On Monday evening about 60 young ladies assembled at the private club room of the officers of the 62nd Fusiliers, in order to form drill classes for the 62nd Fusiliers, in order to form drift classes for an entertainment to be given after Easter under the auspices of the Fusiliers. The plans were ex-plained by Major Tucker, Dr. Walker, and other efficers, from which it appears that regular drift will be imparted by officers of the regiment, and from this it is hared the ladies may derive some will be imparted by officers of the regiment, and from this, it is hoped, the ladies may derive some physical advantage. The ladies are to be divided into three squads for actual drill, and in addition there will probably be an ambulance corps under the tuition of Dr. Walker, who will give prelimin-ary instruction in baodaging and first aid to the wounded. I will endeavor at an early date to give a full list of all taking part; but as there were some absentees that evening, it is impossible to give some absentees that evening, it is impossible to give them yet. Those present were divided into three squads, and will consist of about twenty each, chaperoned as follows, the married ladies having drawn lots to decide their companies: A squad—Mrs. E. T. Sturdee and Mrs. G. H. Lee.

Allison. Some drills have been practiced during the week, and each squad is to have a regular night of meeting each week. The different uniforms have not yet been decided on, though each squad will represent a different branch of the army and so follow that particular drill. All the ladies seem most enthusi-astic over it, and it is a satisfaction to those who have drilled so far to learn that the officers have expressed the opinion that they will learn their duties very quickly. On Tuesday night a very pleasant tobogganing party was given by the Misses Jones. Between 20 and 30 young ladies and gentlemen drove out as far as the neighborhood of the Jewish cemetery and there enjoyed sliding for some hours.
