The death of Mrs. Alpheus Palmer who had been ill for some time took place here on Saturday morning. The deceased lady was much respected. She leaves a husband and a family, all grown up, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon and was very largely attended. Rev. Leander Palmer of Lynn, Mass. and Mr. John Palmer of Boston, sons of the deceased and Mrs. Weiden of Woburn, Mass., her daughter, were present at the last sad rites.

Another death and one which every one here will hear of with deep regret, is that of Mr. Millard F. Kempton, which took place on Tuesday morning at the home of his father, Dr. Kempton of Wallace, N. S. The deceased young man for over a year occupied the position of book-keeper for Hickman & Co., and by his kind obliging disposition and quiet demeanour won the respect and friendship not only of his employers, but of every patron of the establishment. About two months ago his failing lungs forced him to give up his position and return home, and since then he has been slowly passing away, a victim in his twentieth year to that hardest of all diseases, consumption. A beautiful memorial wreath has been forwarded by his young friends here, with expressions of their heartfelt sympathy with the parents, brother, sister of their deceased comrade.
