SEPT. 20.—The appearance of the Pheonix rink on Thursday and Friday last, the occasion of the Grand Kirmess or National Fair, arranged and carried out by a number of Yarmouth ladies and gentlemen, was more attractive than on any former occasion; the arrangement and representation of the booths as symbolic of the different nations being especially good. The ground floor being sufficiently large, all the booths, with the exception of the English were below the stairs, while that, the Gipsy camps, Mrs. Jarley's Wax works and Shadow Pantomimes were Jarley's Wax works and Shadow Pantomimes were above in the first gallery. Beside these there were numerous "side shows," more particularly attractive to the juveniles, etc., and a lemonade well with its usual Rebeccas, which by the way was a departure from the indispensable fountain, and was an exact imitation of an old fashioned rural well with its wooden archway, and both it and its attendants Miss May Crowell and Miss Smith, Shelburne, looked yery picturesque.

Russia, under the management of Miss May Davis looked especially inviting with its ice cream tables so well arranged, that notwithstanding the hedge of frost-coated fir trees surmounting an inimitable snow wall, a large number of persons found their way within, and not only enjoyed the cream, but admired the interior with its draperies of national color and furs setting off to advantage the wait-resses, Miss Davis, Miss Wetmore and the Misses

Gardner, who appeared in national dress.

Next came Italy, under the management of Mrs.

J. D. Medcalte, represented by a canopied fruit stall. The root of the stall was hung with draperies of the national colors, green being conspicuous, hop vines and bunches of grapes, making a very artistic combination. Behind the fruit sellers, Mrs. Medcalte and Miss Munro, was an Italian shield and several musical instruments peculiar to that nation, while the stall itself with its elegant dishes of uscious fruit on beds of fresh moss, tempted the Prance was a very pretty booth with its fancy confectionery so daintly and temptingly arranged, and was also one well patronized. The flags and colors were draped exceedingly well, although the latter were so arranged that at the first glance one received the impression of a United States national drapery, whereas the reverse (the French tri-color) was intended. The many lighted tapers gave a very attractive appearance to the wares, and also very attractive appearance to the wares, and also made a pretty foreground for the ladies in charge, Miss Nellie Crowell and Miss Cutten.

The band stand which was erected and trimmed with numerous flags for the occasion formed a dividing line between France and United States, the one on the west and the other on the east of the

The latter was, with the exception of Canada, the prettiest of the booths. Its democratic emblems were well arranged and the effect of the whole charming. Miss Mary Johnson and Mrs. Chambers were in charge, and although their wares were not very expensive, their profits were large. Con-spicuous among the emblematic decorations was a large spread eagle which added largely to the re-

The managers of the Japanese booth, Miss Kate Burrill and Miss Julia Cain, are to be congratulated on the result of their painstaking and effective work, for this booth was particularly pleasing as well as odd. The whole was in the form of a summer house, the roof and sides being lattice work formed of natural autumn leaves. The interior was green, hung with Japanese ornaments of every description, conspicuous among which was a large umbrella conspicuous among which was a large umbrella hung with lanterns, which made very attractive the two sellers in their Japanese dress, and brought out the colors of the beautiful bouquets for sale, and which were in themselves sufficient decoration.

Norway was immediately opposite Japan, and was also a very pretty stall. The whole booth was formed of fish net, which was very symbolic both of the nation represented and the occupation of those in charge, Miss Alice Allen and Miss Cann, whose time was quite taken up with attending to the "fish time was quite taken up with attending to the "fish pond," the delight of the younger portion of those present. Both sides of the booth were decorated with rocks and moss, and the whoie very pretty an

Canada was, I think, the best gotten up of all the booths. In its form and outside arrangements, it resembled Russia, one being on either side of the main entrance. But aside from the distinct lettering on its white background naming the nation, no one could mistake the representation shown in the immense bark cance with crossed oars hung immediately over the entrance, a stuffed but very natural moose head, thrust out from among the spruce trees, and a huge brown bear, all of which are so peculiar to our nation. Miss Eva Johnson, Miss Ada Murphy and Miss Agnes Muir was in

In the gallery the only represented nation was England, a very cosy and inviting drawing room for tea, coffee and cake, served by Miss Belle Webster, Miss Kate Christie and Miss Mary Kelley. Everything here was tasty and pretty, an effect produced by the skilful arrangement of rugs, curtains, pictures and other parlor accessories, although the rink was rather warm for much indulgence in that line, much as one might be attracted by the pleasing interior.

Miss G. Lovitt, in charge of the Gipsy camps, had a very pretty assortment of baskets and other straw

The "Shadow Pantomimes" drew large audiences, but as shadows are rather indefinite we were as much in the dark concerning the performers as we were during their performance. The singing of the three numbers, "A Summer Shower," "Clemen-tine" and "The Devoted Apple" was well executed, as was also the dramatic skill pictured on the

The actors in Mrs. Jarley's wax works were more easily recognized as Miss Laura Lawson, (Mary Quite Contrary); Miss Helen Clements, (Little Bo-Peep); Miss Gussie Gray, (Milk Maid); Miss Margaret Moody, (Old Mother Hubbard); Miss Lennie Wyman, (Red Riding Hood); Master Richard Cartwright, (Irishman); and Master S. Hatfield, (Chinaman). Mr. P. St Clair Hamilton and Mr. T. V. B. Bingay, in charge, were themselves, in their unique costumes, good "figures." selves, in their unique costumes, good "figures."
