

"White and dazzling in the moon's fair light she looked."

Nothing remarkable about that! She was fair to look upon, as a matter of course; and the dazzling effect was produced by her white robes—cleansed and brightened by a liberal use of

J. H. CONNOLLEY,

St. John, N. B., 75 Charlotte St., Cor. King.

Social and Personal.

St. John—South End.

The death of Mr. J. C. Allison, which occurred at his residence, Coburg street, on Saturday last, was heard with deep regret, although in failing health for some time past, it was only very recently that his physician pronounced him in immediate danger, his malady being cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Allison, who was in his fortieth year, was the youngest son of the late Mr. Edward Allison. His aged mother resides in St. John, also two brothers, Dr. L. Allison and Mr. Frank Allison, and one sister, the widow of the late Mr. John Cudlip. Mr. Allison leaves a widow but no children. She has the deep sympathy of a large circle of friends. The very recent death of her mother, Mrs. Zebadec King, making her loss, if possible, doubly sad.

A concourse of friends and relatives followed his remains to their last resting place on Monday last. The funeral services were held at St. Paul's church and were conducted by Archdeacon Till and Brig. Stocke. The pall bearers were Messrs. G. C. Coster, J. Twining Hart, J. M. Robinson, Dr. F. Scovell, (England), James Mowat and T. Carleton Allan. The many floral offerings which covered the casket testified to the esteem and affection of a great number of personal friends and business associates who knew his worth and mourned his loss. His late associates in the department of public works sent a large scroll of white flowers with "D. P. W. Staff" in violet letters across the front.

Mr. A. Gohiel, deputy minister of Public Works, sent a pillow of white roses, lilies and carnations with the words "At Rest" in purple letters.

From the vestry of St. Paul's church there was a large cross. Besides these there were numbers of floral tributes from relatives and friends.
