The latter part of July is the time for picnics, but unfortunatly it is also the time for rain. It rarely however falls to the lot of a hostess to have such bad luck as regards the weather, as Mrs. James Morrow had on Saturday last. The rain fell copiously all the evening and spoilt her picnic, which had to be changed at the last moment into a purely house affair. It was however I believe very pleasant, all enjoyed themselves in spite of the luck.

The "Woman's Exchange" also suffered from the rain, which caused a postponement. It was energetic of Mrs. Tucker and her helpers to have such a fete, the inea is particularly good, but an idea is all very well, we want an elaboration of that idea. The night was fine and never have I heard the King's band play so well. The grounds were very pretty but that was all. The majority of people were looking round in a helpless hopeless sort of way for something to do. What are we here for? they seemed to be saying. It is a well understood fact in this country that people can't be content doing nothing, that is as far as pleasure is concerned. The Halifax crowd takes its pleasure hardly and is difficult to amuse and that is the secret of the want of success of the entertainment on Monday night. Monday is the worst night of the week for such an event, however, and it does not do to be too hard or critical where charity is concerned, but then again it is worse to be too soft and to pass over faults that could easily be remedied another time and to make a success of an entertainment that I am sure any one a success of an entrtainment that I am sure any one wishes to have as great a success as possible.

Garrison Tennis drew a large number of fashionables on Monday afternoon. The thing that strikes me at Garrison Tennis is the fact how few Civilian ladies play, and how few play well. There was a time when Halitax had a large number of ladies outside of the Military, who were almost first class players, but lately the number seems to have decreased very much. There are some excellent players in the Liverpool regiment, but I hardly think they are any better than the Leicestershire.

A dinner is to be given at the R. A. Mess this week as a farewell to Col. Crookenden and Mr. Enthoven, who leave for England on Saturday. Enthoven, who leave for England on Saturday. Col. Crookenden has not been very lorg on this station but will be much missed. I doubt if there is any officer that has left of late years who will be as much missed as Mr. Enthoven, he has been extremely popular in every way and his place in Halifax society will be very hard to fill. He is going to Chatham and will shortly be married. Another dinner is to be given to Col. Isaacson, Major Hodgson and Mr. Cau field, this one as a welcome, not a farewell. It will be remembered by many that Major Hodgson was stationed in this garrison once before some years ago. He no doubt will notice many changes, but still will meet many old friends, very much the same as they used to be. very much the same as they used to be.

Mrs. Moren's dance was very much enjoyed by all the young people on Tuesday. It was a very pretty dance, but very few new dresses were worn and very few elaborate ones. It being the only dance for many a long day, every one was bent on enjoying it. Was there ever such a season in Halifax? Not for many a year. Not a dance of any kind or description. We remember with regret the gay season of 1890 when Prince George was here and the Governor General came to pay a visit. There were dances upon dances and such dances too, but this year a pall of deadly duliness seems to have come over the land and no one has the courage to uplift it. There are reasons I suppose why this dullness should be, but still one cannot help regret-

Garden parties and picnics are merely hors d' ocurves, we want something more substantial. The season may brighten up towards autumn but at present it is dull to a degree never witnessed in Halifax before.

people of money, no wonder it remains where it is, the drain never stops. Still it is impossible to blame people who can afford it from living in the place which suits them best, it would be foolish not to. Patriotism is all very well but comfort is much more

The Wanderers are always up to date and are always having something novel. To day they are to have an At Home in their beautiful grounds. Tennis, Cricket, bowls and quoits are to be the attractions, not to mention tea, etc. It is a way of the Wanderers to entertain the public in that way for the public by bazaars and such have done much for the Wanderers. Still they deserve much from Halifax, for they are without doubt, the premier atheletic club in the Maritime Provinces. The inatheletic club in the Maritime Provinces. The invitation is in the name of the President and members so I suppose Mrs. M. R. Morrow, the wife of the young lady's freezer of ice cream which went so I suppose Mrs. M. R. Morrow, the wife of the President, will receive the guests. Many delegates from the Maritime Provinces have been in town this week attending the conference of the Christian Endeavour Association. They have a good work. The ladies and demoiselles were all had an opportunity of seeing Halifax at its best, for never did the park and the gardens look more beautiful than they do now.

DARTMOUTH.

JULY 31 .- The principal event of last week was o course the "at home" given by Mrs. C. H. Harvey on Friday and it certainly was one of the prettiest as well as the largest of the many teas which have made us festive in attire and cheerful of countenance lately. There were between sixty and seventy invited guests, the day was cool and pleasant and exactly what it should be for such a function, and though there were so many present both from Dartmouth St. John sometime during the present month, after the bride's arrival from England. Peg. and Halitax there was no crush at any time and the whole house, which is large with spacious hall, dining and drawing and sitting rooms, wide verandah and lovely gardens was open to the guests.

Mrs. Harvey was assisted by Mrs. R. D. Dickson, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. C. A. Creighton, Miss Parker and others. The ladies' dresses were very smart and pretty and when all were well dressed it is Forrester, of Chicago, a very smart frock of black and white silk and lace, and Mrs. Warneford, of Hampton, N. B., whose dress of cream challie with pretty and becoming. This lady has made many friends druing her visit to Dartmouth, who will regret to hear that she leaves this week for New Brunswick. We are all in the humor for gaiety now and of course the garden party to be given next Thursday by Mrs. A. L. Ellis is the event of the

Mr Rice of Canso, was a guest at "Stoney Croft Cottage," for a day or two this week. The impromptu dance gotten up for last Thursday night by Messrs Hernsby and Stuart was a pro nounced success. The scene of the revels was Crowe Bros. Hall, Inglis St., which has an excellent floor, and which, thanks to the artistic skill of Messrs Haddrill and Crowe, and the employment of much bunting and flowering plants, had been thoroughly metamorphosed. Card tables, in improvised nooks, had been provided for those indisposed for the disporting of themselves in the dance. Everyone danced, the floor had been waxed to such perfection that it fairly shone, and indeed proved too I hear that Mrs. Binney and Mrs. Lancaster are | glacial for the elephantine grace of one of the active committee, who, in one of his airy evolutions, and in an unguarded moment, lost his equilibrium, and measured his ethereal person on the floor.
