MONCTON.

[Progress is for sale in Moncton at the book store of W. H. Murray, Main street, and on the streets by J. E. McCoy.]

Nov. 9.—The bazaar in aid of the Amateur Athletic Association, which is being held in the Caledonian building is attracting a good deal of attention, and the ladies who have it in charge deserve the praise one hears on all sides for the tasteful and artistic manner in which the hall is decorated. It presents a pretty sight as one enters with the bright colors, the gaily decorated booths, the numerous flags, and the procession of electric lights. On the right hand, as one enters, is the Japanese booth which is charmingly arranged, the design being a pagoda; it is draped in oriental fashion, and decorated with fans and Japanese banners, and brightly illuminated. Mrs. F. A. McCully, Mrs. McLellan, and Miss Bruce presided over it. To the left in the centre of the wall is the Swiss cottage in which, under the flags and arms of Switzerland, and arrayed in full Swiss costume Mrs. P. S. Archibald, Miss Adelaide McKean and Mr. H. C. Hanington dispense Swiss toys, souvenirs and even Swiss delicacies to their customers. I cannot say positively whether they have goats' milk for sale or not, or dried chamois meat, but they have everything else in abundance. The gipsies occupy a picturesque booth in one corner of the building, which is constructed of spruce boughs and embellished with blankets. It is in charge of Mrs. H. A. Price and Mrs. F. W. Sumner, who make most effective gipsies, with their gay dresses and wealth of flowing dark hair. They are ably assisted by Miss Forster and Miss Mamie Cooke, who make delightful gipsy maidens, and Messrs. J. H. Harris and W. D. Forster. A large Gothic booth at the right is devoted to the sale of ice cream, and it is well looked after by Mrs. H. S. Bell with the Misses Robertson and Thomson as aides de camp. The flower booth, which is idyllically ornamented, is presided over by two fair maidens who resemble flowers themselves, in their pretty costumes, the Misses Nicholson and Holthead. The Kandy Kitchen is also prettily decorated, and is in charge of Miss Crosskill, Miss Maggie MacLaren, and their benchmen Messrs. F. W. Givan and H. A. Biden. The palace of the Queen of Hearts, in which her majesty sells "some tarts" is cared for by little Miss Ethel Sumner, assisted by Miss Beulah Archibald as Knave of Hearts, and it is a very fairy-like palace indeed. An odd little booth is the little Bo peep which is in charge of Miss Ada Williams as little Bo-peep, and Mr. A. E. Wilkinson as Simple Simon. Miss Williams leads a lamb while Mr. Wilkinson fishes patiently in a pail for the proverbial whale, but brings different articles to the surface. The more substantial part of the provision for the inward man and woman, is attended to by Mrs. R. A. Borden, Mrs. C. W. Palmer, Miss Knight and Miss Mabel Wilbur. The opening last evening was very successful, the correct band was in attendance, and the number of people who visited the building eminently satisfactory. The fair will be kept open for two nights longer. Mrs. George McSweeney, who has been spending a month at Summerside, P. E. Island, with her mother, Mrs. John Lefurgey, returned home last week. Miss Romans, of Halifax, and Miss Smith, of St. Stephen, have been spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Cooke, of Steadman street. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stewart returned from their wedding trip last Wednesday; they were presented on their return, with a handsome easy chair by Mr. Stewart's fellow clerks in the I. C. R. stores department. Mrs. Stewart appeared in church on Sunday, and is receiving this week. Miss Robley, of Truro, is spending a few days in town, visiting her sister, Mrs. A. M. McRay. Miss Harris has been spending the past week in Halifax, the guest of her friend, Miss Dugan. Mr. Will Cooke's son of Mr. T. V. Cooke, general storekeeper of the I. C. R. spent several days in town last week, visiting his parents. Mr. Cooke has accepted a lieutenant's commission in the Canadian artillery at Quebec, and he left for the ancient capital on Monday. Mrs. Thomas Williams is somewhat better, in the last few days, and the prospects for her ultimate recovery are much brighter. The new mechanical superintendent of the I. C. R. Mr. Brown, arrived in town last week with his family. They will occupy Mr. Taylor's house, but are at present staying at the Brunswick. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wallace have leased Mr. S. F. Wilbur's house on the corner of Lutz and St. George streets, and will shortly take possession of it. The friends of Mr. H. A. Price, late private secretary of the chief superintendent of the I. C. R. are congratulating him on his promotion to the position of assistant general passenger agent, lately vacated by Mr. Lyons. Mr. Geo. M. Ryan spent Thursday in town. CECIL GWYNNE.

AMHERST.

[Progress is for sale at Amherst, by George Dugas and H. A. Hillcoat.]

Nov. 9.—It seems a little past the hour to again refer to Miss Dunlap's wedding, but the reception at Bally Hooly was such an important part of the brilliant event that I cannot refrain from special mention. The spacious parlors and large ball room scarcely look prettier. Gorgeous festoons of autumn leaves and rosettes were hung in profusion with just enough moss and ferns bunched in nooks and corners to make the effect complete, besides giving just the proper tone of color to set off the lovely toilet worn by the tall and graceful bride with wondrous beauty as she stood receiving the congratulations of her guests, among whom were wearers of elegant gowns that were quite lost to view in the densely packed church. The great number of very costly presents gave evidence of the bride's popularity. The groom's present was a pretty good watch and from the near relatives several quite solid cheques as well as solid silver beside a goodly number that awaits them in Port Huron. The brides going away gown was of olive green cloth with hat to match. After the guests bade farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Smith and wished them all the joy imaginable, they made merry the fleeting hours in honor of the return of Mr. Frank Dunlap who came from Summerside to attend the wedding. A large number of guests were from other towns, Truro taking the lead both as to number and stylish gowns particularly the one worn by Miss Sutherland and that of Miss Ross. Miss Dunlap was very handsomely dressed in a rich toilette of heavy grey brocade satin which color seemed to be next in favor with black. Among the many guests were Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Moncton; Dr. and Mrs. Truman Acadia Miles; Mr. and Mrs. Spence, Port Elgin; Mr. and Mrs. Clarke River Philip; Mrs. and Miss Webster, Shediac; Misses Aitken, Parsboro; Mrs. and Miss Smith, Halifax; Col. and Mrs. and Miss Blair Nappan; Miss Hyde, Miss Dunlap, the Misses Ross, Misses Sutherland, Mr. Fulton and Mr. Longworth, Truro. Those of Amherst were Dr. and Mrs. Hewson, Mayor and Mrs. Dunlap, Prof. and Mrs. Sterne, Miss C. Wilson, Miss Sleep, Miss McCully, Miss Black, Miss McKinnon, Miss Purdy, Miss Rogers Miss Prude Mrs. Tremaine, Miss Embree, Miss Brown, Mr. C. Clark, Dr. McQueen, Mr. R. Embree, Mr. A. S. Ford, Mr. J. Lushy, and Mrs. J. Lushy. Miss Smith remains the guest of her friend Mrs. Tremaine. The Misses Ross are the guests of their uncle Mayor Dunlap, and Miss Hyde and Miss Dunlap are still at Bally Hooly to brighten the loneliness that has come upon the place. Miss McLeod is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wykoff Rogers, Rupert street. Miss Pauline Bell, Sackville was in town a few days this week. Miss Nellie Palmer, of Sackville spent a few days with Miss Lowerison. Mrs. W. T. Pipes and Miss Grace and Fannie have gone on a short trip to Halifax. Mr. A. W. Bateson has returned from an extended shooting expedition, and judging from the generous donations conferred upon his friends, game must have been abundant. Mr. J. M. Townshend has returned from the Capital. MARK MALLOW.
