Mr. Geo. W. Hoben, the smiling pharmacist of the North End, is the fortunate possessor of a very waluable chronometer and gold chain. At a recent meeting of the Hoben club at a most opportune moment, Dr. Smith, the genial proprietor of the far-tamed, New Brun-wick asbestos mines, arose and reterred briefly to the many sterling qualities of the club's president, after which he presented Mr. Hoben with a massive gold watch and chain, the sonorous pu sations of which were distinctly audible on the front street. Mr. Hoben was effected to tears and could hardly find words to express his feelings; he sp ke of the advancement the club had made and said he was glad to see that it had not gone up like so many of Dr. Smith's "loaded cigars"-ending in smoke, but showed evidence of a brillant financial future. After this coffee was prepared and served by Mr. W. Wallace. Mr. Hoben has counted some 867 visitors, congratu latory letters and telephone messages since he be came the happy recipient of the above.
