A huge crowd of spectators visited the Wanderers' fair on Saturday evening last. Some came for bargains, some to be present at the drawings for the various lotteries, and the great majority from curiosity. The suite of drawing room furniture was really very handsome, and it was unfortunate that it did not fall to some one whom it would not have been more or less of a white elephant. Its winner, Mr. G. S. Cooke, has offered it for sale at a bargain, having a ticket in it, who went away sadly disappointed at not having won it for their future home. The bed room furniture, which was really very light and pretty, fell to Miss M. Treen, Applehurst, Dartmouth.

The excitement grew intense at the end of the evening when the pool was about to close for votes for the most popular booth. The only three out of the twelve which really worked to head the list were the Oriental, the Grecian, and the Japanese booths, which, to the astonishment of many people, came out in the order named. There is no doubt that this voting for the most popular booth is a most lucrative thing at a bazaar; but there is also no doubt that it is apt to give rise to some ill feeling, not so much because of the booths themselves, perhaps, as between their supporters, among whom party feeling ran high. The sum netted by the W. A. C. C. was a considerable one, but not perhaps what it should have been when the serious expense to draw the money taken at the door, and only on the last and last evenings could the crowd be said to have been really overpowered. The expenses of the bazaar were some two thousand and odd dollars, and I hear two reports as to the gains, one of which puts them between two and three thousand dollars, and the other at the low figure of one thousand. It is to be hoped the former and not the latter is correct.

Saturday's lacrosse match between St. John and the Wanderers was so pretty a sight that it having so few spectators it is regretted. We have so little lacrosse here, comparatively speaking, and it is such a capital game for lookers on, that the small number of people who turned out to see Saturday's match seems almost unaccountable. That the ladies present were so few however, may really be set down to the bazaar. With few exceptions all the friends of the W. A. C. C. had been so hard at work for them all the week as to be unable to find time to get out to the grounds.

There was a small dinner at Government house on Saturday evening, the only festivity of which I heard.

On Friday evening last the officers of the R. A. and R. E. gave a supper to some thirty of the ladies who were selling at the bazaar, which number included all those in the Japanese, Grecian and Oriental booths, augmented by the husbands of the married ladies, Sir John and Miss Ross and Major Ferguson, and the married officers of the R. A. and R. E. and their wives. Supper was served at the Artillery mess at half past ten; no late hours were kept as most people were so very tired, and the carriages were hired and ordered at half past twelve. At the ladies were in the fancy dress worn at the bazaar, which was in most cases very becoming. Mr. Enthoven, R. E. A. C. had been in London, and left for England on Monday for a leave of some three months.

It is to be regretted that Mrs. Ryan, the charming and popular wife of Col. Ryan, R. A., leaves Halifax permanently at an early date. She goes to Ireland, where her home is, and where she will be joined by Mr. John Ryan, who is earning on the family place.

On Monday afternoon, Lady Hopkins gave at Admiralty house, quite the best garden party I have had there for some time. It was to begin with, really a garden party, not merely a tea held in a hot and crowded room, from which a few daring people made now and then an excursion into the grounds. Lady Hopkins received her guests in the garden, where the band of H. M. S. Blake was playing. Some people played tennis, some walked up and down, and the majority went in with much vigor, for "Aunt Sally." At a little after five, people adjourned to the house and had tea. The day had been threatening but but delightfully fine by five o'clock, which added very much to the success of Lady Hopkins' pleasant and well arranged party.

There were a great many pretty frocks and hats to the tea, pink being the most prevalent of the bright colors worn. Mrs. James Morrison looked particularly well in a dress of this color, trimmed with quantities of guipure lace. Mrs. Hamilton, who is one of the new arrivals of the naval world here and has not long been married, wore perhaps the prettiest dress of the day. It was a peculiar combination of warm gray with the palest straw color and was exquisitely and becomingly made. Mrs. Griffiths, wife of Fleet Surgeon Griffiths, looked very handsome in black, which was also worn by Lady Hopkins. A great deal of fancy green dress, trimmed with bands of green and gold. Mrs. Fleet wore a very smart tailor made gown of this color, blue plaid. Mrs. W. Duffus another of brown tressed with orange. Miss Unwin was looking very well, but quite the prettiest of the unmarried ladies present was Miss Slater. There was, by the way, a noticeable dearth of brides of this season, and also of navy men. Indeed to the casual eye, and to the majority of masculine guests seemed to be clerical men. There were very few soldiers.

Most people had been on reaching home after Admiralty house, and went about eight to the promenade concert at the public gardens. The evening was warm and pleasant, but there was not the crowd in the gardens which would have been there had fireworks been one of the attractions. Both bands played very well, especially that of the Leicestershire regiment. I heard only of one small supper after the concert.

The ladies of the different churches have entertained the visiting clergy of the Church of England Synod which has been in session during the week at lunch every day at the Church of England Institute. The congregation of St. Luke's, to understand the entertainers on Monday; that of St. Paul's on Tuesday, and so on through the various city churches. Ladies from various congregations assisted each day in the waiting upon the clerical gentlemen; and the luncheons provided were, it goes without saying, excellently cooked and served.

The town is flooded this week with members of two of the learned professions, brought here respectively by the Synod and the annual meeting of the Maritime Medical Association. The latter organization seems to be dividing its time pretty well between business and pleasure. After the morning session on Wednesday, the opening day, some of the visiting medical men were entertained at luncheon at the Halifax Club. In the afternoon all the association were guests at Mrs. Daly's garden party, which was indeed, given for them; and after the evening session, on Tuesday, the visitors were entertained at supper at the Halifax hotel by the members of the medical profession in Halifax. On Thursday afternoon they were invited on board the Blake and the other men of war by their confederates in the navy, and were also taken for a short sail up and down the harbor. Among the medical men, of St. John, at present in Halifax are: Drs. Walker, Daniel, Travis, Murray Maclearen, and Christie, while Dr. Bayard is expected. Dr. Walker is accompanied by Mrs. Walker. Dr. and Mrs. Curry, of Fredericton, are also here, and Dr. and Mrs. Kelly, of Bridgewater. A dinner was to have been given to the pupils by his Grace the Archbishop, after which tea and ices were served, and there was an exhibition of some of the really exquisite needle work and embroidery done by the young ladies.

One of the prettiest of the yearly entertainments ever given in Halifax is that of the closing exercises at the academy of Mount St. Vincent. The room used on such occasions is always so well arranged and decorated, the appointments of the tiny stage on which the young ladies are seated, all in white frocks, across whose spotless faces the light from the colored windows throws a shade of lovely pinkish blue, form an ensemble not easily rivaled. Many of the prominent people of the town had been asked to this pretty and interesting gathering, forming, with the families and friends of the pupils, a large and delighted audience. After the various exercises had been read, there was some very nice music—piano, violin and voices—the piece de resistance among which was the overture to Tannhauser, rendered by five pianos, five violins, and two organs. The prizes were presented to the pupils by his Grace the Archbishop, after which tea and ices were served, and there was an exhibition of some of the really exquisite needle work and embroidery done by the young ladies.

I regret to hear that the family of Captain Stairs have decided to accept as final the following telegram, received by the London Morning Post of June 29th concerning the fate of their relative: "ZANZIBAR, June 20. The Katango expedition, which was commanded by the late Captain Stairs, has arrived here. Since the death of Captain Stairs and Captain Bodson, the sole survivors of the expedition."

Successors to A. STEPHEN & SON.

101 and 103 Barrington Street, - Halifax, N. S.

dition are the Marquis de Beauchamp and Dr. J. Moloney, who will leave for home as soon as possible.

No particulars have been received as yet, but all hope seems to be now extinguished. Dr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick have returned from their wedding journey and are installed in their pretty house in Morris street. Mrs. Kirkpatrick will receive her friends on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

Dr. and Mrs. Curry have arrived at their residence in Pleasant street. I understand that Mrs. Curry will also be "at home" during the first days of the coming week.

On Wednesday at two o'clock the marriage took place at St. Andrew's church, of Mr. H. Nugent-Fyfe of Jamaica, and Miss Lithgow, daughter of the late Mr. J. Lithgow. The bride was charmingly dressed in ivory colored bengaline, very beautifully made with an excessively long train. She wore a small wreath of orange blossoms under her tulle veil, and carried a very large bouquet of white flowers. Her sister Miss E. Lithgow was her only bridesmaid, and wore one of the prettiest dresses possible. The color of it was a very lovely shade of biscuit or pink, something like a new rose which has lately made its debut in the floral world. Miss Lithgow carried a bouquet of pink roses with a good deal of green, and wore the arm of her fiance, Mr. Guy Hart, who was best man.

Some brilliant toilettes were worn by the wedding guests, among whom one of the best dressed was Mrs. M. A. Curry nee Miss F. Robertson. She wore an exquisite gown of old blue, which was very becoming to her pretty complexion and charming figure. Mrs. Harley also looked very well, in pale pink with lace. Mrs. W. Curry wore gray; the mother of the bride was in black with delicate flowers in her bonnet. There was a good deal of pale heliotrope worn, one very striking dress of it having a transparent golden yellow and brown, which was both odd and pretty. One lady wore a very bright yellow dress, trimmed with white and red, and another looked very well in the church. Mrs. Henry Bauld and Mrs. A. Bauld were both very well dressed, as was Mrs. Arthur Curran. Miss Annie Lithgow, cousin of the bride, wore white. Several people went on after the breakfast at Mrs. Taylor's to the garden party at Government House, thus making their pretty costumes do double duty.

The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe were very many in number, one of the handsomest given to the bride of pearls and diamonds, and a pearl and diamond bracelet, both of which were gifts of the groom. There was an unusual amount of silver presented. Mrs. Bauld went on after the breakfast at Mrs. Taylor's to the garden party at Government House, thus making their pretty costumes do double duty.

The officers of the Leicestershire regiment gave a capital dance Thursday evening. A very good floor, plenty of men, and the excellent music supplied by the band of the regiment formed the best of foundations for a successful and pretty dance. The decorations of the mess room, which was used for dancing, were unusually pretty, and the sitting rooms carefully and comfortably arranged. There were some good dresses worn by the guests, and I thought the ladies of the regiment looked very well. Individually they are none of them exactly pretty perhaps, but they are all, with one exception, tall, and all good looking. Among them, Mrs. Bauld was especially well dressed. A great many Halifax people were absent from this dance on account of the continuation of the fair at the fair grounds.

Col. Laue, who was so well known here while serving as military secretary to General Lord Alexander Russell, and who has since been one of the Duke of Cambridge's A. D. C.'s, has, I see, obtained another good appointment, one which will probably please him, as it keeps him in London.

MRS. GILMORE. JULY 6.—The meeting of the synod of the church of England, taking place last week, brought to number of clergymen. Rev. Charles Wilson, of Springfield, addressed the congregation of Christ Church on Sunday morning, asking their aid in establishing a cottage hospital at Springfield for the miners.

At the closing exercises of the Halifax county academy a number of Dartmouth young ladies distinguished themselves. Miss E. Lithgow, daughter of the late Mr. J. Lithgow, was the winner of the first prize for her poem entitled "The Song of the Great Exhibition," and Miss Ruth Simpson for her essay on "The Uses and Abuses of Imagination."

The Misses Robinson returned from Tuesday on a visit to Fredericton. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Moore McDonald in the death of their second daughter, May, after only a few days illness.

Mrs. Kennedy will, I understand, spend part of the summer at the "Ritchie house" here, while Mr. Kennedy goes to Montreal to fill the position of manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, of that place; where Mrs. Kennedy will remove in the early autumn.

Miss Morten is the guest of Miss Mills, Granville Ferry.

Mr. and Mrs. Trappell, of Windsor, made a short visit, the guests of Mrs. H. A. West.

One Secret of Success.

One secret of success in Flower Gardening is to buy plants that have been transplanted and thoroughly hardened off by exposure to the open air.

OVER 1,000,000 Bedding & House Plants in Stock

Nova Scotia Nursery, Lockman St., Halifax, JAMES H. HARRIS, Manager.

It is characteristic of the House to have only the very best, and never deal in what is known in the trade as cheap instruments. It is characteristic of the House never to ask fancy prices (as some dealers do, and come down if they have to.) Every instrument is marked in plain figures at actual selling prices, which is always the lowest, consistent with quality and a fair living profit. By these, and other strict commercial methods, I have built up one of the largest, if not the largest, retail Piano and Organ trades in the Dominion.

I was awarded a special diploma at the late Provincial Exhibition for the best exhibit of Pianos, consisting of: Chickering, Knabe, Bell, Dominion, Mason & Risch and Newcombe.

AMHERST. [Progress is for sale at Amherst, by George Douglas and H. A. Hillcoat.]

JULY 6.—The "benefit concert" given Prof. Barnaby by his vocal pupils last Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. hall was not the financial success hoped for by the enthusiastic promoters of the undertaking. The very short time at their disposal prevented it being generally known. It however, was the means of manifesting a thoroughness in their work which must have been gratifying to their teacher. The programme comprised several new selections and was rendered with individual style and finish that was very pleasing.

At the close of the concert the fingers, with a number of other guests, repaired to the Terrace hotel to partake of the sumptuous dinner given by his host and friends, which would certainly have been the plus ultra in that line had it not been overshadowed with the thought of his near departure. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. N. Curry, who was elegantly attired in a belvedere gown, trimmed with silk of a lighter shade. The other fair guests were: Miss Tighe, who wore a Louis the XIV. costume of green velvet and fastidious lace; Miss M. Tighe, white serge; Miss Lowther, cream and pink chaille; Miss Gates, pale blue crepe with satin trimmings; Miss Purdy, white cashmere and satin; Mrs. M. Purdy, white lawn and lace; Miss Miles, black velvet and lace; Miss Campbell, cream lace; Miss Wilson, black silk draped with lace; Miss Dunlop, flowered chaille; Miss Hinson, cream nun's veiling and surah; Miss Shaw (Halifax), white chaille; Miss Hyde (Truro), black satin, trimmed with lace; Miss Cutler, black silk, en train.

The gentlemen were Dr. McQueen and A. Purdy (to whom the guests were indebted for the evening's pleasure), A. W. Bateson, C. Parry, C. Black, N. Curry, R. Douglas, A. Dunlap, Dr. Hall, L. McLarren, J. McLean, and Mr. J. Curry. Mr. J. Curry, H. Bide and Mr. Barnaby, who responded to the toast by Mr. N. Curry, "The host and the ladies," in such glowing terms that he might easily pose as an orator of experience.

A delightful dance took place on Thursday evening in Greenfield hall in spite of the intense heat that was rather depressing. It was got up by a number of Miss Giska's dancing pupils. As a fitting close to the course of instruction, ice cream and cool drinks were in constant demand, happily the young men who were on the committee seemed to have provided an inexhaustible supply. Marked improvement was very observable in the dancing, particularly the waltzing of the young "Lords of creation." Miss Giska was dressed in black satin lace, a costume which became her admirably. Mrs. R. Pugsley, Mrs. Handford, Mrs. Hinson and Mrs. Brown, I would suggest, to suggest a better from among such a bevy of youthful aspirants, who enjoyed the evening so heartily, and will think the time long until the autumn course begins.

On Friday evening Mrs. Handford gave a small party to Miss May's most intimate friends, who gathered, despite the rain, to participate in the dancing which they never fail to enjoy at the home of the above hostess.

The little folk have not been in the background during the past week and the prospect is that they are to have an exceptionally lively summer. If all the five o'clocks and picnics materialize that are planned, the summer will be a very successful one. Mrs. Hickman, Ratchford street, and Mrs. Strathairn, Havelock street.

The friends of Mr. J. McLeod, who was so severely hurt a short time ago, will be pleased to hear that he is slowly recovering.

Mr. J. Pugsley, who has been suffering from poor health for some weeks, has returned from Ottawa to his native home, where his friends hope soon to see him looking better. He is at present the guest of his brother, Mr. R. Pugsley.

Mrs. Fullerton and daughter Grace have gone to St. John for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. De Angiera are spending a few days in town. They are at the Royal hotel.

Rev. Mr. Wiggins, Sackville, conducted the service in church on Sunday evening, in the presence of the Rev. V. E. Harris, who is expected home today.

Mrs. D. C. Allen and her mother, Mrs. McQueen, of Point De Buie, returned yesterday from a few weeks visit to friends in P. E. I.

Miss Anne Hickman, who has been in Europe for quite a time returned home last week.

Miss Nelson of Truro, is visiting her aunt Mrs. E. L. Fuller, Havelock street.

Saturday's fair brought Miss Pringle home again from the capital where she has been for several weeks enjoying a charming visit with her friends. Strawberry festivals are monopolized society at present. A very successful one was held last Friday evening in the basement of the new R. C. church, which was largely patronized, although the evening was very unpleasant.

Another will take place tomorrow at Fort Bedford, where the ladies of the church are in aid of the church of England. A great many of our young ladies have been invited to assist in serving the tea.

Donation day passed away very quietly, it seemed wholly devoted to pious which went in every direction, and in many cases unprepared for the gentle rain that seemed to have a very great aversion to that sort of pleasure this season, and an invitation to a picnic, so far, has been a sure forerunner a down pour.

The Baptist church in company with the A. M. band go to Cape Tormentine on Saturday to enjoy their annual picnic. It is such an inviting spot that it will be a certain success unless the elements turn as usual.

The Misses Main entertained a few friends on Friday evening in honor of Miss Ethel Forman of Londonderry, who has been their guest for the past fortnight.

I owe Mr. Sterne an apology for my previousness of last week and regret that the announcement was unfounded.

MANLY MALLORY.

PARRISBORO. [Progress is for sale at Parrisboro Bookstore.]

JULY 6.—Donation day was a gala day. Proceedings began with the polymorphous parade at an unearthly early hour. Bunting was profusely displayed and all day the streets were crowded with people from the country who came into town to spend the day. The refreshment tables and amusements at the rink provided by the members of St. Bridget's congregation, were well patronized and a large sum of money was raised.

Mrs. Morrow of Halifax, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith for a few days last week, will be in Parrisboro on Saturday.

Master Cecil Townsend is at home from Lennoxville for the holidays. Master Harry St. George came with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore of St. John, are visiting Mrs. Gilmore's parents.

Miss Alice Aikman arrived from Toronto on Thursday.

Miss Miss Kilham left this morning for two months visit in Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Price entertained a large party of Miss Kilham's young friends on Thursday evening. Rev. T. Gibbons went to Halifax on Thursday to attend a meeting.

Mr. S. W. Smith has been suddenly summoned to Windsor by the very serious illness of his father.

Miss Harris, of Cornwallis, is visiting at Capt. Howard's.

Mr. James Gillespie returned yesterday with his bride and was serenaded in the evening by the cornet band of which he is a member.

To-day a large party of excursionists came from Mailland by steamer, and have been walking and driving about since their arrival, evidently enjoying their outing to the utmost.

Dr. Macdonald is in residence in his new house. His family came from Amherst this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Young and Miss Gantier, of Newville, are in town today.

Miss Truman, of Sackville, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth.

Queen Hotel, HALIFAX, N. S.

WE have much pleasure in calling the attention of Travellers and Tourist to the fact that the QUEEN has established a reputation for furnishing the best and cleanest bedrooms, and the best table and attention of any hotel in the maritime provinces, if not in all Canada. The QUEEN contains 139 rooms, and is fitted with all modern improvements, including bath-rooms and w. c.'s on every floor. The parlors attract a great deal of attention, as nothing superior in that line is to be seen in Canada. The cuisine has been made a specialty from the first and amply justifies its reputation. One visit will satisfy any one as to the superiority of this Hotel.
