Ladies and yachtsmen were alike rejoiced on Saturday last at having a really fine day for the races. For eight long weeks the clerk of the weather has seemed to have a special grievance against the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht squadron, but at last he has allowed them a fine, bright day and a spanking breeze. By 4 o'clock there were a large number of people gathered at the club house. The number of people gathered at the club house. The balcony was the pleasantest place imaginable; the harbor from it looking prettier than one often sees it, lovely as it is. There were an unusual number of ladies out, who, one and all, were looking exceedingly nice. Though I saw no very specially smart or utterly novel gowns, still everyone was dressed, as they nearly always are in Halifax, suitably for the occasion.

The Youla won the handicap race, and Mr. Wylde received many congratulations and praises on account of his excellent handling of this pretty little craft. After the race a large number of ladies braved the breeze and went for a sail in the Wynn. braved the breeze and went for a sail in the Wynn. Regret was expressed on every side at the departure of Commodore Edwards, and speculation was rife as to his successor in this, probably the most important sporting position in Halifax. Several names have been mentioned, but only in spirit of conjecture so far. The squadron is fortunate in having three or four members almost equally qualified to be commodore.

The Rifle club, which has taken up work again, also had a meeting on Saturday afternoon at the Citadel. This is a seriously minded organization which allows no visitors, I understand, but finishes up its meetings with tea and cake much in the manner of more frivolous bodies.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. West had a small tennis party; while the usual polo was going on at the grounds. The polo players have had a serious loss in the person of Major Odell, whose place will not be filled this season.

The Wanderers may be joyful and justly proud of The Wanderers may be joyful and justly proud of themselves, now that they have won the champion ship of Nova Scotia in the game of lacrosse. Soon will come the tug-of-war between them and St. John, and the old rivalry revives and the sister cities once more will be striving for supremacy. The Wanderers are confident and so are the St. Johns. May the best team win! On Saturday at the game with Springhill the Wanderers (with one or two exceptions) did best team win! On Saturday at the game with Spring-hill, the Wanderers (with one or two exceptions) did not show up well. The worst feature shown by the Wanderers at any game, football or lacrosse, is the selfishness of their best players and this was par-ticularly noticeable on Saturday, many of the team evidently not recognizing the fact that they were not the only ones on their side, they ignored their friends, and as a consequence were collared by their enemies. One member was a well marked exception and once or twice showed some beautiful play. tion, and once or twice showed some beautiful play.

If the Wanderers wish to beat St. John they must certainly show better form than they did in their Springhill match. There was a very small attendance on the grounds and very few ladies, but then ance on the grounds and very few ladies, but then there were other attractions and lacrosse is not what one might call a popular game in Halifax, though it is one of the prettiest there is to watch.

This was a week of sport in Halifax, in fact as a visiting American said, "Halifax is always sporting." The horse races were the centre of attraction for many, but few of the fashionables attended, the long drawn out trotting races do not appeal to the Halifax "upper ien," and at their fixtures the grand stand and enclosure know them not. The sterner stand and enclosure know them not. The sterner sex attended, but then they would go to any horse race on account of the opportunities offered. Amongst the visitors from the country, however, were many ladies, who seemed to take as much interest in the speedy trotters as their lords and masters.

Mrs. Reader was not blessed with a very cheerful day for her picnic on Tuesday. It was almost too hot going down and the roads were terribly bad, heavy and very muddy. Cow Bay is always a pleasant place for a picnic, but it certainly needs a beautiful day, and when the wind and fog come up chill and cold the only i lea one had was to get home to warm fireside, and comfortable tea. The drive home was chilly and was accomplished in remarkable fast time by one or two young gentlemen. Every-one seemed to enjoy the whole outing, but it is a great trial and tribulation to give a picnic, especially a large one and at such a long distance from home. * * *

Mrs. Dyson Hague, the wife of the Rector of St. Pauls, returned this week from a long visit to their friends and relatives in Toronto. Mrs. Hague has much benefitted by her visit, and is now in better health than she was when she went away.

Mr. Waish of the Leicestershire Regiment, has left for England on six months leave. Mr. Walsh will be much missed by a large portion of Halifax will be much missed by a large portion of Halifax

One of the attractions of the week has been the sale of furniture at Mr. Wm. Bauld's, Pleasant st. When much beautiful and costly furniture was offered at absurdly low prices it was natural that the buyers should be numerous. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bauld are going to California for the winter.

Col. Hill, R. E., who accompanied the general on his town to the Pacific was taken ill on the way and his tour to the Pacific, was taken ill on the way and had to left at Montreal to recover. As soon as he is well enough he will return to Halifax, and not start in pursuit of the rest of the party, as was originally intended.

Mr. Wm. Henry of the Wanderers and Mr. Bengough of the Leicestershire tregiment have gone to Philadelphia to play for Canada in the International cricket match. If the aristocratic quakers shower hospitality on them as was showered on their representatives here, both the Wanderers and the Garrisentatives here, both the wanderers and the Garrisentatives here. sons will be in need of new captains. It looks as though Canada would get a mighty drubbing, but what does that matter, the teams will have a good time, and Canada may do better in the near future!

Mr. Stockwell leaves next week for a short visit to Chicago, and will spend part of his visit with Dr. Clark, the father of Mrs. Slayter.

The Rev. Canon Richardson of London, Ont., is staying at Mr. J. Young Payzant's, Spring Garden Road. It is many years since the reverend gentleman left this, his native place, and he has changed in appearance about as much as has the place itself.

SEPT. 7 .- Nearly all our townspeople have returned from the various rural haunts, bringing with them a little ripple of gaiety that, I hope, is the pleasant forerunner of brighter days in store for us during the autumn, which, without doubt, will be most heartily appreciated after the intolerable dullness of the past two months.

The recent chilly weather has been very favorable for tennis, and some excellent playing has been the outcome. Among our visitors are several experts, who have done much to revive the latent interest in who have done much to revive the latent interest in the game, and a merry tennis party is among the pleasantest rumors of the near future.

This evening the pretty residence of Mr. and Mrs. Tremaine, Havelock street, is all aglow with every indication of mirth and pleasure. I understand that upwards of seventy invitations have been issued for the occasion, which is in honor of Miss Crane, sister of the hostess, prior to her departure for her home in Boston. Music will be furnished by the Amherst orchestra, which is considered lately the Amherst orchestra, which is considered lately a most essential acquisition to function of a grand scale. Some very elegant gowns have been pre-pared for the event, which, I hope, to give in detail

A most unique party was given on Thursday by Mrs. James Moffat in honor of Miss day. A bull's eye was the centre of attraction, and small rifles were the implements for amusement, which in some cases were handled with fear and trembling, and some of the shots could be truly said were "more by hit then good wit," although the result was very interesting Miss Anna Christie's maiden attempt brought the first prize for ladies. Mr. E. Harding, who is celebrated as a shot, won the gentlemen's prize, and Miss McCulley bore away the booby. Much enjoyment was afforded the many guests who pronounced the sport delightful and the party exceptioually pleasant.

SEPT. 8 .- With these first cool September days, our little collegiate town has awakened to life and activity. New faces, as well as many that have grown familiar to us and which we are pleased to see again, throng our hitherto quiet streets, and where there has been all summer a void on either side of the church the seats are now filled with bright intelligent faces, some of them a little cloudbright intelligent faces, some of them a little clouded perhaps today as they think of the many Sundays they must spend away from "the loved ones at home." Our own lads and lassies too are becoming enthused with the spirit of industry that prevails and may be daily seen wending their way toward Mt. Allison's classic halls eager in the pursuit of wisdom. I remember that in his address on commencement evening the genial president of the ladies' college touchingly referred to two woful blanks made in the teaching staff of '91, and stated his intention of waging war to the teeth upon stated his intention of waging war to the teeth upon young clergymen who had designs upon the lady teachers.
