SARRE & SON

Dartmouth, N. S. Everybody turned out on Saturday to see the football match between the United Service and Wanderers. The ground was crowded, and the day delightful, perhaps even a little too warm for the comfort of the players, but perfection for the lookers on. The match was a splendid one, well played and exciting, the Wanderers only beating the United Service by a try, so that the interest of the spectators did not flag for an instant. The United Service made so good a show that in their coming match today with Dalhousie they should do much better than in their last; one. However, of all the teams, Dalhousie seems in most deadly earnest in the fight for the trophy, and if they win it the town will hardly, I fear, hold them There is no doubt that they are a good team, but their determination to win is half the battle with

On Monday evening the congregation of the Tabernacle celebrated the silver wedding of the Rev. W. E. and Mrs. Hall by presenting them with a silver tea service and a dezen silver spoons. The Rev. A. C. Chute presented the service on behalf of the congregation, and the whole affair was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who had been merely asked to attend a social at the church. The Tabernacie was prettily decorated for the occasion by the ladies of the congregation.

The grand military tournament, to be held in the Exhibition rink on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week bids fair to be a great success, judging from the rehearsals. There will not be the display of lemon cutting, riding at the Turk's head and other equestrian shows with which the last tournament made us familiar, but some quite novel and most interesting things will be done. Some three hundred men of the garrison are taking part in the tournament, and there are on the programme a musical march by the King's regiment, an exhibition of fixed gun drill by the Royal Artillery, always an interesting and exciting thing, and an attack on a fort held by Royal Engineers disguised as Egyptians. Thursday will probably be the great social night, and on Friday Mrs. Wickwire's dance will be

A meeting was held on Wednesday morning at Bellevue to make arrangements about the entertainment to be given in December for the Sailors' Home. I hear that the Mask of Months has been abandoned, and a concert will be given instead.

This is the last week in Halifax of the Grau Opera Company, who are pretty sure of a grandly packed house for their farewell performance to-night. They and novelty, and have scored the success they deserved, especially in "Paul Jones." Miss Fairbairn made a charming Chopinette, and indeed the company one and all distinguished themselves. The principal members of the company, by the way, were invited to tea on board the "Blake" on Thursday.

It seems to the observer who sees that Baddeck has a flourishing Ladies' Club in its third year of existence, that Halifax is behind the times even in this part of the world. There is not even a shadow of such a thing here, and yet when one sees the work | time to forget. accomplished in the Baddeck organization, one wonders how the many intellectual women of Halifax are content to be without a similar institution. To be sure, we have not a George Kennan to read papers, like the fortunate ladies of Baddeck, but there are many clever and well known men here who would doubtless be glad to help the intellectual life of the many well read women Halifax possesses. Such a club would do good socially as well. It would bring together many people whom the growing size of the city keeps apart at present, and would be a delightful relief among the purely trivolous entertainments which do not begin to fill the spare time of educated women. If the right people started such a club, and its scope were wide enough, it would certainly succeed here.

Among coming departures in the Garrison will be those of Colonel Saunders, R. A.; Capt. Fassen, who goes to the Staff College; and Lieut. Innis, Friday evening, too late for an account in this week's PROGRESS. I hear that the King's band is to supply the music and that no pains have been spared to make the entertainment a success.

The naval sham fight of Tuesday morning was one of the smartest and prettiest sights imaginable, and was thoroughly appreciated by the huge crowd which turned out on the common to see the really wonderful display. A large circle had been marked out with flags and round this carriages and spectators on foot were gathered as in old times at a Queen's birthday review. Notwithstanding the early hour appointed people turned out with a will, and were thoroughly repaid for their trouble by the splendid and workman-like sight prepared for them. The blue-jackets and marines headed by the band of the flagship and the fifes and drums were the first to arrive, and were drawn up on the porth and of the arrive, and were drawn up on the north end of the common until the arrival of the Admiral and the General, when there was a march past. Sailers marching is one of the prettiest sights in the world, and that on fuesday morning was much admired by the lookers-on. After the march past the marin infantry and artillery were taken over to Camp Hill which they were to defend against an attack, while the sailors remained behind and went through gun drill with the prettiest speed and precision possible.

After this the sailors attacked the marines on Camp Hill, their advance being covered by the heavy guns in their rear while they crept over the field dropping every now and then to fire on the entrenched enemy. The yell and charge of the sailors on the marines shich suddenly followed was one of the most exciting things done and it was no wonder that the marines after a most gallant resistance to a far larger force, were at last driven back and defeated. The beauty of the whole exhibition was beyond belief, the sailors in marching order, all in brown and white, the red and blue uniforms of the marine infantry and artillery, seen against the green com-

AMHERST.

[PROGRE'S is for sale at Amberst by Charles Hillcoat and at the music store of H. A. Hillcoat. Oct. 25 .- The reception at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Moore, on Wednesday evening, was there this week for a short stay before going to England, where they will spend the winter with about all the handsome bride and groom of five years' felicity could wish for. Wooden ware of various designs, useful and ornamental, was received as souvenirs of the merry event, and ranged all the way from an elegant piano, (the gift of Mr. Moore to his fair partner,) down to a much embellished mixing spoon. Mrs. Moore was attired in a prettily-fashioned gown of French gray silk, with lace trimmings, and if one-half the longevity and prosperity fall to the lot of the happy couple that was included in the congratulations of their guests, they will march pretty well along into the com ing century, heavily laden with this world's ing century, heavily laden with this world's goods, and a hopeful prospect for the next. Among those present were:—Mr. and Mrs. W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Pridham, Mr. and Mrs. Dowlin, Mr. and Mrs. Pelton, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Donald, Mr. and Mrs. E. Phalean, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Pelton, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Sharpe, Misses Campbell, Chapman, Rodgers and Mitchell, Messrs. N. Campbell, G. A. Munroe, D. Ross, W. Moore and Poner.

Mrs. C. T. Hillson and Miss Hillson, who have been the guests of Mrs. Winchester, Chelsea, for the past two months, returned home last week, to the elight of their large circle of friends.

Miss Hayes, of Dorchester, is the guest of Mrs. W. D. Douglas, Victoria street.
Mr. James Moffat has gone to Chicago, to meet Mrs. and Miss Moffat, who arrived there on the first of the week from a trip beyond the Rockies, and it will be a source of much pleasure to many in town to learn that they intend returning to Amherst after spending a fortnight at the Fair. On Monday Mr. A. W. Bateson bade adieu to his many triends in this part of the world, all of whom greatly regret his departure for England. As the probabilities are that it may be years ere he turns again this way, several little festive events have been given for his special pleasure, the grand farewell being in the form of a dinner, which was given on Friday evening by his gentlemen friends at a point somewhat outside of my special territory. However, if fate or fortune ever again bring him to Amherst, he will meet with a hearty welcome. On Sunday our newest bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Quigley, appeared in St. Stephen at morning service, and at the baptist church in the evening. They were gaily serenaded on Monday evening by the A. M. B. Band, who were rewarded right roy-ally for their pleasant consideration. The bride, in a very pretty and stylish robe of cream cashmere, with trimmings of silk and lace of the same shade, is receiving visits this week. The weather is hardly what could be desired for the occasion, but society has given up looking for letter, and bravely makes Dr. Bliss returned from a gunning expedition on Thursday, quite pleased with his success.

The death of Mr. Joseph Weeks, which occurred on Saturday at his residence on Victoria street, has enlisted the deepest sympathy of the entire com-munity for the bereaved wife and children so suddenly afflicted. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. D. A. Steel, in the baptist church on Sunday afternoon, the large assemblage showing evidence of the high respect they held for the deceased. The pall bearers were J. R. Lanny, A. W. Moffat, Dr. Bliss, M. Cole, J. Morrison and W. E. Several cases of typhoid fever are reported in the health bulletin, among whom are Mrs. E. J. Lay and Mrs. Heustis, who though very ill are not considered dangerously so at present. Miss Bessie Munro, who has been confined to her room for the past fortnight by a severe cold is mending rapidly, and Mrs. D. W. Douglas, who has also been on the sick list, is about again.

RHEUMATISM.

An attack of Rheumatism is usually preceded by Pain in the Joints and Muscles, with more or less "Malaise," and with this warning the actual attack may be ushered in with most severe pain which may attack any joint, but most usually the knee, ankle, elbow or wrist. The afflicted part is extremely painful, tender, swollen and hot, and there may be fever, with profuse sweating. The pain is intensified by the least movement, and has a tendency to migrate from one joint to another.

WHAT TO DO—Go to bed at once, between good woolen blankets, and wear a flannel bedgown, dine on light, nutritious diet, abstain from Meat and Stimulants, wrap the painful joints in flannel wet with "SCIATICINE" LINIMENT, and cover with cotton wool, and take "SCIATICINE" MIX-TURE internally and you will get immediate relief. Then avoid exposure to cold and damp and wear flannel next the skin always. Continue taking Sciaticine for two weeks after the pain has gone, to prevent recurrence of the attack—and if you feel "used up," take HANINGTON'S QUININE WINE AND IRON to tone up the system and Improve the Blood as Rheumatism is apt to recur when the system is weak. These medicines can be had of any reliable druggist in Canada.
