DO YOU PAY CASH FOR YOUR GROCERIES?

If not, why not? A grocery that sells for cash only has cash prices—they are lower than credit prices—and can give you more goods for a dollar than you can get elsewhere. We know this and would like to prove it to you.

This week we have some very nice Congou Tea—this season's—which is selling from 30 to 40 cents. Last year's crop we have at 20 and 24 cents per pound and it is impossible to equal it at the price.
