most delightful party for her son, Mr. Walton Mills. Dancin' was the amusement of the evening, which was indulged in until the wee small hours. Mrs. Ogden, who thoroughly understands the art of entertaining, received her guests in a handsome dress of brocade. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Christie, who wore an elegant dress of black silk. The guests were Miss Emily Willis, who looked very sweet in a cream cashmere; Miss Grace Fawcett, a charming dress of blue mousseline de laine; Miss Janie Fawcett, pretty blue and white chalice; Miss Winnie Fawcett, cream chalice; Miss Mabel Ayer, grey silk, pink trimmings; Miss Emma Ayer, cream chalice, green trimmings; Miss McHaffey, white lace; Miss Mabel Rennie, very pretty dress of blue chalice; Miss Minnie, pink waist, black skirt; Miss Copp, black skirt, pretty pink chignon waist; Miss Nellie Copp, dress of pink cashmere and silk; Miss Annie, pretty dress of lawn cashmere and lace; Miss Morris, black skirt over green silk; Mrs. A. Atkinson, black silk and lace; Miss Touse, black dress and red trimmings; Miss Wood, pretty black dress; Miss Mary Price and Mr. Hanson, of Havelock, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Thorpe last week. One of the most pleasant parties of the season was given by Mrs. Charles Fawcett, on Monday evening, at her home on Main street. The evening passed quickly with dancing and other amusements. Mrs. Ryan and Miss Grace Fawcett assisted Mrs. Fawcett to receive her guests. A most dainty supper was served at twelve o'clock. The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fawcett, Miss Edna Ayer, Miss Ethel Smith, the Misses Eustice, Messrs. Teed, Rennie, Turner, Wood, Harrison, Henderson, Chandler, Ayer, Baird, Ford, Miss, Black, Campbell and Smith. The dresses were all very pretty, particularly so was the handsome costume worn by Mrs. Horace Fawcett, looking charming in striped velvet. Miss Mabel Ayer, light blue silk, chignon trimmings; Miss Fawcett, (Boston) light chalice; Miss Greeta Ogden, pink empire dress; Miss Edna Ayer, pink silk.

Mrs. Calkins is receiving calls this week. Mrs. Calkins looks charming in an elegant costume, white cloth, black velvet trimmings. Mrs. Webb, of Cocagne was in town on Tuesday. SHEDIAK CAPE. [Progress is for sale at Shediac Cape by George E. Mills.] Nov. 14.—I do not hear many complaints of the severity of parties. On the contrary these affairs were very numerous last week and late hours were invariably the rule. On Tuesday evening Miss Sylvia Mills entertained a number of her friends at cards. Everyone was made to feel perfectly at home and an enjoyable evening was the result. Mr. John H. Murray issued invitations for an important whist party Friday evening. A dozen or more of his intimate friends were present and it was quite late when they dispersed. There was another dancing party at Chas. Sayre's on Thursday. Over two score were in attendance and the affair terminated at a late hour. Messrs. Albert Fawcett and Harry A. Ward, drove to Havelock on Friday returning Monday. Mrs. Freze, of Penobscot, is visiting Mrs. Geo. W. Welles. Rev. A. F. Burt drove to Cocagne on Sunday and preached his first sermon in St. Alban's church. Mrs. Geo. TRURO, N. S. Nov. 8.—Messrs. George A. Layton, H. C. Blair, Dr. W. E. Langille, Jas. Dover, E. Cubb, Dr. C. Blair, John Snodden, A. Black and R. E. McNutt were some members of the Rifle Association, who enjoyed a few hours very pleasantly discussing an oyster supper, in M. E. Bates' parlor, last Monday night. Mrs. F. A. Lawrence gave a large dance last night, in honor of her niece, Miss Flemming, who leaves to day for her home in the west. Mrs. Lawrence's party was a great success in every way; the ladies, both the matrons and the demoiselles, looking particularly well. Miss Grace Smith, in an exquisite white toilette, must have been the belle as I heard several say, "She looked just lovely."

Nov. 15.—There was a quiet but very pretty wedding solemnized last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride, Lower Prince street. The principals in the interesting event were Miss Georgie Cutten and Mr. D. G. McDonald. The bride looked very lovely in a very dainty gown of fine white silk, lastre, with bridal bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair ferns. Her maid, Miss Emily Christie, wore a dress of pale heliotrope silk, trimmings of pale mauve chiffon, gloves to match, bouquet of natural flowers. Mr. Will Smith acted as best man, and filled the post with credit to himself and party. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Thos. Cummings, the guests were entertained at supper. The bride was the recipient of very many elegant as well as useful presents. The groom's gift was a gold watch and chain. The watch is an especially pretty one, with plain case, set with diamonds and engraved monogram. A complete tea set of French porcelain, the guests were given as presents. The bride's going away dress was of navy blue broadcloth, tailor made, with hat to match. Despite the lateness of the hour a large number of mutual friends were at the depot when the C. P. E. express came in, to wish Mr. and Mrs. McDonald "bon voyage," as they left for Halifax, en route for Boston and New York and other points of interest.

Miss Unsworth, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., is visiting Mrs. L. B. Archibald. Mrs. Baker, Amherst, is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Cummings. The concert, which is being arranged by Miss Clara King and others of our musical talent, is to come off in the Y. M. C. A. hall on the first Tuesday after Thanksgiving. The program of the concert is of Beethoven's, the C major concerto of 15, arranged for two pianos, will be given by Miss King and Mr. E. R. Stuart. Mr. Phillips and Mr. Rice will be two of the soloists and Mr. G. H. Williams will wield his bow.

Mrs. A. Patterson had a very pleasant birthday party last night for Miss Grace. Mrs. A. L. Slipp is visiting friends in Yarmouth, N. S. Mr. James, who preached with so much acceptance in St. Andrew's, last Sunday, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dickie during his stay. Mrs. D. C. Cummings has resigned her position as the young person for Miss Trudie on Monday evening. The occasion being her birthday cake. An object of much interest to the young folks, was the birthday cake, which when cut divulged some interesting souvenirs. Master Ernest Blanchard drew the ring, Miss Lulu Archibald, the coin, little Miss McIntosh the button and another little Miss Price, the ribbon. The destined lady, will unlock to her such wondrous things.

Doctress Jane Heartz leaves this week for Chicago, where she will practice her profession and be co-partner, with a sister physician in a drug business.

PARROBORO.

[Progress is for sale at Parrsboro Book Store.] Nov. 14.—Last week in writing a hurried description of the games worn at the home of the Queen, I inadvertently omitted four.
