WOODSTOCK.

[Progress is for sale in Woodstock by Barry Shaw and Mrs. John Loane & Co.]

May 30.—The concert under the auspices of the band, given in the Opera House on the evening of the 24th, was a grand success. The programme consisted of songs, recitations, instrumental music, a drill by a dozen young men in fancy costumes, and some of the best tableaux ever placed in Woodstock.

The scenes were all Columbian. Much credit is due Mr. T. W. Murphy under whose skilful management the tableaux were arranged, and who in a few concise remarks explained the nature of the pictures.

The poses in the opening scene, which represented the "Immortal Christopher" explaining his theory of the rotundity of the world, expressed the amusement and interest which his ideas evoked in the minds of the Queen and Court of Spain.

In the second scene Columbus and the Court were discovered in the attitude of prayer; Isabella, with upraised hands invoking the blessing of Heaven upon the expedition.

The next tableau the scene was changed to the New World, Columbus and his followers met by hostile savages, who with uplifted weapons bar the approach of the white men. Columbus with the emblem of christianity in his left hand and his right hand extended presented a splendid scene, following this—the hostilities have ceased and the Indian Chief and Columbus stand in friendly greeting with a motley crew of Indians and the followers of Columbus in the rear.

The third set portrayed the return of Columbus to the Court of Spain with the Indians, and the final scene was a statue life size of Columbus. The notable characters were well sustained Miss Werner making a very striking "Queen Isabella," several very good numbers were on the programme. Miss Cupples sang "The Merry Postilion" in a charming manner, and was enthusiastically recalled. Miss Gilmore sang "Sweet Heather Bells in Good Style," Miss Isabel Watts gave an amusing recitation in a pleasing manner. Master Harry Dunbar arrayed in Highland costume sang "A Highland Lad," with capital effect. Songs by Miss Henderson, Miss Werner, and a chorus by Masters Wright, Phillips, Gables, and Dibblee, with recitations.

SPRINGHILL.

MAY 31.—The Methodist bazaar held on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week was liberally patronized, and I understand that quite a large sum was realized. Mr. Malcolm Blue was the successful candidate in the competition for the most popular underground manager. Messrs. Ferguson and Matthews also polled a good vote.

The fancy table was presided over by Mrs. Harry Wyllie and Miss Lizzie Hall, who were assisted by good efficient workers. The sale of work was so good that only two or three articles were left over.

Miss Minnie Proctor and Miss Jennie England had charge of the ice cream booth and were kept constantly at work, as indeed was every one connected with the Fair. The orchestra was in attendance both evenings, and enlivened the proceedings considerably.

Miss MacNamara, of Parrsboro, was in town on Tuesday to attend the bazaar, but returned home Wednesday afternoon.

The club orchestra got to Westville last Monday where they will repeat the very successful promenade concert they held here in April. I can assure the Westville people they will hear some excellent music as the boys have won quite a reputation. The members of the orchestra play in the choir of the Methodist church, and also in the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Gaudet of Memranook was in Springhill on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. He is the medical examiner of the N. S. branch of the C. M.

ANAGANCE.

MAY 31.—Mrs. Emma Davidson and family on "Apple Hill," entertained quite a number of their friends on the Queen's birthday. Among the ones present were Misses Julia and Alice Keith, Miss Mary Emmerson, Messrs. Hort, Otto and Cliff Price, of Pettitodice; Mr. J. E. Davidson, and Master Edgar Davidson, of St. John; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Davidson, and Miss Nell Stewart, of this village.

Messrs. Davidson and the Misses Davidson accompanied by their guests, drove to Portage in the early afternoon to try their luck at fishing in the Kennebecasis river. After the hooks and lines were cast in the gurgling waters, some of the party were amply repaid by bringing some speckled beauties on land, only to be devoured by the jolly fishermen and maidens. After the party arrived home again a grand supper was partaken of which was gotten up in Mrs. Davidson's usual good style. After doing ample justice to the supper the guests repaired to the parlor, where music, both instrumental and vocal was greatly enjoyed. The party broke up about 10:30 p. m., all feeling that it was good to be within the circle of such genial and hospitable people.

Among the very many visitors to our little town on the 24th were Mr. T. Williams, I. C. R. Treas., and daughters of Moncton, the Misses Mills and Messrs. Perry and Mills of Sussex, Messrs.
