AMHERST.

[Progress is for sale at Amherst, by George Douglas and H. A. Hillcoat.] Nov. 2.-The marriage of Miss Louise Campbell and Rev. John Miles, of Alexandria, P. E. I., came off last Wednesday morning at the residence of her brother, Mr. T. N. Campbell, where she has presided as hostess for the past few years. The event, which was just a little late for last week's Prog-RESS, in many points takes precedence as a cleverly managed home wedding, and was attended with an unusually pretty display of stylish millinery and

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Macdonald, assisted by the Rev. James Strothard. The bride looked her very best in a perfect fitting travelling dress of navy blue, checked with garnet, handsomely trimmed with light grey fur, walking hat and gloves of same shade, and quite the prettiest costume we have seen this autumn. Two little bridesmaids were in attendance who looked very charming; Miss Katie Campbell, niece of the bride, wore a very neat dress of cream bunting trimmed with silk, and Miss Lidie Moffat in a dainty robe of white with sash of yellow surah. The non removal of the varied and becoming chapeaux of the large number of guests was a a very happy thought which averted all confusion, besides lending a particularly bright air to the prettily arranged breakfast which apart from its excellency was very merrily enjoyed. Mr. and Mis. Miles will make their home in P. E. Island, after a short tour to the capital, and Miss Mattie Campbell, her sister, will fill her place in her brother's house-hold. The bride's presents were large in number, and very judiciously chosen for the home of a minister's wife.

From her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Great Village, a bible, fifteen dollars in gold and two very handsome quilts; Mr. Geo. H. Campbell, Winnipeg, $100; Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Campbell, Boston, silver cake basket; Miss Mattle Campbell, large oil painting and several other very pretty and useful gifts; Mr. Neil Oampbell, $20 and a pretty silver sugar spoon from his little daughter Katie; Mr. and Mrs. spoon from his little daughter Katie; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McLeod, glass and silver celery holder; Mr. and Mrs. Moffat, silver cake basket; Miss Edna Moffat, a prettily painted table scarf, and from Miss Lidie Moffat, a large parlor lamp; Mr. John M. Curry, silver cream and sugar sett; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, very handsome breakfast sett; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Christie, silver pitcher; Mrs. Thos. and Mr. W. C. On Thursday Miss Laura Johnston returned home from Parrsboro, where she has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Townshend.

Hallowe'en was celebrated with several parties A small tea was given in the afternoon by Mrs. C. Morse for Miss Theadora which delighted the little iolk greatly. In the evening Miss Morse entertained a number of older members of society to a little dance. Miss Morse received her guests in a very classical gown of black velvet that became her to a nicety. The novelty of the evening was in having more gentlemen than ladies present, consequently wall flowers were out of season.

On the same evening Mrs. Brown gave a very nice party to the friends of her little protege, Miss Maud Blakney.

Two weddings in one week has brought society out in full grace. St. Stephen's church on Tuesday afternoon was crowded to the doors, in fact the ushers, Dr. McQueen and Mr. C. W. Moore, found it most difficult to keep the way clear for the large number of guests who were invited to attend the wedding of Miss Fannie Dunlap, only daughter of Mrs. Henry Dunlap, and niece of Mayor Dunlap, to Dr. S. K. Smith, of Port Huron, son of Mr. W. Smith, formerly principal of the Amherst academy. The groom accompanied by his best man, Mr. Arthur Dunlap, was prompt and the bride entered shortly after and was conducted to the altar by her brother, Mr. Frank Dunlap. Her dress was very handsome, made of thick white silk and her white tulle veil and orange biossoms were extremely be-coming. The bridesmaid, Miss Maggie Smith, wore a very pretty toilette of cream satin, with hat to match. Rev. D. McGregor tied the nuptial not. Prof. Max. Sterne conducted the music, which was particularly good. Some very beautiful gowns were worn by the guests. The bride's mother in a dress of grey with bonnet of same shade, looked very handsome. Mrs. Dr. Hewson wore an elegant dress of black velvet, and Mrs. T. Dunlap was attired in helitrope and white. A number of other very handsome dresses were seen in the guest circle which I have not space to describe. After the wedding the usual reception took place at Bally Hooly, home of the bride, and Dr. and Mrs. Smith received the warm congratulations of their many friends. They left by the evening express for their home, Port Huron, via St. John, where they will make a short stay.

NEW GLASGOW.

[Progress is for sale in New Glasgow by W. H. Torry, A. O. Pritchard and H. H. Henderson] Nov. 2.-Miss Libbie Chisholm returned from the West on Friday of last week after an absence of nearly three years spent pleasantly with her sister, Mrs. D. Drysdale in New Westminister, B. C. Judging by the hearty hand shaking she is receiv. ing, she has been forgotten by none of her old friends in New Glasgow, and is as popular as ever. She has been much missed from St. James' courch choir and I was glad to note on Sunday when she sang in her accustomed place that her voice has

Nov. 1 .- The event of last week was the Oddfellow's fair which was opened at the exhibition building on Tuesday afternoon by Hon. W. S. Fielding who made a short address but very appropriate speech. Hon. T. B. Smith and Judge Dewolf also made short addresses. The boothes all looked very well. The Japanese booth was, perhaps, the best and attracted a great deal of attention. The display of wares was very fine and the young ladies, Miss Anslow, Miss Murphy, and Miss Patterson, who were dressed in the costume of the country, made excellent Japanese ladies.

The sudden death of Mr. George Jackson occurred on Wednesday evening, after an illness of two days. His sister, Mrs. Partridge, Malden, Mass., was telegraphed for but arrived home too late to find her brother alive. Mr. Jackson was a prominent member of the 68th Battalion band, and was buried on Saturday afternoon with military honors.

Mr. George Murphy has returned to Halifax to resume his studies at medical college.

Mrs. Aubrey Blanchard's triends are glad to see her able to be out again, after being confined to the house for many weeks.

The young people of Windsor will have an opportunity to improve themselves in dancing as Miss Gliska, of Halifax, is having a dancing class once a week during the winter months.

Rev. Weston Jones, who has been quite ill for some time, was able to be out for the first time to attend Mr. Jackson's funeral. Some of the young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Reid, had an informal dance in Miss Gliska's rooms on Wednesday evening, which was a very pleasant affair. An early hour for leaving was proposed and acted upon, the dance being over shortly after 11 o'clock, which is a step in the right direction. The late hours usually kept at dances being often urged as an objection by the older people. Miss Campbell of Weymouth is visiting her sister,

Mr. J. J. Ansiow, who has been having a few weeks vacation in New Brunswick, is home again. Miss Norah Blanchard had a very pleasant Hallowe'en party on Monday evening.

Mrs. Chas. G. D. Roberts returned home Friday from a lengthy visit in St. John and Fredericton.

Mrs. F. J. Martin went to St. Stephen on Wednesday to spend a few days.

The most important event of last week was the marriage on Thursday evening of Miss Blanche Thomas, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Thomas, to Mr. George Scatt. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. R. Baker in the Reformed Baptist church which was very tastefully decorated with flowers. Punctually at eight o'clock the groom entered the church accompanied by Mr. Page, of Woodstock, and took his place. In a few moments the bride appeared leaning on her father's arm and attended by her sister, Miss Nora Thomas and Miss Hamond, of Woodstock. The bride looked charming and wore a dress of white cashmere and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids also wore white. Directly after the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of the bride's parents where the young couple received the congratulations of their numerous friends.

Nov. 2.-Notwithstanding the very disagreeable weather, both the Central methodist and St. John's presbyterian church were crowded to the very doors ast Wednesday evening with the usual throng of interested spectators which a wedding never fails to attract. The first wedding was that of Miss Edna Chapman, daughter of Mr. R. A. Chapman, fishery inspector for Westmorland and Kent counties, and Mr. David Stewart, of the I. C. Miss Giertz. father, and attended by her bridesmaid, Miss Gjertz, of Newcastle, Miss Chapman, who is a perfect blonde, looked charming in a beautiful dress of ivory white corded silk with court train, veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Gjertz was attired in pale pink bengaline silk, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and ferns. The ceremony was very impressively read by Rev. Mr. Read. After the service was over, the bridal party and the guests, numbering about 50, returned to the home of the bride's parents, on Alma street, where a reception was held for an hour after which the a reception was held for an hour after which the company sat down to an elaborate supper during which the Moncton cornet band, of which Mr. Stewart is leader, surprised the party with a serenade. After various toasts had been drunk and responded to, Judge Landry arose and presented Mr. Stewart on behalf of the Moncton band, with a very handsome ice pitcher, accompanied by an address. The other presents were numerous and very handsome, the groom's gift to his bride being a sealskin sacque, and to the bridesmald a gold bracelet. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart took the Ouebec express for Montreal, and will spend the Quebec express for Montreal, and will spend two weeks travelling through the upper provinces. The other wedding, which was much quieter and fully as pretty as the first, was that of Miss Marion McCaren, a member of the St. John's church choir, to Mr. Henry I. Armstrong, of New Glasgow. The church was beautifully decorated, the platform behind the communion rails being banked with flowers. As the wedding party entered the wedding march pealed forth, played by the organist, Mr. W. Knight. The bride, who was accompanied by her sister, Miss Fanne McCaren, wore a very handsome travelling suit of brown cioth with a little hat of scarlet velvet, which gave just the needed touch of scarlet velvet, which gave just the needed touch of color to her dress and set off her bright, brunette face to perfection; she was given away by her brother, Mr. John McLaren. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Fred Armstrong. The short bur select her severe account of the preserve. short but solemn marriage service of the presby-terian church was performed by Rev. J. Millen Robinson. At its conclusion the bride and groom were surrounded by a crowd of friends eager to offer their congratulations, and the appearance of the wedding party at the church door was the signal for a shower of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong drove direct to the station and took the even-ing train for St. John where they will spend a few days. Amongst the many presents which give evidence of the bride's great popularity was a beau-tifuld inner service from the choir, Sunday school teachers, and Christian Endeavor society of the presbyterian church.

The platform of the station was crowded to excess with the friends of both the newly married couples, who had assembled to bid them farewell, and the rice that was scattered in all directions with a prodi-gality which would have made a Chinaman's heart ache, gave the station an appearance of having recently passed through a snow storm. Miss Florence White returned on Tuesday from Halilax whither she had gone to be bridesmaid to her cousin, Miss Fletcher, of Windsor, who was married at the Garrison chapel on Tuesday of last week, to Mr. Arthur A. Peckham, of Murdock's Nephews, Halifax. Mrs. Fleming tripped on the top step of the stairs, and fell the whole length of the stairway, striking the back of her head in the fall, and cutting it very severely. As she is quite an elderly lady, the consequences may be serious. I am sorry to say that Mrs. Thomas Williams is

I regret that I have so few arrivals and so many departures to chronicle. It really seems as if a week seldom passed without my having to note the departure of some well known member of Moncton society, and this week is no exception, as we have been obliged to bid a reluctant farewell to Mr. George Taylor, late general freight agent of the I. C. R., and his niece, Miss Watson, Mr. Taylor hav-ing decided to remove to Bedford. Mr. Taylor has been prominent in social and church circles during his many years of residence in Moncton, having been a warden of St. George's church for over ten years, and his departure will leave a vacancy in society which will long remain unfilled, while Miss Watson will be missed by all classes, her warm heart and many kind deeds having endeared her to every one. Another loss that we can ill support will be that of Mr. and Mrs. John Galt, who intend leaving town next week to make their home in Florida, the change being necessitated by Mr. Galt's health.

The Bank of Montreal has at last adopted standard time, the first of all the Moncton banks to fall into line, and great is the rejoicing in consequence, amongst the merchants and business men generally, who hope that the other banks will soon follow suit.
