J. W. Allen - - - - Dartmouth, N. S. Society is evidently preparing for a very gay summer by having a very dull spring. There is absolutely nothing going on and anything that does happen along is a boon to those who wish to enjoy themselves. It a good company came to the Academy of music during these dull (socially) times, they would make a fortune. Anything would be taken advantage of for people must have amusements. Such an entertainment therefore as the entertainment to be given by the amateur minstrel and variety troupe of H. M. S. Emerald, given as it is for such a good charity, will be sure to draw more than crowded houses. The charity for which it is given is one very deserving indeed, the relief of the widows and orphans of those fishermen who recently lost their lives in Trinity bay disaster in Newtoundland. It shows the kindness of heart of the sailor in getting up such an entertainment in Halifax associated as it is with Newfoundland, and anyone understanding the perils and dangers of a fisherman's life will, no doubt, rise to the demand, and while being amused by the excellent performance will have the satisfaction of knowing that their money is going to a charity of which they themselves are cognizant. This is in contrast to the entertainment lately given by the Leicester hospital in England, an institution which I believe is not in the want of funds, and certainly not in need of funds drawn from a country like New Scating especially as that institution is emy of music during these dull (socially) times, certainly not in need of funds drawn from a country like Nova Scotia, especially as that institution is situated in the midst of the wealthiest district in all of wealthy England. I hope, therefore, that all Halifax will turn out in the best of form in support of this entertainment got up by the enterprise of the sailors and under the patronage of their captain. Commodore Sir Baldwin Walker Bart.

Entertainments by soldiers and sailors are always good. Who can forget the excellent minstrel show good. Who can lorget the excellent minstrel show given by the gunners of the Royal artillery over a year ago? They had some excellent men, the chief one being Gunner Watters, who is as good an end-man as I have had the good fortune of hearing. Let us hope that they will in the near future give us another such show. another such show.

The first meeting for the season of the Miniature Rifle club took place on Wednesday at the range in the citadel ditch. This club is in an exceedingly flourishing condition, and is now under the management of a very energetic and popular secretary, Mr. Marsh, R. A. The club started the season with a large membership, which will no doubt be increased before the season is over. It has been stamped as fashionable, and therefore the applications for membership will be many. Many ladies belong who do not shoot but simply go and have tea although the whole atmosphere is serious and no frivolity is allowed when the shooting is going on. Dr. and Mrs. Grear will be much missed. Mrs. Grear was one of the best shots in the club and could always be relied on for a good score.

A match with Bermuda is to come off shortly by cable. There has been a rifle club in Bermuda for many years, in fact that is how there came to be one in Halifax. The best shot amongst the ladies of Bermuda is Miss Mary Gray, who can, I believe, make at least six or seven "bulls" running. Could not the young ladies of St. John start such a club? There must be many ladies who could easily learn to handle a rifle, and if I mistake not, some of St. John's belles have visited the Halifax range, but I don't think they took any active part in the proceedings. A rifle match between Halifax and St. John would produce much excitement and Another club is in the process of reorganization, namely, the Garrison Polo club. The first meeting took place on Friday for the purpose of arranging took place on Friday for the purpose of arranging matters. So many of the most ardent spirits have gone away that it will be hard to replace them. Major Maycock has taken Major Mayusell's place at the head of affairs. But it will be hard to fill up the places vacant by Capt. Jenkins, Capt. Young-Baltman, Major McConnell, Mr. Stewart and others. Amongst the new recruits, although not new hands the second of the standard Capt. Duffus. Mr. at polo, are Capt. Alexander, Capt. Duffus, Mr. White, and Mr. Haycock. It would be a pity if the club was allowed to die. Here is a thing that St. John might copy likewise, and start a polo club. They could get enough men to put it on a good create much interest.

I believe the "S. P. C." is in a flourishing condition, and I certainly know that it does much good. There are two things I would like to bring to their attention. First, the fact that sometimes no extra horse is put on the street cars on the north-west extension up Duke street, even at the most busy time of the day when the cars are crowded with people going home to their dinners. At first they used to have an extra pair of horses attached to a kind of trolly. I do not know why this was given up. Street cars at any time are the height of cruelty, and the sooner electricity is substituted for horses the better. I often see some old lady or perhaps, young lady ston. often see some old lady or perhaps young lady stop a crowded car on a hill, who would hold up her hands with horror at the thought of a cock-fight and who would say that polo and racing were cruel sports. The other thing is that there is only one drinking trough in the whole of Halifax for horses and that one has had no water in it for six months. This is a state of affairs that could easily be remedied at very little expense. See to it then ye S. P. C. or anyone else who has a kind and charitable Fishing salmon and trout, has been the order of the day, and everyone who could possibly get away has gone. The Lieut. Governor has been away all the week with, I believe, very good luck indeed.

Major Brady has killed the largest number of salmon, although Mr. McGowan, R. A., and Mr.

11ay ock, Leicestershire regiment, follow him profity

Mr. J. D. Ritchie and Mr. Boyd spent last week at Masons, but only succeeded in landing one salmon, deserving better luck, however, for the energetic way in which they set to work.

The next walking party of the "Society Walkers" is to be on a larger scale. The party is to go to Rocky Lake by train, and from there walk to Bedford, dine and come home by train. The expense of these outings is increasing and probably will increase—up to a certain point the last one cost about $4.00 a head, and this one will certainly cost more than that.

Surgeon-Captain and Mrs. Barefoot arrived last week on the Damara, they intend going into house-keeping and have taken the house lately occupied by Capt. and Mrs. Alexander, who have moved to Major Ferguson and Mr. White, A.D.C., are expected on Monday, and will be in time to meet Sir John Ross, who returns before May 24th.

MORRIS GRANVILLE.

A parior concert in aid of the building funds of the Tabernacle baptist church was held at the residence of Mr. J. W. Hickman, 295 Brunswick street, on Tuesday evening. The large parlors were comfortably filled with an audience prepared to be indulgent listeners, but before the first number were comfortably filled with an audience prepared to be indulgent listeners, but before the first number was finished they settled themselves to the enjoyment of a high class concert, and were not disappointed. The programme consisted of some fifteen numbers, of which the collection was one; and this being No. 13, was announced in some very happy remarks by the gentleman who presided. The quartette, "Rock of Ages," by Messrs. Morse, McDonald, Bremner, and McDonald; "Loyal Knight," by Mr. McDonald, and the closing quartette, "Vote of Thanks," were excellent; also the two recitations, by little Miss Emily Davis, the reading, "Lover's Sacrifice," by Mrs. Reeves, and "A Model Sermon," by Miss Fannie ———. The choicest numbers were, a piano duett, by Mr. and Mrs. Hobely, "All in a Garden Fair," Mrs. Lear, and "When the tide comes in," Mr. Gillis. Miss Elsie McDonald made a delightful accompanist. The sum of $38.00 was realized. The sum of $38.00 was realized.

Characteristic.

It is characteristic of the House to have only the very best, and never deal in what is known in the trade as cheap instruments.

It is characteristic of the House never to ask fancy prices (as some dealers do, and come down if they have to.) Every instrument is marked in plain figures at actual selling prices, which is always the lowest, consistent with quality and a fair living profit. By these, and other strict commercial methods, I have built up one of the largest, if not the largest, retail Piano and Organ trades in the Dominion.

MAY 10 .- The Busy Bees Baazar, on Wednesday evening last, was in every way a decided success. The hall was tastefuly decorated with greening, flags and flowers, and on a long table and tree was presented a choice variety of fancy articles. Those who took active part in preparing for the Brazar were: Miss Kate Watson, Miss Mary Bedell, Misses Annie and Mary Watson, Miss Louise Perley, Misses Edith, Maggie and Inez Tibbits, Misses Bertha and Emma Bedell, Misses Ethel and May Tibbits and Miss Barton. At intervals during the evening the audience was entertained with singing, dialogues, music, etc. Few were prepared for the surprise which awaited them, when the curtain was drawn back and disclosed to view a garden of sunflowers with young faces peering through the flowers, and each singing their different part of the chorus. The bugle song and tableau was effectively done. Misses Goldie and Haggerty of the K. I. Co. played several selections of the mandelin pieceles. and Haggerty of the Ref. 1.
