

WINDSOR, N. S.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Windsor at Knowles' Bookstore and by F. W. Dakin.]

APRIL 25.—I understand that preparations for the grand Masonic bazaar to be held next September are being rapidly pushed forward. Some weeks ago the Masons issued invitations to the ladies likely to be interested, to meet with them and talk the matter over. The result of that meeting was the formation of a committee to take the affair in hand, and as the ladies who have been appointed to take the lead are in every way competent, no doubt the success of the undertaking is assured.

The Boston Comedy Company, under the management of Mr. H. Price Webber, opened in the "Reform Club hall" last Wednesday for six nights. Mr. Webber's company has never before played to such small audiences in Windsor. This was owing to the revival meetings now being conducted by Rev. Mr. Meikle, who no doubt feels it his duty to use his influence to prevent people attending the theatre. Mr. Meikle's open air meeting on Thursday evening just before Webber's performance, did not, I am told, meet with the approval of all his followers. On Monday evening, however, a large number were present at the theatre when "The Sea of Ice" was produced. Mr. Meikle closes his engagement this week also.
