Prince Roland Bonaparte's arrival has been the principal event of the week, though he is but a "princeling" when compared with the last prince who honored us with a visit. He did not arrive at a very good time socially speaking, as there is really nothing doing in the way of a large function which might have given him an opportunity of seeing some of the beauty and brilliancy which really does belong to a Halifax ball. However, the French imporialist prince seems to be engrossed more by imperialist prince seems to be engrossed more by studying the institutions educational and otherwise of this new country, than in seeing the frivolous side of it, and probably does not regret having come at so socially blank a period. In the intervals of visiting our schools, on Tuesday, and the institution for the Deaf and Dumb, in which Prince Roland was much interested and with which he expressed much pleasure, the Prince paid visits to the Lieut. Governor and Sir John Hopkins at Admiralty House, and lunched with the former at the Halifax Club.

On Wednesday Sir John and Lady Hopkins gave a small luncheon party for Prince Roland, after which, in spite of the unpleasant weather, arrangements had been made to take him over H. M. S. "Blake," which ship he had expressed a great desire to see.

In the evening a dipner was given to him at government house, as his departure was fixed for Thursday morning.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. F. Kenny gave a very pleasant little tea, for Mr. and Mrs. McPherson, Miss Dobell and Miss Kirkpatrick, and other Toronto people, who were spending a few days in Halifax, on their way to the wedding of Mr. McPherson, in Truro. Mrs. Kenny looked extremely well in a dark violet gown, with a great deal of velvet about it, and her house looked pretty, as usual. During the afternoon, there was a good deal of music, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Mellor, who are the latest acquisitions in musical circles, both singing very well. On the whole, the little party was a charming one, there being absolutely no crowd, just enough people having been asked to pleasantly fill the pretty rooms.

On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. T. E Kenney, gave a dinner at "Thornvale," at which Mr. and Mrs. McPherson and their party were among the guests.

Invitations are out for an "at home" on Monday next, at the residence of Mrs. Abbott. This tea is given for Miss Nellie Abbott, who is one of the principal debutantes of this year. Miss Twining, who has just returned from England, is another, and I hear of two more charming young girls, who are to "come out" in the course of the summer.

Surgeon-Major and Mrs. Dorman have arrived from England and are staying at the Queen hotel H. S. Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Buskirk, until their home in Victoria Road is ready, when the Misses Dewar, Piers, C. Fairbanks, Winnie Mrs. Dorman will be "at home" to visitors.

Miss E. Twining arrived this week from New York, where she was detained on her way from Geoffrey Twining, who is now making an excellent Lady Hopkins came up in the "Blake" from Bermuda and will spend most of the summer at Admiralty House. Halifax people are delighted to have her as her pleasant manner and charming personality has made her thoroughly popular.

Mrs. Griffiths has also arrived and is living in the Commander Bayly, of the "Blake," and Mr. Sandeman, the flag-lieutenant, have ponies which they will probably run at the race-meeting on the twenty-first. Sir John and Lady Hopkins are also taking an interest in these races, and I hear that the latter will present the prizes in the "midshipmen's scurry," which was such an amusing feature last year. There are to be a dozen or more entries for this race, and Commander Bayly and Mr. Sandeman are offering the prizes which Lady Hopkins will present to the winner.

Captain the Hon. G. Colbourne, whose arrival with General Montgomery-Moore, PROGRESS announced two weeks ago in advance of any other paper, has a very good record of service. I think, but am not certain, that he was wounded in the hand in the Egyptian campaign and was obliged in consequence to have one, if not two of his fingers

The wedding of Mr. L. G. Hesslein and Miss Hamilton, youngest daughter of the late James T. and Mrs. Hamilton, took place on Tuesday morning at the house of the bride's mother, Spring Garden

The wedding was a very quiet one, with only immediate relatives and friends as guests; but the house had been beautifully decorated for it by Mr. Richard Power with quantities of palms and flowers. The ceremony was performed by the Revd. Robert Laing.

The bride was beautifuly dressed in cream colored sath with orange blossoms, and her three young bridesmaids were all in white. The bride carried the regulation bouquet, but her nieces the Misses Hamilton and Miss Laing, who were her bridesmaids, caaried very pretty baskets of blossoms. Miss Hamilton received a great number of very handsome presents, that of the bridegroom's being diamonds, the most coveted things in jewels by most women. The employes of the Halitax Hotel presented the happy pair with a beautiful silver piano lamp, and very handsome gifts were received from relatives of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Hesslein, as before stated, will visit the Chicago exhibition durng their wedding tour.

Mr. W. B. Ferrie and his bride are expected very short'y. They will live in Morris St., and have deferred furn'shing their house until their arrival. Miss Turner is celebrated, I hear, for taste in such matters, and is also remarkable for her good dress-

The ladies interested in the Masonic Bazaar have it all their own way now, as there is no other charitable undertaking between this and the fourteenth of August the date fixed for their opening. I hear of August the date fixed for their opening. I hear there has been division in the camp regarding the dresses, or rather their prices, but one has got to see the bazaar which passes off without that. Practice for the march will begin very soon, Mr. Greenwood being in charge makes it certain of success. "Living whist" will be another attraction, which has the merit of being new to Halifax.

It is said that Major and Mrs. Hodgson will take the place of Major and Mrs. Hervey in the appointment now vacant. It is some years since Mrs. Hodgson or her husband, who were both here before their marriage, left Halifax and they will doubtless I'acknomore Cures Coughs and Colds.

DARTMOUTH.

JUNE 6 -One of the events of the season, and one that has been eagerly looked forward to by the dancing portion of society here, was the ball given by the Fortnightly Club at their rooms on Monday night. I never saw the rooms look better, for the managing committee, Mr. and Mrs. D ckson, Mrs. A. E. Ellis, Mrs. C. H. Harvey, Miss Dolly Dewar and Mr. James Dus an did their work with taste and skill, and really worked wonders in draping and arranging curtains, flags, &c., and in adorning every available nook and corner with flowers and ferns, cut and potted. The rather dingy stage at the west end of the hall was transformed by their clever fingers into a handsome modern drawing room, which afforded a capital place for "sitting out;" and a dressing room for the ladies was obtained by screening off one end of this with heavy portieres. The music was furnished by the band of the Harper's from town, and the floor was in excellent dancing

The guests were received by the chaperons, Mrs. A. E. Ellis and Mrs. R. D. Dickson-Mrs. E lis looking her best in pretty rose-colored challie, and Mrs. Dickson equally well in black silk and jet.

A great many smart and pretty gowns were worn which I should like to describe at length, but in such a crowd and where all were well and becomingly dressed it would be impossible, as well as unjust to the fair wearers to distinguish. I give a few which I thought particularly pretty.

Mrs. Creighton, black and gold.

Mrs. He'sby cream satin. Miss Blanche Dewar, green and silver gauze.

Miss Dolly Dewar, scarlet net. Miss Winnie Creighton, black and crimson.

Miss Constance Fairbanks, heliotrope challie. Miss May Creighton cream crepon and lace. Miss Frances Ouseley, white silk.

Mrs. T. Cutter, black silk and lace. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. T. Cutter. Dr. and Mrs. Milsom, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Helsby, Mrs. H. D. Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. Creighton, May Creighton, Daisy Foster, Nora Mc-Kay, Misses McKenzie, Howe, Hellies, McLeay, Weeks, Collins, Ouseley, Parker, James, and Robson; Messrs Cogswell, Piers, D. Romans, Jack England by the illness of her brother, Captain | Creighton, Frank Creighton, Percy Robinson, Forrester Mckay, H. and J. Dustan, Dr. F. Gow. M.

A. B. Smith and others, whom I did not know. A few young ladies and gentlemen of Dartmouth, had a small picnic at the Port Wallace Lakes, on Wednesday, returning afterwards with the Misses Constance and Gladys Fairbanks to their house, where the evening was finished by a dance.

Another very pleasant dance was given on Wednesday evening, by Mrs. E. Dowie, of Woodside, in honor of her nephew, Mr. Wallace Anderson and his bride, who returned from their wedding trip on Monday. It might slso have been called a house. warming, as the host and hostess and family, have just taken possession of their newly-built and pretty house, the "Bungalow." I doubt if ever a pleasanter dance was given in Dartmouth, and I venture to hope, that it may be the herald of many more of the same kind. Mrs. Dowie received her guests in an elegant green velvet and satin, and bronze lace. The bride, Mrs. Wallace Anderson wore, white embroidered Indian muslin, with broad white silk sash, and natural flowers.

Among the invited guests were, Mr. and Mrs. H. Romans, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Creighton, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Creighton, Dr. and Mrs. Milsom, Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Brookfield, (Halifax,) Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Pierson, (Halifax,) Misses Mary and Fanny Parker, Norah McKay, Marion Grant, Winn fred and May Creighton, Misses Oxley, James, Prescott and Dunstan; Messrs. D. Romans, Gilbert Troop, J. and H. Dunstan, Landon, McKe gney, Oxley, Percy Robinson and F.

The gowns worn by the lady guests were particularly fresh and pletty, many of them, I imagine, being new for the occasion. I give some of the smartest and most striking:

Mrs. Walter Creighton, black lace and scarlet. Mrs. H. S. Creighton, very pretty dress of dark due and old gold silk. Mrs. Pierson, green velvet. Miss Winifred Creighton, pink silk.

Miss Parker, elegant dress of black embroidered net over white silk, ferns and carnations.
Mrs. Nicholson, black and scarler, with scarlet

Miss Mary Troop, white silk and lace.
Miss May Creighton, cream crepon and lace, with Miss Nova McKay, blue and white challie with Maltese lace. A meeting of the Deanery was held on Wednesday in this parish, to elect a Rural Dean, in place of the Rev. Mr. Ellis who has lately resigned. Several clergymen were present, and others were expected, but failed to appear. Morning prayers and a celebration of the Hoiy Communion was held at eleven o'clock. Prayers were read by Rev. Dr. Ambrose, (who was afterward elected as Rural Dean,) the lessons by Rev. Mr. Leigh of Eastern passage, and an excellent sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr.

The church was festive with flowers in window, Communion table and the entrance to the chancel, and a ple sing feature of the day, was a handsome luncheon, given by the "Loyalty" chapter of "Daughters of the King" to the clergy present, and which also included the church wardens and organist, and Dr. and Mrs. Milsom It was very prettily laid in the school-house, and was presided over by Mrs. Meller, Mrs. Simmonds, Mrs. Dunswith, and the Misses Grassie, Clarke and McLeay.

I notice with pleasure that the University of Mount Alison, N. B., has conferred the degree of D. C. L., upon Mr. B. Russel, Q. C. of Dartmouth.

Main Street, St. John,

Miss Blanche Reynolds, Granville Ferry, was the guest of friends here over Sunday.

Mrs. Almon, widow of the late Doctor H. Pryor Almon, formerly rector of St. James church, passed through here on Wednesday.

The death of Mr. Woodworth on Tuesday deprived Bridgetown of one of its oldest and best known citizens. The funeral was largely attended on Friday; and the many beautiful wreaths and flowers, sent by friends, testified to the esteem in which he was held.

Mr. Ernest Morse returned on Monday from the business college in St. John. Miss Lillie Smith is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. N.

Rice, this week. Mr. Fallis, Montreal, was in town on Monday and Mr. Ernie St. Cair is home from Boston, where he has been to consult an oculist.

On Monday evening the I.O.O.F. gave a farewell "at home" in honor of Mr. Young, who leaves shortly for the "Fair" and British Coumbia. A number of ladies were present, and were regaled with ice cream and music. On Tuesday evening the entertainment in aid of St. James church was successfully carried out in the court house. It consisted in a farce entitled "Mrs Willis' Will," in which the following ladies and gentlemen took part, Mrs. E. I. Simonds, Mrs. A. Hoyt, Mrs. R. D. Taylor, Miss Nellie Hoyt and Mr. Wallace. Mrs. Taylor made a charming little peasant girl, and Mrs. Simonds and Mrs. Hoyt's dance, to tuifil the conditions of the will, brought down the house. Also a series of musical tableaux under the direction of Mrs. E. I. Simonds. The first, "The Music of Peace," was sung by the Misses Burns, Dearness, Young, Taylor, Sancton, Hoyt and Marshall. "The Music of War" was personated by Mrs. Simonds and Mr. Wallace. "The Music of Charity," by Mrs. Freeman and Mr. Wallace. "The Music of Victory" by Miss Maud Hoyt and Mr. Wallace. "The Music of Love," by Miss Grace Hoyt and Mr. T. Cowling. "The Music of Home" by Mrs. R. D. Taylor and Misses Taylor, Dearness and Sancton. "The Music of Joy" by Mrs. Simonds and the Misses Sancton, Dearness, Burns, Young, Hoyt and Taylor. Also songs and recitations by Mr. Greatorex and Mr. Cowling, cornet solo by Mr. Bishop. To Miss Minnie Dodge, the accompanist for the evening, much credit is due. It was to be regretted that the house was so poor, for it was well worth patronizing.

The marriage of Mr. W. Miller, Clarence, to Miss Lizzie Parker, which has been looked forward to with interest for some weeks, took place at the baptist church on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. M. Young. The bride looked charming in a very pretty dress of cream cashmere with veil and orange blossoms, her bridesmaid was Miss Margeson, who wore a becoming dress of mauve surah, and little Miss Munroe, the bride's neice, as maid of honor, looked wery nice in white. The groom was attended by Mr. Henry Shaw, Mr. O. Miller and Mr. Harry Crowe, acted as ushers. The bride and groom left by the noon train for St. John. On their return they will reside in Clarence. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. B, Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr and Mrs. George Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Munroe, Miss Bent, Miss Gertie Saunders, Miss Mabel Saunders, Miss Rumsey, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Neilly, Miss Edith Quirk, Miss Nelly Quirk, Mr. E. Saunders, and others.

Judge Cowling, was in town on Tuesday.
