[Progress is for sale at Amherst, by George Douglas and H. A. Hillcoat.]

Oct. 12.—The very unpretentious location of our town affords little or no chance for the display of natural beauty or adornment to any advantage, while the broad stretch of marsh which forms the foreground can scarcely, from an artistic point of view be considered an attraction. Amherst is rarely eulogized for its picturesque charms during the summer, but with the autumn a delightful transformation takes place, and today it can be conspicuously pronounced perfectly beautiful; many of the streets offering rare vistas of exquisite coloring. The surrounding scenery shows many pretty spots with a peculiar blending of subdued tints rarely seen by the humid atmosphere over the isthmus, so say our local artists, who are testing their mimic skill in the effort to successfully portray dame nature in her gorgeous robes.

The Nova Scotia branch of the Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church met in Amherst during the past week and brought a large number of visitors, who came as delegates from the various towns in the province. Miss Cunningham, who has recently returned from a visit to Japan, addressed the meeting in a very interesting way. She was dressed in the costume she wore there, which was very becoming to her, and a novelty with us. She was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Strothard while here. Miss Cunningham, of Halifax, was their guest also.

Miss Wiswall, of Annapolis, and Miss Whiston, of Halifax, were the guests of Mrs. Lay. Mrs. and Miss Rogers were the guests of Mrs. E. G. Donkin.

Mrs. H. H. Hearty was the guest of Mrs. Black while in town, also Mrs. Whitman, of Canoe. Upwards of seventy ladies were entertained by the various members of the church which would be too long a list for any limited space.

Mrs. E. B. Bidden is visiting friends in St. John and Digby.

Miss Blise, of Westmorland, is the guest of Mrs. Keenham, who gave a very pleasant little dinner party on Friday evening in honor of visitors. Quiet little gatherings are a pleasant feature at the pretty home of the above named, which are most enjoyable from the fact that the guests are selected in numbers that avoid anything like a crush and therefore are more social and pleasing.

Mr. McKim, of Wallace, is the guest of Mayor Dunlap for a few days.

Miss Mable Ayer, of Sackville, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. Stewart, of Halifax, visited friends in Amherst last week and remained over Sunday.

Mr. Percy Handford has gone on a short trip to Charlottetown.

Mrs. W. J. Pipes and daughter Helen, left on Wednesday's noon train for a short visit to friends in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bennett are spending the week in St. John, and are expected to return on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett, of Sackville, were in town on Saturday.

Mrs. D. Robb and children, Antigonish, who have been spending the past few weeks with Mrs. Alex. Robb, left on Thursday's noon train for home, where they expect to reside for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyckoff Rogers have gone on a visit to the United States. They were accompanied by Master Robbie Chubbuck, who has gone to join his mother.

Mrs. McGregor, who has been visiting friends in Nova Scotia, spent a few days with her friend, Mr. McKim, while en route for her home in Toronto.

Several small teas have been given through the kindness of Mrs. Brown, quite a number being entertained by Mrs. Brown. Dancing and cards are the pleasures of the evening.

Miss Giviska held a reception on Friday evening at her home, where she intended to hold her classes in dancing during the autumn. A large number were present who were much pleased to meet her. A pleasant dance was enjoyed with a will by some of her pupils last season as well as a number of new ones.

A jolly little party was given by Mrs. J. M. Townsend on Wednesday evening in honor of Master Kenneth's birthday. Their beautiful grounds and handsome home affords every facility for merry making for either old or young, so without doubt it is an event that will be borne in mind for some time, particularly the cutting of the birthday cake, which was extra proportions and contained a souvenir for a lucky one.

[Progress is for sale in Truro at Mr. G. O. Fulford, and at D. H. Smith & Co.'s.]

Oct. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Donkin and their guests were in town a few days last week, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Donkin, returning to Mulgrave on Saturday last.

Mrs. L. B. Archibald entertained a large number of Miss Lulu's young friends on Friday last from four to eight p. m.

Mr. John Blanchard is in town, a guest of his son, Mr. C. M. Blanchard.

Miss Agnes McKay entertained a few friends on Saturday afternoon last at five o'clock tea.

Miss Millie Archibald's dance last Thursday night was a very charming affair; the arrangements being in such a perfection of good taste that nothing was wanting to conduce to the comfort and enjoyment of the large number of guests present. Mrs. Archibald was assisted in her duties of hostess and in the reception of her guests by Miss Archibald and Mrs. Cyrus Archibald. Mrs. Archibald, sr., was in handsome black silk; Mrs. Cyrus Archibald, black silk; Mrs. Archibald, jr., black and cream. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Blair, Miss Tremaine, Miss McKay, Miss Winter, Miss Jean Crowe, Miss Hyatt, Miss Liora, Miss H. C. Graham, and Miss Smith (St. Stephen, N. B.). Miss Ingraham (Sydney, C. B.), Miss Yoiston, Miss Pratt, Miss Morse (Amherst), Miss Blaine, Miss Macdonald, Miss Mary Sutherland, Miss Black, Dr. McKay, Dr. Yoiston, Messrs. H. W. Crowe, Will Crowe, J. Bowers, W. K. McMillan, L. Tabor, Honnby, A. Campbell, Messrs. Donald, Donald, Donald, Berthelington (Halifax), M. A. Black. Supper was laid in the dining room and was exquisite in all its details. Most of the guests departed in the light fantastic, and it was well into the small hours ere the guests made their adieux.

Miss Prince is here from Moncton, a guest of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Prince.

Rev. George Carson, who occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's last Sunday, was accompanied home on Monday by Mrs. Carson and their family, who have been guests of Mrs. Carson's mother, Mrs. J. B. Calkin, at "Fern Hill."

Mrs. Chas. Dunlop, Windsor, is a guest of her relatives at "Elm Cottage."

The Methodist church was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings that has been witnessed here for some time, the long betrothal of the bride and groom, ceremony, 7.30 p. m., the church was thronged to the doors. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. E. Reynolds, city collector of the Maine Central railroad, Bangor, and Miss Florence Tupper, fourth daughter of Mr. S. F. Tupper, of the Truro foundry. The bride, who entered the church on her father's arm, preceded by her bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Reynolds (Bangor) attired in pretty gowns of pure white mail, as brides of honor, and the Misses Gertrude Kent and Anne Lockwood, two Austrian couples, Mr. W. D. Dimmock, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, assisted by Rev. Wm. Ainley, Mr. Geo. B. Faulkner rendered the music for the occasion in his usual masterly style. Dr. Langille and Mr. John Stanfield acted as ushers. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, ferns, flowers and exotics in great profusion. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, where an excellent collation was spread. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left per C. P. R. train for St. John, where, after spending a few days, they proceeded to Bangor, where their future home will be. The groom's present to the bride was a very pretty brooch of a carrier-dove in solid silver, set with a sapphire, on which was inscribed the date in letters of gold. The bride's presents were very many and exceptionally elegant. From her father and mother, a purse of fifty dollars in gold; Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, a pair of diamond earrings; Mr. G. G. Gish, silver water pitcher; Mr. D. McDonald, silver cake basket; Miss Gertrude Kent, silver pudding dish; Miss Stuart, handsome mantle; Miss Bessie Tupper, half dozen canvases; Mr. Chas. Lockwood, ten dollars; Mr. Arthur Lockwood, ten dollars; employees of Truro foundry, silver pitcher and salver; Aston Tobin, silver syrup pitcher; Mr. G. B. Faulkner, silver china fruit dish; Rev. Arch-Deacon and Mrs. Arch-Deacon, a pair of diamond earrings; Mr. W. D. Dimmock, solid gold bracelet, with bangles of solid gold; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tupper, doz. shell and silver; Mr. and Mrs. John Stanfield, china berry set; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, a pair of diamond earrings and easy chair in raw silk; Miss Alice (Bangor) banquet lamp; Miss Nellie Tupper, silver tea set; Mr. George Stone, (Boston) a pair of silver ladies; Miss Fannie Tupper, silver oyster ladle; Dr. Langille, silver cake basket. The groom's present to his bride is a beautiful room in the home he has just finished for her, appointed and furnished in white and gold throughout. These are but some among the presents, which time does not permit me to enumerate.

Mr. Chas. Kent leaves for St. John tonight.

Mrs. Graham and Miss Smith, Miss Hyde's guests have gone to Windsor to visit friends.

SUMMERSIDE.

Oct. 12.—The Presbyterian congregation has been en fête this week—the occasion being the opening of the new parish room. Rev. Mr. Dickie is to be congratulated on the evident progress made during his pastorate here. The school room is large and built on the most modern plan. We hope to see many little gatherings of a social nature during the coming winter.

Miss Mary Doull, of Charlottetown, has taken a room in D. McIntyre's cottage where she purposes instructing a class in painting and dancing. Miss Doull has won several prizes in Sackville, and has some fine work on exhibition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jarvis spent two weeks of their wedding tour on Prince Edward Island. I hear they intend visiting some of the American cities before returning to Ontario.

Mrs. K. J. Marten, our newest bride, has been receiving calls during the past two weeks, assisted by her sister, Miss Emma Montgomery.

There are whispers of another wedding in the near future. Just where I cannot say for Ceres has not been taken into confidence, consequently all is black.

Mrs. B. T. Holman and her little son, Willie, left their shores last Monday for Montreal to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Parsons. We wish them a pleasant trip.

Mrs. Herbert Green and little son, of Digby, have been spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Green. They returned to Nova Scotia last week.

We are pleased to see Mr. and Mrs. McLennan with us again, after an absence of several weeks.

Miss Edith Stewart, who has been sojourning in the neighboring province, re-appeared amongst us last Saturday, but, I hear, she takes flight again in November.

Mr. Colin McLennan enjoyed a little tour through the Annapolis Valley, and spent a few days in Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Rice, of New Glasgow, were in town assisting in the opening services of the Presbyterian hall. Mr. Rice made many friends while with us last winter, and all were charmed to see him again.

Mrs. A. L. Gouche is now in Montreal visiting Mrs. W. Patterson.

Miss Susie Brown, accompanied by her sister Mrs. Davis, returned home last week. They had been spending the summer in Souris.

Mrs. Dan. Stewart is once more with us after a few weeks visit in her old home, Steiwacke, Nova Scotia.

The Misses Wright, of Bedeque, were in town last Wednesday.

Miss Schumann, who has been suffering from a severe attack of fever, is I am glad to say, recovering.

Mrs. J. K. Russ and little Marian are visiting friends in Sackville.

Mrs. Horace Beer, of Charlottetown, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jas. Reed.

Rev. Henry Dickie is now in St. John attending synod. He absent his pulpit was filled by Mr. Sinclair of N. S.

I see by our papers that Bengough is to honor our town with an address on Wednesday last. The pleasure of hearing Mr. Bengough on his last trip through the provinces. I can assure the people a treat is in store for them. The caricature will probably be of local interest, as "When the tints of the autumn and dunes be prepared to see yourselves placed before the people."

Rev. D. J. G. McDonald cheered our hearts by returning home on Wednesday last. Father McDonald speaks very highly of his delightful trip and has settled down to work strengthened in body and cheered in soul.

On my way to town last Monday I met tearful-eyed maidens and sorrowful lads, and on inquiring the cause was not surprised, for the "Northumberland" was leaving for the coast, and many of the young men and women were prepared to see themselves placed before the people.

Rev. D. J. G. McDonald cheered our hearts by returning home on Wednesday last. Father McDonald speaks very highly of his delightful trip and has settled down to work strengthened in body and cheered in soul.
