Dartmouth, N. S. Socially, the town has been very quiet this week, a few small teas and dinners being the only things doing. Two of the pleasantest dinners were those given by General and Mrs. Montgomery Moore, on Tuesday, and by Surgeon-Major and Mrs. Dorman, on Wednesday, ten or twelve guests being the limit

7 Walking parties have come into fashion again, as they always do in autumn, and the first of the season took place on Friday last. The party went by train to Rockingham and walked from there on to Bedford. There was no host or hostess, the affair being arranged by the ladies and men taking part in the walk, among whom were: Dr. and Mrs. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. A. Doull, Mr. and Mrs. G. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. M. Morrow, Miss Kenny, Miss Stairs, Mrs. Worseley and Messrs. Parmiter, Adams, Beaumont, Thomson and others. After dining at the Bedford hotel the party returned to Halifax by the evening train.

There was a very smart audience at the theatre on Saturday evening, to see the final performance of Mr. Arthur Rehan's company in "Mixed Pickles." A patronage night always draws in Halifax, besides which the piece chosen was really very amusing. Mr. Dan McCarthy's company in Irish plays is a very good one, and has so far been well patronized. The company work admirably together, and the pieces never drag from that circumstance.

There was a large attendance at the Acadia-Dalhousie football match on Saturday, despite the showery and windy weather. The match was a very good one, and very interesting to spectators. The Acadia men played a good game and might have been beaten by less if the wind had not been against them and in favor of Dalhousie. People would be glad to see another match between the

On Tuesday evening, the eve of St. Cecelia, a choral service was held at St. Stephen's, the combined choirs of St. Luke's and St. Stephen's singing the choral even song and chants suitable for the occasion. The Rev. E. P. Crawford preached on the life and death of St. Cecelia to the large congregation which filled the church. A colored window has been given to St. Stephen's as a memorial of the late Miss Twining, who was so well-known in Halifax for her untiring church work. The window is persented by relations of the deceased lady in England and Halifax, and is symbolic of charity.

The Scotch concert announced for Friday evening at St. Andrew's church must wait for next week. I hear it is to be very good.

Nearly all the musical and dramatic talent of the town has been enlisted for the Masque of Months. Mrs. Kennedy Campbell is to sing; Herr Doering. and Miss Minnie Doyle and Mr. Payne are all help. ing in various ways; and Capt. Duffus, who is stage manager is doing wonders with his company. The band of the King's regiment will play, and an interested audience seems to be a certainty.

A large social was held by the congregation of St. Paul's church on Monday evening, at Argyle Hall. The entertainment had a double purpose, being partly given as a reception to the new curate, Rev. N. J. Perry, late of Lindsay, Ontario, and partly as a farewell to Miss Sheraton, who during her residence here, has been one of the most prominent workers in the church and Sunday school, and is leaving very shortly to take a position in St. John. There was a very pleasant little musical programme arranged, the first number of which was a song by Mr. Bennett; then came a cello solo by Miss Mabel Kaizer, accompanied by Herr Doering. Mr. Hutchins sang a song most acceptably, Mrs. Hutchins accompanying him on the piano, after which an address to Miss Sheraton was read by Miss J. Tre. maine on behalf of the Sunday school teachers of St-Paul's, and a handsomely bound bible presented to her. Mr. C. C. Blackadar read an address to the new curate, who replied very happily, after which refreshments were served by the Young People's Society. Miss Sheraton will be much missed in Halifax, which she leaves next week for St. John.

Prince Victor Duleep Singh, once so well known in Halifax, has succeeded his father as Maharajah, and comes into his estates in England and the income allowed him by the English government, which amounts to some fifty thousand pounds a year. Reports of his approaching marriage to an English lady of title are at present however, denied.

It is said that General Sir John Ross is to be appointed to the command of the troops in Malta, but as yet the rumor has not been confirmed. The appointment is a very good one and the pay liberal.

A great many well known Halifax people leave for England in the second week in December. Among them are Major and Mrs. Waldron and children, Miss Almon ane Miss C. Magee, Lieut. Parmiter, King's regiment; Miss Kinnear, Colonel Saunders, R. A., and others.

Miss Celia Roberts, at present the guest of Mrs. James Thomson, Fernwood, also goes to England

The Rev. J. A. Kaulbach, of Truro, has been spending a few days in Halifax.

Miss Margaret Houghton's exhibition of paintings was visited by a great many people during her stay here, and her very clever work appreciated if not by the many then at least by the few. Miss Houghton is an impressionist of the most utter. Her work is very French and very taking, her subjects being as a rule most happily chosen, with no claptrap sentimentality or literary-as the phrase goestendency about them. Miss Houghton is a niece of Halifax, where she purposes making a short stay. the late Sir John Abbott, and has been spending the summer in Cape Breton, where most of her work was done.

The engagement is announced of Miss Winifred Corbett, eldest daughter of Mr. F. C. Corbett, and Capt. D. Duffus, R. A., son of Mr. John Duffus. Captain Duffus has a five years' appointment in Halifax.

Mr. John Miller is here from New York. Delsartism, or the great what is it? is the topic just now in Halifax society. Perhaps the favoured | weather and made such an astonishing success of the few who have attended classes on the physical and | sale in St. Stephen's church on Wednesday evening

Sentinel seem to throw a good deal of light on the laws of motion, gesture and expression in the human being; of the laws of universal expression; and the analysis of individual deviation from these laws. He regarded man's nature as a trinity, composed of the mental, moral and physical, which should be educated in perfect relation to each other. Now a man with harmonious balance of power, or inter-relation of his mental, moral and physical nature, is rare, and it is the work of Delsartism to train the body until it is by habit unconsciously flexible, and able to interpret without effort the mental and moral language of the man. The aim of Delsartism gymnastics is not to teach by rule how to stand, how to walk, etc., but to give symmetrical physical development, to take out angles and discords, and to train the body to move in harmony with nature's laws. The balance of power is the key to the physical side of the Delsarts' philosophy, a sound mind and a sound heart in a sound body, the essence of its teaching. Men and women now adays are mechanical; their movements abrupt and lacking in the grace of expression. Delsarts discovered that the fundamental law of expression is control at the centre, freedom at the extremities, and perfect flexibility of all parts of the body so that it responds to the mind and faithfully translates it.

AMHERST.

[PROGRESS is for sale at Amherst by Charles Hillcoat and at themusic store of H. A. Hillcoat.] Nov. 22.-By the general appearance of things just now we are to have a merrily enjoyed thanksgiving, particularly among the young folks. Miss Beatrice Fuller entertained a number of her lady friends this evening, in honor of her cousin, Miss Blanche Nelson, Truro; and the Misses Main give a small and early dance at Holm Cottage.

On Thursday evening Miss Morse gives quite a large dance at her home on Douglas street. It will probably be a rather smart event.

An open air carnival would have been a delightful affair, if the ice on Christie's pond could have been a guaranteed certainty, but it was somewhat early for such a fete, and will be a bright feature of the near future. The skating rink was cut down by an early frost, so the bon-fires will still blaze high on the hill side, while the merry skaters do the grand at the old and favorite resort.

What might be termed a surprise wedding, to Amherst onians at least, came off on Wednesday last, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Douglas, Victoria street. The bride was Miss Hays, of Dorchester, a charming young lady who has a host of friends in town; and Mr. John Hickman, also of Dorchester, brother of Mrs. Donglas, was the fortunate groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Campbell, assisted by Rev. V. E. Harris. Only a few most intimate friends were present including Mrs Hickman, the groom's mother, Mrg Campbell, and Mr. Charles Hickman, of Dorchester, Mrs. Purvis, Pictou, Mrs. and Miss Agnes Sleep and Mr. Harvey Pipe, Amherst. The weather was quite out of tkeeping with such an interesting event and the handsome gown du voyage worn by the bride, was protected by a stylish coat of brown cloth, when the party arrived at the depot, where they took the train for a trip to Quebec and

Montreal. Miss McHeffey returned on Saturday from a visit Mrs. A. King, Annapolis, who has been visiting friends in Sackville, came to Amherst on Friday and remained the guest of Mrs. Gates, Havelock street, until Tuesday, when she left for her home, via

Mrs. H. G. C. Ketchum spent a few days in Mor ton, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Binnie, and came home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum intend spending the winter in England. Mr. James Howard's friends will regret to learn that he is quite ill at his home on Eddy street. Mrs. Tay's health has taken a most serious turn and her recovery is very doubtful at present. Mr. Tay has been unable to attend to his duties at the academy this week, Mr. Craig supplying his place.

Mrs. Tay's mother from Maitland is with her now and their numerous friends earnestly hope that there may yet be a bright side to their dark cloud of prolonged illness.

The ladies who defied the obnoxious clerk of the few who have attended classes on the physical and philosopical aspects of Delsartism have found the answer to the question; but the many have not; and the following quotations from the Milwaukee sale in St. Stephen's church on wednesday evening are undoubtedly worthy of more than an ordinary share of praise, judging from the magnitude of the receipts, which was certainly astonishing. The tea table, which was one of the best patronized quarters to Department Progress of other places should are undoubtedly worthy of more than an ordinary share of praise, judging from the magnitude of the receipts, which was certainly astonishing. teacher on the Academy staff, has sent in his resignation and intends going to Halifax to take a course of study in the higher branches of school

The engrossing topic of the hour is the marriage of Miss Eva Pride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Pride and Mr. Arch Foster of Bridgetown. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Mr. Steele, pastor of the baptist church, assisted by Rev. V. E. Harris, vicar of Christ church, and will take place at the home of the bride, Havelock street, at 4 p. m. It is without doubt the leavest medicing that her home It is without doubt the largest wedding that has taken place here for a very long time. Fully a hundred guests are expected to be present and the valuable gifts testify to the great appreciation and high esteem they hold for the happy voung couple, who will make their home in Spring Hill, after returning from a trip to Boston and New York. The elegant bridal trouseau, which was fashioned at a leading house in St. John, comprises some very elaborate and pretty toulettes, conspicuous among elaborate and pretty tollettes, conspicuous among them is the wedding gown of rich white satin and lace, a most stylish construction that will be dis-played to capital advantage by the fair bride, who among our prettiest and most graceful young ladies. The bridesmaid comes from the capital. I have not heard yet who supports the groom in the trying ordeal. Mrs. Foster, mother of the groom, came to Amherst on Saturday and is the guest of Mrs. Pride. But more anon after the wedding is over.

Miss Reed, of Sackville, has returned from Chicago and will resume her classes in music in Amherst this week.

RHEUMATISM

Messrs. Hanington Bros. Early in February, 1885, while in St. John, N. B., I had a severe attack of Rheumatism, was treated by an eminent Physician, and with great care was enabled to come home in about two weeks time, after which time I grew worse and suffered dreadfully. We did everything we could to control the disease and get relief, and used various kinds of Liniments, including Minard's and Electric Oil. I then had good medical advice and treatment which at times afforded temporary relief, but the disease lurked in my system, and shifted from one side to the other, in fact it permeated my whole being. For more than two months I was unable to get to my room or retire without assistance. I chanced to see an advertisement of your 'Sciaticine' effecting wonderful cures. I procured a package and when I received it my Limbs were much swollen, my feet and ankles were purple, and so swollen that they were shapeless, After four doses of the Internal Medicine and three applications of the Liniment the swelling had all disappeared. In five days the Rheumatism had completely gone, could walk about supple as ever I did. Have had no return of the disease since, having passed through the autumn and winter to this date, January 5th, 1886, with its climate changes. I can recommend your 'Sciaticine,' and hope that all who are affected with that most painful disease, Rheumatism, will not hesitate to give 'Sciaticine' a trial.

Any person wishing to know more of the particulars, for doubting this statement can can write to Mrs. W. H. Moore, South Farmington, Annapolis Co., N. S., who will cheerfully give them all information. MRS. W. H. MOORE, South Farmington, Annapolis Co., Nova Scotia.
