The social obsequies of the year were celebrated at the pleasant dance given by Sir John Ross on Saturday night. It was an exceedingly pleasant dance. Everyone seemed bent on enjoying them selves; and the fact that an old year was gasping out his few last breaths did not tend to make the company either sad or mournful. At sharp twelve, or to be exact, one minute before that hour, the valse was suddenly broken off and Auld Lang Syne substituted; every one joined hands in a circle and sang with spirit. Seldom have I seen such a pretty sight, but it was sad withal, for looking round the circle one could not help but be struck by the fact that all would never meet again on a like occasion, and that when the present new was an old year, those composing this gathering would be scattered to the four winds of heaven. Such, however, is Halifax society-it comes and goes, it ebbs and flows, but on it goes forever. The supper was very sensible. Hot things are more suitable for New Year's Eve than a cold "collection," the latter at any time being injurious to the soul. Although there were no new dresses to be noticed, still many of the old ones had received a touching up in the way of velvet and of sleeves. Many of the dresses were, however, exceedingly pretty and becoming. I could not help noticing how well Mrs. Longe and Mrs. Trowbridge looked. Miss Uniacke also looked very well, as did Mrs. Alexander, Miss Ross and Mrs. Edward Kenny. The dance broke up sharp at twelve, so that Sunday and the new year were not very old before everyone was at home and in bed.

Mrs. I. Taylor gave a very pleasant dance on Friday (Dec. 30th). It was small, and chiefly confined to young people, but it was more than enjoyed by everyone there, as is, in fact, anything given by the pleasantest hostess in Halifax.

Sad was the lot of the visitor, sadder was the lot of the hostess on Monday; rain, rain in torrents, nothing but rain. Some ladies sat at home along side a beautiful array of cake and sweetmeats, strong drink and tea, but alas they came not and many sat there the whole afternoon hoping against hope. The most popular of hostesses had only four or five, one lady rose as high as eighteen, but that is remarkable. The gentlemen, or at least a few of them went to the Levees and then returned home in a damp and dewy condition. It was a question whether New Year's day visiting did not receive a great blow on Monday. It was just at a critical time, if it had of been a fine day and sleighing, there are many gentlemen who have not been out for many years would have started off, done a lot of visits and New Year's day visiting would have been saved. But the rain came in torrents, and instead of the custom going up it went down and was washed away in a sea of mud.

After the depressing effect of the day, it needed some lively entertainment during the evening to lift the veil of gloom which covers most things and most people. There were therefore many little gatherings and most of them being cheerful and joyful, the rain was forgetten and the horrible hide ous night-mare of new year's day was remembered no more. The dance given by Mrs. Charles Wilde was the most pleasant of these gatherings. It was given in honor of her son Dr. Wilde of Westville who has been here spending his holidays. Only young people were asked but it was the brightest, cheeriest dance given for many a long day.

On the same evening a most enjoyable dance was given at Mrs. John F. Stairs for the little ones, his daughter Miss Geraldine being "at home."

On Tuesday a dance was given by Mrs. Edward Farrel, Morris street for the young ladies and gen. tlemen who have not quite come out, but who enjoy their dances as much or even more than their brothers and sisters.

At last after many years, Halifax is to have a fancy dress ball, or rather a calico ball. The idea has taken at once and a large number of tickets have already be sold. It is to take place on January 25th, at the Masonic Hall, and the ladies organizing it hope to make a grand success of it. The object is charity, but the charity seems restricted. The hospital at Leicester, England, and the church hospital here, will not ap , " to a large majority of people. Both may be deserving characters, but all the same, neither will have the drawing faculties of many another charity, of a more general character, It is supposed to he a calico ball, but I hear that uniforms are to be allowed and that dress clothes can be worn provided something is done to them in the way of calico facings, etc. The ladies' dresses are to be entirely calico, and no doubt will be very pretty and dainty, but it is hard for a man to deck himself in calico unless he goes either as a nigger minstrel or a cook. The tickets are to be $3.50 for gentlemen, and $1 50 for ladies. May the ball be a grand success and may every one be there in new eostumes, is the sincere wish of MORRIS GRANVILLE.

Jan 3 - The chief social event of the week was the ball given by the members of the Yarmouth brass band. It passed off very pleasantly, and was pronounced by all to be the most successful one that has been given in Yarmouth for some time. The floor was in a good condition and the hall tastefully decorat d with flags. The music furnished by Mr. Medcalfe's Orchestra, was excellent. The young ladies all looked their best and it was hard to tell on whom to confer the honor of being the belle. But I think it might justly be divided between Miss Susie Bown, Miss Alice Eakins and Miss Lydia Kıllam. The tollowing were among those present :-Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Spinney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eakins, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dane, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKisnon, Mrs. J. D. A Christmas tree, and entertainment, was held in Margeson's hall last Wednesday evening, for the scholars of St. Jame's Sunday school, which was said to be quite a success. The hall was filled with the parents and friends of the children, and the following programme pleasantly carried out: A Christmas carol, by the Sunday school, "Waken Christian children." Next, a piano duet by Mrs. Barclay Webster and Miss Coy, the organist. A recitation by little Mazie Stewart; entitled, "When I am a grandma," and was deservedly encored. A dialogue and play-" A Christmas dream," in which nearly all the children took part, and which was a very pleasing, and pretty programme throughout. This was followed by another Christmas Carol-"Carel sweetly Carol," by all the children. Next a piano duet by the Misses Wood, which was well executed. A recitation, by Master Beverly Webster, which brought a loud encore. The closing carol "Good Christian men Rejoice," sung by all tribution of gifts from the Chris mas tree, by Santa Mr. and Mrs. George Lavers left for Halifax, Claus. This; with the presenting of some prizes by the teachers of the Sunday school, formed the closing, to a very pleasing entertainment, for both children and adults. A Christmas tree entertainment was also held last Saturday, for the children of the "Mission School", Pine Woods. At which some sixteen or eighteen
