APRIL 5.—The Easter day services at the different churches, were largely attended and the floral decorations were more extensive than at any previous year. At Christ church the flowers were very beautiful and showed great taste in their arrange ment, it all being done by the young ladies of the early date. guild, under the direction of Mrs. Newnham and Miss Beatrice Vroom. A beautiful white silk lectern banner embroidered in gold, was presented as an Easter gift, by Miss Eliza McBride and added greatly to the beauty of the decorations. There were four services during the day, and in the afternoon at Children's church, the Sunday school scholars sang Easter carols, and the rector made a short address. Trinity church was not decorated out service was held in the evening by Rev. Mr. Malidge handsomely decorated with potted plants, and the singing was suitable to the day. The baptist church ter church was especially fine.

The Japanese whist party given last Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dexter, at their pretty picturesque home in Milltown, was the most pleasant and novel affair ever given here. The drawing rooms were beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns, festooned from the corners of the room to the centre were hung an immense lantern. All these were lighted, which produced a lovely effect. The walls were adorned with Japanese screens and banners, umbrellas and Japanese fans, also were used. The table covers, and lamp shades were also Japanese. The score cards were tiny Japanese fans, with a blank place in the centre to mark the score. The first prize was won by Mis. Percy Lord, and was a pretty Japanese tea kettle.

Mrs. Ernest Lee, the second prize, a Japanese card dish. Mr. Ernest Lee was given the gentleman's prize, which was a Jap-pen tray. The "booby" prize was bestowed on Miss Alice Boardman. upper was served at twelve o'clock, and afterwards Mr. Smith Dexter gave several violin solos, much to the delight of the guests. Dancing was then indulged in, until quite late. Mrs. Dexter received her friends attired in a beautiful costume of silk richly trimmed with irredescent chiffon; she was assisted by her friend, Mrs. Hattie Washburne, who wore a lovely costume of black silk heavily trimmed with jet. Among the prettiest toilettes worn was that of Mrs. Frank Woods, who wore a lovely gown of cream colored silk trimmed with rich point lace,

APRIL 5.-If I were not afraid that it would have rather a "high flown" sound, I should say that Moneton seemed to be in danger of being submerged beneath a tidal wave of harmony, so violently has the musical craze set in. Once upon a time it used The methodist church looked especially well, being to be a matter of common regret amongst lovers of music that Moneton was "not a musical place at all." But that reproach has been removed, beyond doubt, and the church of the Holy Rosary, were also adorn- and it really looks as if the lament would soon be changed to "Moncton is so distressingly musical you know, that if you haven't the good fortune to be a musician you are not in the swim at all in Moncton." It is one of the very best and most elevating crazes, however, that could possibly overtake any place, so we have a great deal to be thankful for. The Easter music in the churches was probably of a higher order than it has ever been before in the city, the services drawing unusually large congregations, especially in the Central Methodist, where a carol service was given after the regular servicein the evening, and in St. George's, where Mr. J. H. Wetmore sang the offertory solos at both morning and evening service, the evening service being entirely choral. In the Wesley Memorial church the music was very remarkable both for beauty and originality, both the male chorus and the regular choir taking part, assisted in the evening by seven violins, a very novel and attractive departure in

Mr. Herbert E. Arnold, late accountant of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Moncton, who was recently promoted to the position of manager of the Oxford branch, left for his new "sphere of action" on Friday last. He was entertained by a few friends at a comlimentary supper at Mr. J. D. Henderson's restaurant, on the eve of his departure, and presented during the evening with an address accompanied by a very handsome gold chain and locket. The address was read by Mr. J. M. Lyons, General Passenger agent of the I. C. R. The evening was pleasantly passed with speeches, and songs; the party breaking up in time to observe Good Friday with all possible decorum.

The numerous friends of Dr W.S. Harris, second son of Mr. C. P. Harris, will be glad to hear of his continued success across the water. Dr. Harris has recently been appointed one of the house physicians in the Friscopal Hospital at Philadelphia.

Mr. W. B. Hinson left for his new charge at Mon treal on Thursday night. The platform at the station was densely crowded with friends who had assembled to see him off, and wish their former pastor God speed on his journey.

There are a number of entertainments in preparation for the next two weeks, so I fancy we may look forward to a very gay time as far as amusements go. The ladies of St. George's Church intend holding a tea and fancy sale in Victoria block tomorrow after-The Olde Folkes concert comes off next Wednessday, and next comes the entertainment by the unior Amateur Dramatic Club. The Easter concert given in the Opera House last evening by the Misses Baird and their friends and oupils, was pronounced the concert of the season, and was indeed a success in every respect, the speand was indeed a success in every respect, the special features being the opening chorus by twelve violinists, the ladies' quartette by the Misses Baird, Miss Laura Knight and Miss Etta Davidson, and the solos by Mrs. C. W. Harrison, of Sackville, and Mr. J. H. Wetmore, of Moncton. Both these well known vocalists were in splendid voice, and were compelled to respond to rapturous encores after each song. The Tyrolean Mountain Song, in costume, by the Misses Baird was excellently sung, and Miss Wortman's reading was worthy of the high reputation she has won as an elocutionist. In high reputation she has won as an elocutionist. In high reputation she has won as an electronist. The short, the entire entertainment was a credit to all who took part in it, and especially to the Misses Baird, who spared no pains to make it a success.

Miss Chipman held the third annual exhibition of her pupils' work on Monday and Tuesday in the W. C. T. U. hall, on Main street. The work embraces both china and panel painting in oils, crayon, patel Judia juk and pencil, as well as painting on praces both china and panel painting in oits, crayon, pastel, India ink and pencil, as well as painting on sik, felt and plush, screens, placques. e.c., and while the work of the adult pupils was well worthy of inspection, and showed evidence of the care and skill of the teacher, it would be hard to say too much in praise of the work of the junior class, a Brotton present by Miss Jania Harris a dog's head much in praise of the work of the junior class, a Breton peasant, by Miss Janie Harris, a dog's head, by Master Mayne Archibald, and a de r's head by Miss Mamie Cooke. Miss Jessie Dow's exhibit of figures, landscapes and heads, and Miss Dottie Borden's dog's head are deserving of special mention. Miss Mina McSweeney Miss Maggie Willet and Miss Katie Hamilton, also deserve honorable mention for their excellent work. Altogether it is hard to say whether Miss Chipman has most cause to be proud of her pupils or the pupils to be proud

April 5 .- Many of our town people spent Easter and the Easter holidays with friends at a distance. Appropriate music was rendered in the Anglican and methodist church on Easter Sunday. In the St. Paul's the music was worthy of special notice. The hymns were well given, also the chants. Miss Black sang "I hear the voice of Jesus" with great expression. Miss Read as organist fulfilled her part well. The church was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies the gift of Seward S. Toddings of Bermuda. I believe Mr. Toddings has for many years remembered St. Paul's in this pleasing manner and his kindness is greatly appreciated by the members of the congregation. In the methodist church at both services the music was excellent. In the morning Mrs. Harrison sang from the Messiah. The choir rendered the choruses "He is risen" and "The Lord is exa.ted," in a most finished manner. Miss Trueman as organist did herself ome in Pictou, N.S.
