Scotland.

[ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S HOSPITAL, LONDON.

I have carefully analyzed and tested the above Whiskey, and am of the opinion that it is a very High Class Brand, of very delicate flavor, and mellow throughout; there is an entire absence of any artificial sweetening, or any other matter which render the majority of Whiskey deleterious. It is also entirely free from fusel oil. The slight color it has is obtained from lying in bond, and from a porportion of the Whiskey being matured in sherry casks. I can safely recommend it for medicinal purposes as being a reliable and thoroughly genuine article. (Signed)

CITY ANALYST'S LABORATORY, 138 BATH STREET,

BIE GLASGOW, 30th, Sept. 1880. Report of Analysis of a sample of Messrs. MACKIE & Co.'s "ISLAY BLEND" of Whiskey, received on the 24th inst.

I have made a careful analysis of a sample representing 800 dozen bottles of Messrs. MACKIE & Co.'s "ISLAY BLEND" WHISKEY, and I find that it is a pure Whiskey, and entirely free from any coloring or flavouring matter, except such as is naturally absorbed by being matured in Sherry Casks. I am of opinion that it is several years old, and a superior quality of Whiskey.

(Signed) JOHN CLARK, Ph.D., F.I.C., F.C.S., Lecturer on Chemistry at the Royal Infirmary School of Medicine, and Public Analyst for the City of Glusgow, etc.
