[PROGRESS is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Ralph Trainor and at the book store of G. S. Wall in Calais at O. P. Treat's.]

DEC. 14 .- In spite of the rain on Thurday evening, wedding bells rang out joyfully, and Christ Church was filled to its utmost capacity, with wedding guests to witness the marriage of Miss Annie Victendant enjoyments occupy everyone's time and toria eldest daughter of Rev. O. S. Newnham to Dr. thoughts. The "Waltzing Club" still keep up its J. Melville Deacon of Milltown. At eight o'clock Dr. Deacon, accompanied by his groomsman, Mr. R. W. Whitlock, came from the vestry and stood in the nave of the church at the foot of the chancel. The grand old strains of Mendelosshon's wedding march sounded from the organ, when the bride entered the west door, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Fred S. Newnham, of Canso, Nova Scotia. They were preceded by the ushers, Messrs Frank Murchie, John W. Scovil, George Topping, and Herbert McLain, who carried gold and white wands ornamented with bows of white satin ribbon, and were followed by the bridesmaids Miss Rosa Bradnee and the Misses Edith and Florence Newnham.

the two young sisters of the bride. When the bridal party reached the chancel steps, and the last tone from the organ had ceased, Rev. Canon Roberts, of Fredricton, began the marriage ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, who also pronounced the blessing. Canon Roberts came purposely from Fredricton to perform the marriage ceremony, the bride being a special favorite of his. The bride, who is a pretty bright brunette, looked exceeeingly charming, in a bridal costume of white crepon, richly trimmed with lace, and rosettes of the crepon; she wore a veil of talle, and wreath of natural lilies of the valley, and carried a magnificent bouquet of bride roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Rosa Bradnee, was attired in a pretty gown of pale pink cashmere, trimmed with pink silk cord, and pale pink roses. She wore a large pink silk hat which greatly enhanced her fresh, bright beauty, and carried a lovely bouquet of La France roses.

The two little bridesmaids, Misses Edith and Florence, looked very fair and sweet, in dresses of pale pink, with Tam O'Shanter caps of white plush edged with white fur. They carried baskets of bon

After the ceremony there was a reception at the Rectory. At half past nine, the bride left the reception-room, to change her bridal dress for her travelling costume, which was of navy blue broad cloth, with trimmings of black leather, with hat to match. The pair then left on the train for a wedding tour to Boston and New York city.

The tollettes worn by the guests were very elegant, but space forbids me from describing them. Mrs. Newnhan, mother of the bride wore a handsome dress of a dark garnet color, with vest of cream colored silk, and bonnet of garnet velvet Friday last. Mr. O. A. Barbarie, Mr. A. J. Venner, Mr. F. W. Daniel, Mr. James Murray, Mr. F. W. Anderson, Mr. Fairey and Dr. Doherty had a delightful evening and are looking forward to the next and eream colored lace. Mrs. Deacon, mother of the groom, was attired in black silk beavily trim-
