OUR BRAND IS A GUARANTEE OF PURITY.

E. G. SCOVIL, Agent Pelee Island Grape Juice:

My family have received great benefits from the use of the "Pelee Island Grape Juice" during the past four years. It is the best tonic and sedative for debility, nervousness and weak lungs we have ever tried. It is much cheaper and pleasanter than medicines. I would not be without it in the house.

Yours, etc.,

St. John—South End.

Mrs. W. L. Busby, who has spent the winter in the States, has returned home.

Miss Grace McMillan, after a few months' visit to New York, has returned home.

The following relatives of Miss Robinson came to St. John this week to be present at her marriage on Wednesday: Mr. and Mrs. J. Macdonald (Halifax), Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allison (Sackville), Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Y. Smith (Dorchester), Mr. and Mrs. Morris Scovill (Hagerstown), Miss Scraph Spurr (Annapolis), and Mrs. John Robinson (Fredericton).

Mr. Fred Rawlins, who was accidentally shot a few days ago is somewhat improved, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The friends in this city of Mr. A. C. Thomson, of the bank of Montreal, will regret to hear he is seriously ill at his home, "Fernwood," Halifax, with an attack of pleurisy.

Mr. H. V. Cooper, who so successfully drilled the young ladies who took part in the tournament drill at St. Stephen's church entertainment, was presented on Monday evening by them with a handsome brooch.

Mr. W. Z. Earle left for Houlton, Maine, on Monday last, which for the summer will be his headquarters during the railway survey. Mrs. Earle will remain in the city some weeks to visit her mother, Mrs. Edward Symonds, Peters street.

The marriage of Miss Susan Beverley (Pat) Robinson fourth daughter of the late Major W. B. Robinson and Mr. Percy Cunliffe Powyes, eldest son of the late Captain Powyes, of Fredericton, was solemnized in Trinity church on Wednesday evening at half past five o'clock, in the presence of a very large and fashionable congregation. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Brigstocke, rector of Trinity church, the church in attendance and rendering the chants, amens, and hymns.

Punctually at the appointed hour the bride entered the church with her brother, Mr. John B. Robinson, who gave her away. She was followed by two bridesmaids, her sister, Miss Mollie Robinson and Miss Eleanor Powyes, sister of the groom. The bridegroom was headed by her little niece, Miss Gretchen Allison and her little cousin Master Lancelotti Robinson, the former being dressed in white china silk and large hat to match, carrying a basket of flowers while Master Robinson wore a black velvet suit, the two making a very pretty picture.

The bride, looking particularly well in a gown of rich white corded silk trimmed with pearls, the large puffed sleeves and bretelles being of white velvet. She wore a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a large loose bunch of white roses. The first bridesmaid Miss Robinson was most becomingly dressed in corn color crepe with puffs of velvet of the same color on the sleeves, black chip hat with pinnies.

Miss Powyes wore a similar dress of pale grey with a black chip hat. They both carried bouquets of roses.

The room was attended by Lieutenant A. H. Macdonald of the Infantry school corps, Fredericton, while Messrs. W. B. Robinson, Arthur Thorne and Arthur Thorne acted as ushers. Only the relatives of the bride and groom were invited guests, though numerous of their immediate friends were permitted to pass the white ribbon which was stretched across the middle aisle of the church.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the residence of Mr. Robinson, Broad street where refreshments were partaken of after which the bride and groom took the nine o'clock train for St. John where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride was the recipient of numbers of most elegant gifts in silver, china, and fancy work. Conspicuous among them were, Mrs. J. Macdonald's handsome painted screen, Mrs. J. R. Armstrong, silver dish, Mrs. E. Scovill, centre piece and d'oyles, Canon and Mrs. Brigstocke, brass clock, Mrs. H. V. Cooper, silver coffee spoon, Mrs. Powyes (England) solid silver salt cellars, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Y. Smith, davenport, Mrs. F. Allison, clock, Miss Powyes, silver tea pot, the Misses Bayard, china plaque, Mr. Arthur Thorne, silver cake basket, Mrs. Thorne, silver salt cellars, Mrs. Brydone Jack, silver spoons, Mr. T. W. Lee, five o'clock tea set, Mr. De Lancy Robinson, silver lamp, Mrs. Barclay Robinson royal Worcester vases, the Misses Crookshank, royal Worcester biscuit jar, Miss May Robinson, Mrs. John Robinson, silver pin, bonbon dish, Mrs. J. M. Robinson, chair, Mr. Hastings, silver fork, and many others which it is impossible to enumerate.

Mr. and Mrs. Powyes will reside at Kingsclear, Fredericton where Mrs. Powyes will be welcomed by as many warm friends as she leaves behind.
