The little concert got up for a charitable purpose by a few ladies of well known energy in such good works, and at St. Luke's Hall, on Saturday evening, was a great success. The little hall was filled by a very smart and appreciative audience, and a substantial sum of money was realized by the unambitious and well carried out entertainment.

I have heard lately much grumbling from various people with pet charities at heart, on the score that Halifax people will not give to any object unless they get an evening's amusement for their twenty-five or fifty cents. This may be, but I doubt if there is any other town in Canada. where so many entertainments in aid of charity are so well supported.

On Saturday evening Miss Clarkson made what will be probably her last appearance before a Halifax audience. It is probably to be regretted that on her marriage she leaves the place. She will be greatly missed in musical circles.

The weather has intervened to stop the triumphant course of the dally sleigh drives which have been going on in every class of society.

On Wednesday afternoon the Leicestershire Regiment were to have had a short drive, with a tea at Wellington Barracks afterwards, but the roads proved so exceedingly icy and dangerons that it was decided to postpone it.

One of the pleasantest of small dances was given this week by Mrs. J. Symonds. This is probably the very last dance we shall have before Lent, which descends upon us this coming week.

This week there has been an unusual number of card parties, even for a place so devoted to cards as Halifax. On Monday evening there were two poker parties, on Tuesday three, and later in the week two on the same evening. But besides these mild festivities there has been very little doing. Bellevue House has been closed as Sir John and Miss Ross, Mr. White, A. D. C., Major Ferguson, Major and Mrs. Waldron, etc., have gone to Montreal for the carnival. I hear that in consequence of the illness of Lord Stanley's sons, and the departure of their mother to New York en route for England, Sir John and Miss Ross will not make their intended visit to Rideau Hall but will return here from Montreal direct. (Later reports states that Lady Stanley will not proceed to England, her sons' health having improved.—ED.) * * *

Mrs. Alexander and her sister Miss May Ross, leave in the latter past of this month for England. Captain Alexander will remain here. Surgeon-Major Lees-Hall will also be a passenger in the same steamer. Mr. and Mrs. G. Dodd, of Yarmouth, are making a short stay in Halifax.

The Rev. Kenneth Hinde is also here for a short

The community was sadly surprised on Wednesday morning at hearing the news of the sudden death of Mr. Alexander Anderson. Mr. Anderson had been for so long an invalid, bearing his daily load of suffering with patience, and always welcoming the friends who went constantly to see him, that his death was almost as great a shock to his acquaintances as if he had been a man in perfect health. For Mrs. Anderson, who has for years been his untiring and devoted nurse, great sympathy will be recently gone to live with their parents, having spent the years since the beginning of their father's illness with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R.

There is to be an organ recital at St. Paul's church on Tuesday evening next, and I hear that Mr. Hutchings has provided a very interesting programme for it.

The next Orpheus concert, too, is from all accounts to be a very good one. The Orpheus hall, by the way, was occupied in rather a novel way in its history, by the Salvation Army on Tuesday evening.

The opening of the school of cookery has not yet been officially announced, owing to the illness of the teacher, Miss Ormond. I hear that there will be evening classes for servants, and for women who are too busy to attend in the day time, or do not wish to become regular subscribers. Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Courtney are both much interested in this school, and it is to be hoped it will be a financial success, as well as an occupation for society during lent.

Prince Victor Duleep Singh, so well known in Halifax and reports of whose financial wreck were at one time current, has triumphantly surmounted his embarrassment, and is at present spending his winter between London and Monte Carlo.

Miss Clarkson's wedding, quiet as it is to be, will be quite the event of the next week, as it is to be a "white welding," the prospective bride has every one's best wishes for a fine day.

There is every prospect of next summer being an exceedingly gay one in Halifax. Many reasons will tend to make it so, a new regiment, a new commander of the force, although no one could possibly do more for the gaiety of Halifax than does the present commander, and the visit of some representative of the Royal Family, who will pass through here on his way to the World's Fair at Chicago. Halifax will then have as lively a summer as she has ever had. The World's Fair, however, will do a great deal to injure Halifax; the Americans, who came in sence. Every good citizen of the United States to spend his money, will not betake himself to Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, but will hie himself to Mr. W. T. Pipes. The booby prizes which were Chicago, where he will see all the kingdoms of the quite out of the ordinary and very amusing were earth spread out before his view.

As long a time as two weeks ago immediately after the death of the late Bishop of Massachusetts, of Miss Florence, a very pleasing young hostess, I prophesied that the Bishop of Nova Scotia | who was untiring in her efforts to make her young would go to Boston and do duty till another Bishop had been appointed. As every one knows my prophsecy has come true, and it seems doubtful if we shall see the Bishop back for sometime if at | Parish House is a very requisite article at present, all. Meanwhile the diocese of Nova Scotia is with- and by the way they have recently come to the point, out a head and may remain for some time in that they don't propose to let very many months go by tunate condition. prospects of over 100 members for the coming year. During the speeches after dinner the question of better roads came up. It was agreed that the road between Halifax and Bedford was the worst in the country, considering the amount of driving that is on it. It was suggested that the club petition the local government for a grant to fix the road, and no doubt this would have good results especially if the coal royalties "pan out" the ways the government expect them to in the coming year. FEB. 8-The pretty suburban residence of Dr. and Mrs. Hewson, on Victoria street, was the scene of an unusually bright and pleasant progressive whist party on Wednesday evening. The hostess included married and single in her list of guests, who numbered upwards of fifty, just enough to fill the spacious and tastefully furnished drawing rooms in a way that gave no anxiety regarding the welfare of cherished trains.

Led by the friends they have made during their three years' residence in town.

Miss Morrison, of St. John, is visiting her brother Mr. J. H. Morrison, Crescent avenue.

Miss Miriel Morse went to Moncton on Monday to attend a dance and returned on Tuesday.

Rev. V. E. Harris has gone to Londonderry to attend the deanery meeting. Rev. Mr. Gale of Truro, conducted the services in Christ church on Sunday, also the afternoon service in St. Alban's cherished trains.

Mrs. Hewson, in a very pretty gown of black satin and lace, looked particularly nice and entertained charmingly not overlooking the genial doctor, who always looks well and is a capital host.

Black gowns, as usual, had the monopoly, many of them were very prettily relieved with a happy touch of color. Particularly noticeable among the a handsome silver service. matrons was Mrs. Harry Tremaine in a most becoming gown of pale blue silk and M1s. The first prizes which were very pretty were captured by Mrs. Noel Steele and won by Mrs. Bliss and Mr. Moran. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Hewson entertained at six o'clock tea a large number of the young friends guests happy, and succeeded admirably if merry faces go as evidence. The ladies of Christ church have concluded that a the recently organized guild held a sociable at the residence of Dr. Bliss last Thursday evening, which was a success in every way. The entertainment was carried out principally by the younger members, in charge of Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Ketchum, concert they were pleasantly surprised to find that a goodly number of their Amherst friends would form a part of their audience.

The young ladies of the "national drill" were chaperoned by Mrs. Munro, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. C. Low and Mrs. McKinnon. The performers were delighted with the well arranged hall and above all with the large and appreciative audience that greeted them on such a stormy and intensely cold evening. An event of interest to Amherst society occurred on Wednesday last at three o'clock at the Experimental Farm, Nappan, residence of Col. and Mrs. Blair. Their second daughter Miss Carrie was given in marriage to Mr. Morley Pike, son of Rev. this year than last, probably about September 1st and the St. John bicycle club will be asked to send guests were present, mostly relatives of the bride, who I was told looked very nice in a going away gown, when seen at the station at Maccan, where the happy couple took the train for the sunny south. After visiting several cities of interest on their journey they intend spending a few months with the groom's parents.

Miss Purdy, who has been paying a lengthy visit to her friend Miss Simms, at Niagara, also to friends in Toronto, returned home last week.

Mr. Nicholson accompanied Mrs Nicholson and children to Halifax on Friday last, where the latter took passage for her home in England. Mr. Nicholson expects to leave for the Northwest, possibly to Vancouver, in search of a suitable location. If he is successful Mrs. Nicholson and family will join him next summer. Their departure is much regret-ted by the friends they have made during their

Mr. J. C. Chisholm went to Antigonish last week on a pleasant mission of importance, which resulted in Miss McDonald returning with him as Mrs. Chisholm, on Saturday evening, much to the delight of his numerous friends, who are pleased to welcome him as a benedict. His employer, Mr. D. T. Chapman, and employees of the firm, presented him with

Mrs. Calhoun and son, Mr. William Calhoun, of the Terrace Hotel, left last week for a trip of several weeks to South California to visit her brother, Dr. Wallace. Miss Emma Wallace, of Hillsboro, will remain at the Terrace during their absence; also Miss Katie Grouse, who will remain until spring to study painting with Mrs. Munro.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hillson will give the largest dance that has been enjoyed here for a very long time. B. band gathered at the depot on Friday evening en route for Sackville to give a more rearranging, but pity the belles who feel it incumbent upon them to appear in a new and stylish gown for each function, beside taking in all the number of set vities that are to take place before Lent. In some unaccountable way I overlooked in my notes of last week the very pleasant afternoon tea given by Mrs. W. D. Douglas, which was well attended. Although the day was exceedingly cold the outside atmosphere was quite forgotten in the pretty and comfortable parlors with the affable lesses. [PROGRESS is for sale in Truro at Mr. G. O. FEB. 8.-Miss Mattie Jones returned last week from her trip to Boston, she is accompanied by her sister Miss Mab. Jones.

Miss Flora Hyde returned from her visit among Halifax friends, last Friday.

Mrs, Harry Crowe was "At Home" two evenings last week, Wednesday and Friday. On Wednesday evening, the eight tables of whist, were mostly composed of married people. Those present were: Mrs. Thos. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dickie, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Laurence, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Tremaine, Dr. and Mrs. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Archibald, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. S. Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dickie, Miss Main, Doctor Muir, Messrs. W. D. Bowers, J. D. Bowers, Geo. Hall, Doctor Yorston. Mrs. Harry Harding won the ladies' first prize, a handsome volume of Milton's poems, gentlemans' first, a paper knife was won by Mr. Martin Dickie. Supper was served at half past eleven. Mrs. Crowe received her guests in black silk and lace.

On Friday evening, Mrs. Crowe's second card party proved one of the brightest of the season, the interest in the game being very lively; Miss Llora Hyde was the fortunate winner of the ladies' first prize, a handsome feather fan; gentlemen's first, fell to Mr. D. B. Cummings, a gentlenan's laundry list; Miss Calkin won the ladies' booby prize, and Dr. Hall, the gents. Those present were :- Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cummings, Miss Dimock, Miss Starratt, (Boston,) Misses Hyde, Miss Allen, Miss Archibald, Miss Tremaine, Miss McKay, Miss Pratt, Miss Crowe, Miss Calkin, Mrs. Stevens, Miss Bent, Miss Black, Miss Snook, Miss Rettie, Miss Yorston; Dr. Hall, Dr. Kent, Dr. Yorkston, Mr. Will Crowe, Mr. E. R. Stuart, Mr. George Hall; Messes. Bowers, Tabor, Fraser and L. Crowe.

Miss Dimock, who has but very recently been again accepting invitations, was looking very well in a beautiful toilette of brown silk, brocaded with white flowers. Miss Starratt wore a most becoming gown of cardinal silk. Mrs. Crowe, who is a very charming hostess, was ably seconded by her mother, Mrs. D. M. Dickie, whom everyone admires so much. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickie, left for their home in Canard, on Monday last.

Miss Maggie Ross gave a whist party on Saturday

Those present were Mrs. Stevens, Miss McKay, Miss Bent Miss Sutherland, Miss Hyde, Miss Llora Hyde, Miss Allen, Miss Mary Sutherland, Miss Aikmen, Miss Spike, Dr. Walker, Dr. Kent, Messrs Geo. Vail E. R. Stuart, A. R. Fulton, W. D. Bowers, A. H. Vernon.

Miss Ross, was looking unusually well in a toilette of grey silk and trimmings of apple green velvet; with the exception of Miss Sutherland, the ladies were all quietly arrayed. Miss Bent won the ladies first prize, a handsome paper weight, Doctor Kent, gent's king prize, ink bottle. The booby prizes which excited much merriment were won respectively by Miss Stevens and Mr. E. R. Stuart and were a beet dead, beautifully decorated and a yeast cake, Fleischmann's presumably.

At Miss Vooght's dance Friday night the following guests were present: Dr. and Mrs. Bath, Miss MacPherson, Misses Bell and Lil Robertson, Miss Millie Partridge, Miss Musgrave, Miss Moore, Miss Ingraham, Miss Bedwin, Miss Ada Plant, Messrs. McKay, Sutherland, Boak, Easson, Cliff Robertson, Len. Robertson, Frank Robertson, Partridge, Campbell, H. Moore and F. H. Rudderham.

The entertainment in the Hall on the evening o the 23rd was in every way a brilliant success. In the first tableaux: four scenes from "Mary, Queen of Scots." Mrs. Bambrick made a splendid "Queen Elizabeth" and her look of scorn was magnificent. Miss Copeland as " Mary Stuart" with Mrs. Tait. Miss Campbell and Miss Earle as the the three "Maries" were certainly at their best in most becoming costumes. "Auld Robin Grey" was charming ly sung by Mrs. Rigby and "Janie" and "Jamie" as charmingly enacted by Miss Copeland and Mr. Len. Robertson. In the pantomime "Gretna Green" Mr. Wilson made a stolid and exasperating blacksmith while Mr. Len. Robertson as the anxious and flur-ried bridegroom and Miss Campbell (in a most fetching "get up") as the demure and blushing bride, were equally good. Miss Earle as a maid servant and Mr. Tait, who represented the post boy had a very natural and amusing flirtation in the background. A laughable ending was left to Mr. Alf. Robinson and Mrs. Bambrick who as the irate Alf. Robinson and Mrs. Bambrick who as the irate father and mother elicited a hearty encore. In the scenes from "Elaine" Miss Campbell was the "lily maid" with Mr. Wilson as "Launcelot." The boat scene "The dead steered by the dumb" was one of the most effective of the evening. In the pictures from "Rock me to sleep Mother" (also sung by Mrs. Rigby) Mrs. Tait acted her pathetic part to perfection and Miss Copeland made an ethereal angel. Three scenes from the "Marble Heart" were the final ones. Mr. Tait, in gorgeous array, was the rich Athenian and Mr. Len. Robertson made an ideal artist. The three fair statues—Mrs. Bambrick, Miss Copeland and Miss Campbell. Although they must have been anything but com-Although they must have been anything but com-fortable, certainly looked as statuesque and lifeless as possible. Many thanks are due Mrs. Rigby who sang so indefatigably, Mrs. Copeland who played the entire evening and the Rev. Mr. Bambrick who, acting as interpreter, explained the various scenes in his usual bright and clever way. This brief description does not do the entertainment justice but my stock of adjectives is exhausted.

FEB. 7 .- There has been a season of gaiety among -what shall I call them-the "tres jennes desmoiselles" during the past fortnight, and I understand that there are to be several more large parties given for them next week. Mrs. Perkins set the fashion by giving a dance, at which some twenty young people were present. One of the young ladies was unfortunate enough to have one of her teeth knocked out in the exciting and romantic game of post-office, but otherwise everything went off well.

Miss Gwennie Hodson entertained about thirty of her triends on Thursday. Among those present were Miss Jennie Mills, Miss Nettie Arnaud, Miss Maud Pitman, Miss Beatrice Gavaza, Miss Willie Gavaza, Miss Maggie Leavitt, Miss Ethel Leavitt, Miss Maud Hall, Miss Viola Hall, Miss Annie Withers, Miss Susie Cunningham, Miss Gladys Robinson, Miss Annie Lynca, Messrs. Harry Arnaud, Frank Pitman, Harry, George and John How, George Lynch, Harold Mills, Lou Harris and Hedley Robaker.

Dr. and Mrs. DeBlois of Bridgetown, spent Wednesday with Mrs. W. M. DeBlois.

Misses Maud and Viola Hall gave a large party last week.

Dr. Crooker of Augusta, Me., is at the Clifton House. On Wednesday with the assistance of Dr. Robinson, Dr. DeBlois, Dr. Coleman and Dr. Webster, (Yarmouth,) he performed a serious operation which proved eminently satisfactory. The patient, a well-known lady, is slowly recovering. Dr. Crooker is widely known as one of the most skilful specialists of the Eastern States. He is accompanied by his neice, Miss Wright.

The ball in the Opera House on Wednesday cannot be called a success. The committe made the very usual mistake of making the invitations too general, and very few attended it. The supper was not sumptuous, and consisted mainly of saudwiches, general, and very few attended it. The supper was not sumptuous, and consisted mainly of sandwiches, sweet biscuits and coffee. The floor was excellent and the music all that could be desired. A number of ladies and gentlemen had intended coming from Bridgetown, but the exaggerated reports of the elasticity of the invitations made them change their minds. Among the strangers who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Green, Miss Stuart, Miss Mc. Cormick, the Misses Smith, Miss Oliver, Messrs. Merkle, Guptil and Trites of Digby, Mr. and Mrs. Bell of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell, Miss Hoyt, Miss Pratt, Messrs. Wallace and Fay.
