Fine Flour of the Entire Wheat.

WHAT IS IT?

It is a Flour of the Entire Wheat Kernel, except the woody, nutritionless, indigestible outer skin or husk, which is not a food. This husk is first removed, and then the entire good part of the kernel is reduced to an evenly fine and perfectly homogenous flour—a condition essential to the easiest and fullest digestion, and the most perfect assimilation into the system. Makes delicious, light, spongy Bread, Gems, Waffles, Muffins.

W. HILLMAN 87 Germain St. St. John.

St. John—South End.
On Friday last Mrs. James McAvity gave a pleasant drive for the young friends of her daughters, the Misses Emma and Reuby McAvity. A party numbering about 30 started from her residence, Leinster street, (filling two large sleighs) at eight o'clock, and drove for two hours, after which the young people returned to the house, where supper was in readiness. Dancing occupied the remainder of the evening.

On Saturday a snow shoe tramp was set up by Miss Warner. A party of about 30 met and snow shoed as far as Mr. Ketchum's house at Pokiak, where they picnicked, the ladies present having provided baskets of refreshments. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing various games, and the party started for home at eight o'clock, arriving home about ten o'clock. Among those present were Mr. Jack, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Grant, Herbert Street, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Sayre, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Grant, Miss Burpee, Miss DeVeber, Mr. F. H. J. Kuel, Miss Lillian Hazen, Mr. Hunsard, Mr. Hazen Hansard, the Misses Jones, Miss Adams, Miss A. C.
Thomson, Miss Warner, Mr. R. R. Ritchie, Mr. F.
Daniel, Mr. Kirkwood, Miss May Harrison, Mr. J.
Coster, Mr. F. Hazen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hazen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Hazen, left this week for Ottawa.

Miss Lillian Macrae, left on Monday for Ottawa, to spend a few weeks with friends.
Miss Grace McMillan has gone to New York to visit her friend Mrs. Washburn Sessions. Mrs. Carruthers at Kingston, Ont.
The many friends in this city of Mr. Gellibrand, nee Miss Nellie Dever, deeply sympathize with her in the loss of her little son, Thomas Dever, which occurred in England a few weeks ago, at the age of one year and ten months.
Hon. David McLellan and Mr. Arthur Trueman, left on Wednesday last for the West Indies.
Mrs. Edward Scary, Sr. (Halifax) is visiting St.
John.
Miss Agnes Thorne has joined the Church School at 141-143 N. S. and for there on Saturday with the other young ladies of this city, who attend it.

A very pleasant innovation in the way of evening entertainments was that given on Friday evening last week by Mrs. and the Misses Jarvis at their residence, Elliot Row, and what is termed conversation party. Between 25 and 30 was present, and each guest was, on entering the room, furnished with a card, one color for ladies and one for the gentlemen, on which were written the subjects they were to discuss, which were not some might inquire very odd and leading, but matters of every occurrence, which made the conversation particularly easy and pleasant. A bell rung every five minutes was the signal for a change of partners, and at the end of the evening each guest voted for the pleasantest companion, he or she had had, of the opposite sex. Miss Louise Adams, Miss Adams, Miss Vassie, Lily Markham, Lily Adams, Agnes Thorne, Mary Warner, Misses Thomson, Annie Smith and Jesse, W. Gilbert, Mr. F. H. J. Kuel, Perry Thomson, Sandy Baxter, W. Bowman, Kenneth Macrae, Will Lockhart, Perry Clark and others.

Miss Alice Butcher, of Queen street, entertained about thirty of her friends to a progressive whist party on Friday evening. After the whist playing dancing was enjoyed.
Invitations have been issued for a dance to be given by Mr. Walter C. Allison on Friday evening next, February 3rd.
I hear the bicycle club intend giving a dance shortly after Lent.
Miss May Blair, daughter of Hon. A. G. Blair, is visiting friends in Fredericton.
Mr. H. D. Lively, who has been so dangerously ill at his brother's residence, Rockland Road, is some what better.

The following young ladies left for the church school on Saturday last: Misses Mary McMillan, Lily Adams, Mame Christie, Lily Markham, Louie Jack and Agnes Thorne.
Mrs. Maud Puresley, who is lately leaving for New York on Sunday evening to take the steamer or Liverpool, but owing to Mr. Vassie being injured by a runaway accident, their trip has been indefinitely postponed.
The students of the Business College started on Saturday afternoon in Wordie's large sleigh, "starlight," and after a drive of three hours returned to the college, where they did justice to a supper prepared for them by the lady students. The party included Miss Hayes, Miss Wilson, Miss Hantley, Miss Charlton, Miss McGaffigan, Miss Estabrook, Miss Duke, Miss Paterson, Miss Keen, Miss Ingraham, Miss Lousie, Miss Kendal, Miss Cowan, Miss Northrup, Miss Coy, Miss Sutherland, Miss Mc-Kenzie, Miss Fowler, Miss Brown, and the Misses Steeves, Steeves, Macdonald, Reid, Ford, McNikin, Thompson, Keirstead, Marshall, Baird, Pringle, Thompson, Thornburn, Lynch, Brennan, Dakin and Young. Mrs. Davis catered the party, assisted by Pringle and Pringle.
The boys of Grade eight, Leinster street school, accompanied by some of their friends, hired the "starlight" on Monday evening, and starting at half-past seven o'clock, took a short drive around city, after which they drove out to Brookville, returning between ten and eleven to Washington's restaurant, where they were entertained at a hot supper, by Mrs. O. H. Warwick. After supper a short musical programme was rendered, and a very pleasant hour spent.

On Tuesday evening, the members of St. John the Baptist Temperance society, had a very pleasant drive. Starting from their new hall on Charlotte street, at the foot of Broad, they drove out to Brookville, and returning by Washington's restaurant, where they were entertained at a hot supper by Mrs. O. H. Warwick. After supper a short musical programme was rendered, and a very pleasant hour spent.

Major Markham left for Ottawa on Friday night; he formed part of the governor general's body guard at the opening of parliament.
Mr. H. Melrose has been making a visit to St.
Andrews.
