Although last week was not signalized by the number of weddings which marked the first three days of this week there were at least two fashionable weddings deserving of notice. The first was that of Miss Annie Augusta Allison, daughter of the late Mr. Samuel Allison, who was married at the Exmouth Methodist church, at eight o'clock last Wednesday evening, to Mr. Samuel W. Kain of the Exmouth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. M. Campbell in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends that the church was filled to overflowing. The bride wore a very pretty travelling costume of fawn colored cloth, with hat to match; entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. James Allison. She was attended by Miss Jessie M. Emery, as maid of honor. Mr. H. A. McKeown officiated as groomsman. After the ceremony was over the wedding party left the church, followed by the strains of the wedding march, played in a spirited manner by the organist, Miss Myles. Mr. and Mrs. Kain drove direct to the station, taking the Boston train for a fortnight's tour through New England. The bride was the recipient of numerous, beautiful and costly presents.
Mr. and Mrs. Kain will begin house-keeping on King St. East, on their return.
The second wedding took place in the cathedral at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. J. Walsh. The principals were Miss Gertrude Driscoll and Mr. John Morrison, of the firm of Morrison & Lawlor. Miss Mary H. Driscoll was bridesmaid, and Mr. Thomas Driscoll was groomsman. The cathedral was filled with the friends and well wishers of the bride and groom, both of whom are deservedly popular amongst their large circle of friends. After the ceremony a large party of guests drove to the residence of Mr. John Leitch on Princess street, where a wedding supper was served. The groom's gift to the bride was a bracelet consisting of a very handsome diamond bracelet case. The array of presents received by the young couple from their numerous friends was of a most imposing nature. Mr. Morrison left on the next evening for a short tour to New York and Philadelphia.
