What will probably prove to be the last sleighdrive of the season was given by Mrs. James Morrow on Saturday last, and was as successful a party as could well be imagined. Some twenty sleighs met in Morris street about three o'clock, and drove to Herring Cove, where five o'clock tea had been provided. The road, contrary to expectation, was very good indeed, and the party returned to town about half-past seven o'clock. Among the guests were Sir John and Miss Ross, Mr. White, Colonel Rolph, Captain and Mrs. Tarrey, Major and Mrs. Reader, Major and Mrs. Bor, Judge Henry, the Misses Kenny, Miss Slayter, Miss Daly, Major Brady, Mr. Enthoven, Mr. and Mrs. Blackadar, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Morrow, Miss Ethel Stairs, etc.

Invitations were out for dinners every night this week, with the exception perhaps of Friday night, the raison d'etre of all this Lenten festivity being the departure of the Leicestershire regiment, which will probably spend Easter on board the troop-ship. Besides the dinners there have been several small teas for the ladies so soon to leave us. On Monday there was to have been a sleigh-drive, but the wet weather quite precluded all thought of it.

On Friday last Mrs. Brookfield gave a small dance for Mr. Frank Hope, who was here in one of the banks some years ago. The party was a very successful one, and much enjoyed by the very young and pretty girls who were its belles.

General Ryan, R. A., who leaves for England in the coming spring, is to be succeeded, I hear, by an unmarried man. Colonel Leach, who will succeed Colonel Hill, has only recently been married, and Mrs. Leach is both young and handsome.

Lord and Lady Clanwilliam whose parties at Admiralty House some years ago, were always so pleasant, have been giving a couple of very large balls at Portsmouth, where they are now stationed. Lady Clanwilliam who is a connection of Mrs. Robin Uniache and Mrs. W. Hill, wore at one of these balls an exquisite toilette of platinum gray satin, trimmed with white and gold.

I hear that Staff-paymaster Francis G. Dent, R. N., has received an appointment as secretary to Admiral Stevenson, on board the flag-ship Royal Arthur. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dent, (who was a Miss Borrodaile) have many friends here who will be glad to hear of the good appointment which has been obtained by the former. I hear that Mr. Dent is not unlikely to pay a visit to Halifax during the

The marriage of Miss Ethel Muir, (daughter of Brigade Surgeon H. S. Muir, formerly so well known in Halifax,) with Captain Rundle R. A. took place last month at the Garrison Church. Lucknow. Miss Muir was exquisitely dressed in White Irish poplin, made with a long train from the shoulders, and with an Empire bodice and white velvet sleeves and belt. In her bair she had diamonds and orange blossoms. Her four bridesmaids were dressed in white and green; charmingly cool the wedding party must have looked in so hot a climate. Miss Muir who visited her relatives in Halifax some years ago, made I hear, a very pretty bride. In appearance she somewhat resembles her mother, who was a Miss Wier, of this city.

On leaving the church the bride and groom passed between two lines of Sergeants of the Royal Horse Artillery, and under the "Arch of steel" formed by their drawn swords. For their honeymoon Captain and Mrs. Rundle were lent a rajah's palace, with the use of his horses, carriages, and servants.

Mr. White A. D. C. and Mayor Ferguson, are going very shortly on leave to Florida, where they expect to find some sport. I believe it is pretty well certain that Sir John and Miss Ross will leave for England in May. They will be very much regretted and no matter how pleasant the new people at Bellevue may prove, it must take some time before they make themselves so popular as are the present occupants of that hospitable house.

Among the passengers on the Vancouver last Saturday were Mr. Edward Stairs and Mr. Edward Macdonald, the health of the former taking them to Wiesbaden, not East Baden, as one scribe had it.

Rather an extensive programme in the way of dinner parties was laid out for this week.

On Tuesday evening Sir John Ross gave rather a large dinner at Bellevue house, intended I believe as a farewell attention to Mrs. Reader, Mrs. Black adar and other ladies leaving in the Trooper. Invitations were also issued for Thursday evening, when a second and rather smaller party was on the eards at the same popular house; the guests of honor at which, were to be Colonel and Mrs. Hill.

Invitations had also been issued for a large dinner at Government house on Wednesday evening, a farewell to a lady who has been very well known, very energetic, and very popular, during her sojourn here. Mayor and Mrs. Reader have been esteemed hospitable to a large circle of Halifax people, and are now reaping a harvest of goodbye entertain-

Entertainments on a Saint's day are always proper, ne matter what they may be on a Friday in Lent. The Leicestershire regiment did wisely then in asking the world to tea at Wellington Barracks yesterday afternoon, the last function there will be there until the new regime begins. An account of this party must wait till next week, as Friday entertainment are too late for PROGRESS.

The dinner which celebrates St. Patrick's day has been postponed by the Charitable Irish society until Monday the twentieth, when it is to take place at the Halifax hotel. Other dinners during the coming week are those to be given to the Leicestershire regiment by the officers of the R. A. and R. E., and some of the members of the Halifax club. The first of these two takes place on the twenty-third. It is not quite certain when the Leicestershire are to sail, but probably not till the end of the month.

Bishep Courtenay arrived last Friday from Boston, to the surprise of his flock, though greatly to their delight. He preached on Sunday to large congregations. Mrs. Courtenay is, I believe, in New York where she will make a short stay. Miss Courtenay is meanwhile keeping house for her father.

Celonel and Mrs. Hill arrived in Halifax on Thursday last, and on Monday of this week Mrs. Hill was at home to visitors at the residence of her parents, Captain and Mrs. Clarkson. Mrs. Hill, who wears her new honors very charmingly, was looking very well indeed in a smart toilette, which boasted a good deal of Indian embroidery. Colonel and Mrs. Hill stay at their own house, however, until they bid good bye to Halifax.

If any one is looking for an opening in the way of charity the managers for the Halifax School for the Blind will be glad to give them an opportunity of working for an excellent cause. It appears that Baby's Croup is Cured by Hacknomore.

there are all through the provinces people who having lost their sight late in life, are cut off from all occupation, and are unable to attend the school in this city to be taught to use their fingers as eyes. The School for the Blind has not means at present to send its graduates out for the home teaching of these saddened lives, and to raise money for this it is proposed to set on foot a very clever and original

A Doll's Carnival is to be held in the Assembly Hall of the school about the twenty-fourth of May, if people will take up the matter, at which there will be dolls dressed in the costumes of all nations; dolls dressed to represent scenes from "Mother Goose" and to illustrate familiar nursery rhymes and fairy tales. This Carnival, or Exhibition, is to be shown in fifteen or more towns, of course visiting St. John, and wherever it appears a doll's bazaar will be held

People here are taking much interest in this good and kindly idea, which has as its object the greatly increased happiness of many people, who are deprived of that priceless thing-eyesight. Mr. Fraser is to be congratulated on his energy, for a great quantity of work must be done to make this series of bazaars a success.

Apropos of bazaars, that of the Masonic body is not to be held until Angust, and the men and ladies interested in it are taking every possible means to make it a success. The designs for the dresses to be worn in the various stalls are coming from England, and the ladies representing Virgin Lodge, have decided on white and silver as their colors. One of the attractions promised is a game of "living whist" like the more familiar "living chess." For this alone, forty of the prettiest of Halifax girls and young married women are required, which gives some idea of the scale on which this collossal bazaar is to be done. The ladies of St. John and St. Andrew's lodges are to wear gold and cream color.

The private afternoons at the rink are drawing to a close, and they have been so admirably managed by this year's committee that it seems only fair to say so. Of course they have not had to struggle with the tea question, that refreshment having been most kindly supplied by the subscribers themselves in turn. Sir John Ross sent tea last Friday, Mrs. Clarkson and Mrs. Morrow on Tuesday. There will be one more band day if the ice keeps in fit condition Of course they have not had to struggle

At the children's carnival on Tuesday evening one of the prizes offered for the best dresses present, was won by Master Kenneth Sheraton, who was dressed as a jockey. Mr. and Mrs. G. Morrow and Mr. Rupert Greenwood were the judges, and they awarded the girls' prizes to the Misses Oldham and Birdie.

The Doering Brauer concert drew a large audience on Tuesday evening, in spite of other attractions. Herr Doering played as he always does, and Miss Burdinge was encored in her solo. She is not the artist Miss Homer is, but has a very pleasing stage presence.

[PROGRESS is for sale at Amherst by George

MAR. 15 .- Among the events of interest to us I think I may safely add the pleasan' social gathering of a large number of the congregation of St. Alban's church, Fort Lawrence, on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lawrence. Without doubt the most enjoyable part of the programme, generally speaking, was the tea served, a specialty, by the way, that Fort Lawrence ladies are credited with, and justly so, if they always serve as bountifully as on this occasion. It may be surmised that their pastor, the Rev. V. E. Harris, was the happiest guest present when toward the close of the evening he was presented with a well filled purse, accompanied by the best wishes of all present. Mrs. Harris was the recipient of several very pretty and useful gifts from the ladies who promoted the event, which was certainly a most agreeably managed affair, affording great pleasure to all present, among whom were Mrs. Bliss and Miss Morse, of Amherst, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harris.

The death of Mrs. Howard occurred on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Moffat, Church street, where she has made her home years of great suffering, borne with very great pati ence. Much sympathy is felt for the family, who are so widely scattered in their time of grief. Two daughters live in British Columbia, and the eldest son has made his home in California for the past five years on account of poor health. Mr. J. K. Howard of Amherst, Mrs. Moffat and Miss Howard were present to comfort her in her last illness, and accompanied her remains to St. John, where they were taken to be placed by the side of her husband. Mr. Howard returned home on Saturday. Mrs. Moffat made a short stay with her sister in the city and arrived home on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Dickey, who has been in Ottawa on a lengthy visit, arrived home on Saturday, to the great delight of her family and friends in general. I am sorry to learn that she is not enjoying the best health after her journey.

Miss Miles who has been visiting friends in Truro for a few weeks past returned to Amherst on Friday

Miss Theressa Hays, of Dorchester, spent a few days in town last reek, the guest of her friend Mrs. W. D. Douglas, Victoria street. Mrs. Harris made a short visit to friends in Dorchester last week. Mrs. E. J. Lay and little daughter arrived home on Friday evening after an absence of three months spent with relatives in Annapolis county. Her return is hailed with delight by her friends and the "principal" seems to looking in on the bright side of life once more.

Congratulations are being literally showered on Mr. and Mrs. Wykoff Rogers on the arrival of a fine

Among to-day's arrivals is that of Dr. Hall, who has been absent upwards of a month visiting various towns in Ontario.

A most charming "pound party" was held at the house of Mr. C. Donkin, Spring street, Friday evening. The proceeds were for the mission society in connection with the Methodist church. There was a very large attendance and every article went for full value much to the delight of the fair contributors. One very zealous gentleman who evidently believes of soap of choice make, presumably 'Surprise.', After the purchases which caused so much m riiment were over with, refreshments were in order.

Mrs. J. Botsford Black returned home on Monday. Miss Marr, of Moncton, is the guest of Miss Phelan. Miss May Handford has gone to pay a visit to Miss Pauline Beil, of Sackville.

Miss Addie Betts, of Wentworth, who has been visiting Mrs. Heustis, returned home on Monday. Dr. and Mrs. Eaton, of Parrsboro, spent Sunday in town, with Mrs. Eaton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rogers; they returned home on Monday evening. Miss Lowerison, and Mrs. Thorne, St. John, have returned from a very pleasant visit to their sister, Mrs. Fawcett, in Sackville.

Mrs. J. A. McQueen, and Miss Chapman, of Dorchester, are spending a few weeks in Amherst. On Wednesday evening, a very pleasant party was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coates, the Highlands, in honor of their son Sanford. The games were very pleasantly taken part in by the merry guest, and a very nice evening was spent by those who were fortunately present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansan, of Pictou, have returned to Amherst, to visit her friends. Mrs. Avard, of Tidnish, is the guest of Mrs. J.

Rogers, Victoria street. Mrs. D. W. Douglas, has been the hostess of the week, giving a large and cheery afternoon tea on Tuesday that was a very smart event. The weather was rather out of keeping for very fine toilets, but the ladies managed to look well, and above all, to fully enjoy all things offered by the gracious hostess. Among those who added freshness by new costumes were, Mrs. Sterne, in a very handsome suit of dark, apple green, that was very stylish; and Mrs. Allen, in a charming suit of light grey, with hat to match; the other guests were, Mrs. Ketchum, Mr. Purdy, Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. W. D. Main, Mrs. Biden, Mrs. Etter, Mrs. Hanford, Mrs. Lithgow, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. George Hilcoat, Mrs. Grouse, Mrs. McKinnon, Mrs. Munro, Mrs. C. Bent, and Mrs. C. Smith. Mrs. Lamy, Miss Purdy, and Miss Bennett assisted the hostess, who wore a very pretty gown of black satin and brocade. This evening she will serve tea to a large number of young guests, the friends of her little niece, Miss Annie

Mrs. C. W. Main, left on Thursday evening, en route for Boston and New York, in search of spring novelties. She was accompanied by Mr. Jeffrey Main, who has gone to Poughkeepsie, to take a course in business college.

Mr. Harry Lusby, leaves tonight for a trip to Boston, it is hoped it may not be very long, as he is a very valued member of the band, who propose her friends at a conversazone and afternoon tea on seeing him off in proper style.

law, who died suddenly on Tuesday. The Savannah Minstrels left town on Monday for Port Mulgrave, Canso, Sydney and North Sydney, calling at Hawkesbury, on their return. As they are first class performers, no doubt their trip will be pleasant and profitable. Success to the boys.

Mr. N. D. McTavish a former principal of the High school here, paid us a flying visit last week. Mr. R. O. Christie left Tuesday evening for Boston to visit his parents who are at present residing in that city; he expects to be absent about a week. Misses Katheleen and Lillie Leahy of Halifax, are in town having come up to sing at the St.

Patrick's concert, on Friday evening. They are the guests of Mrs. E. Fuller. The lecture on Monday evening, by Mr. Heber Haslem, was fairly attended greeable state of the weather. Mr. Haslem has evidently travelled extensively in the Canadian Northwest and his lecture which was given under the auspices of Pioneer lodge, P. W. A., was much enjoyed. The proceeds go into the fund for a memorial monument. Lectures seem to be a sort of epidemic here this week as there was another on Tuesday by A. J. Cox, of Halifax, on Astronomy. This last lecture left nothing to be desired, except perhaps the absence of the talented lecturer, according to whom there is no trouble at all in taking a little trip to Mars and hob-nobbing with the possible inhabitants. It took Mr. Cox precisely three hours and 10 minutes to exhaust his knowledge of this interesting subject, although I fully believe that like Tennyson's "Brook" he would have endeavored to "go on forever" (or at least all night), but that as midnight drew near there was a general exodus and he deemed it advisable to wind up. The social at the baptist parsonage on Tuesday evening was well patronized although there were one or two other entertainments going on in other parts of the town.

Miss Maggie Dick, who has been confined to the house for a few days with a severe cold is able to be around again. Miss Susie Murray's friends will be sincerely glad to know that she is much improved but still very weak. Mr. A. Dick returned from Halifax on Tuesday
