Oct. 18 .- On Thursday evening last, almost the same persons who had met the previous evening at Mrs. G. W. Hodgson's, were entertained by Mr. and M. L. W. Watson. The small party was given in honor of Mr. E. A. Harris, of Mahone Bay, and the guests were principally the members of his own family, and a few of his other intimate

On Thursday evening Mrs. L. H. Davies entertained another small number of guests, who passed a very pleasant evening.

On the same night, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Watson's hospitable doors were again thrown open, and a large number of persons entertained at a drive whist party. A successful party-and the guests were unanimous in expressing their appreciation of a pleasantly spent evening. The king prizes were, a box of bon-bons, won by Mrs. E. S. Blanchard and a whisk in case, captured by Mr. W. L Strickland. The "booby" prizes were a broom, which was carried off in triumph by Mrs. Tooker, and a shaving ball, which became the property of Mr. W. H. Stewart. There were some handsome dresses, and but one or two new ones. Conspicuous among the handsome ones, may be mentioned the beautiful black satin skirt, and snowy-white surah silk bodice, worn by Mrs. L. A. Arnaud.

Mrs. W. A. O. Morson, white brocaded satin, trimmed with ostrich feathers; Mrs. Malcolm McLeod, black satin, trimmed with pink chiffon; Miss Hensley, an elegant co crimson velvet and silk, and white lace, Miss Hizard, a very, handsome gown, trimmed heavily with Mechlin lace; Miss Stri kland, pale green silk; The complete list of guests is as follows:

and Mrs. Blanchard, Mr. C. D. Rankin, Mrs. Mal-colm McL od, Mr. Horace Hazard, Miss Hazard, Mr. W. S. Strickland, Mrs. Strickland and Miss Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stewart, Hon. O. Longworth and Hediey Palmer.

A walking party on Saturday last, was a pleasant deviation from the usual routine in the party line. It was originated by Miss Maud Ball. The following party met at her home, and started in three detachments, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Spain and Mrs. A. A. Bartlett, The Misses Ball, Miss Sullivan, and Miss May Sullivan, Miss Ethel Palmer, Miss Strickland, Miss Dawson, Miss Louise Dawson, Miss Bertie Jenkins, Miss Muriel Peake, Miss Daisy Hobkirk and Miss Isaac, Messrs. D. C. McLeod, V. Palmer, W. L. Strickland, C. Leigh Cliff, o St. Johns, Newfoundland, A. A. Bartlett Wedderburn, of St. John, N. B, A. E. Andrew and Ernest Peake. After a pleasant tramp of about four miles over country roads, the party returned to the town, where the wants of the "inner man," were attended to by Miss Ball, in the form of a five o'clock tea.

Mr. Cliff of Newfoundland, is paying the city a On Friday last occurred at her home "Knockrour," the death of Mrs. FitzGerald, the worthy wife of the Rev. Dr. FitzGerald, and the mother of our Stipendiary Magistrate. To say that a death so peaceful and so calm, after a long and useful life that was of much good to others, is to be regretted, would be a wrong way of expressing it. For it was simply the passing away of one who had dome much work for her Master, into the reward waiting as the completion of that work. She was deeply interested in the church of which her husband was so many years the rector, and for him and his family great sympathy is felt, in the loss of one so deeply loved. Her funeral took place today, and was largely at-

The Hon. A. A. McDonald has returned from a short visit to Montague. Mr. I C. Hall, American Consul here, has been granted a five weeks' leave of absence. At last the date of the opening of the Opera House has been decided upon, and set down for Nov. 2nd. Mr. Vinnicombe's Orchestra are busy preparing proper and fitting music for the occasion, and instead of three or four instruments as has u-ually been the case, the full orchestra will be present, and music suitable to the drama, worked in between the acts. The scenery for the Opera House has arrived and the opera chairs are being put in place. The scenery is excellent, and altogether the opening of the new hall will be quite up to the mark in every way and it is to be hoped the entertainments will be

And still Government House pursues the even tenor of its way, (or rather, the occupants pursue theirs, and the echoes of the halls respond not to the sounds of mirth and revelry, for " silence reigns supreme," in Government House as far as g detics of any kind are concerned. Still the lady of the house remains away, notwithstanding the fact that her liege lord is vastly improved in health. Without any doubt, Government House, has taken a back seat in the entertainment line.

I heard a piece of news one morning last week, as I was leisurely walking along a-well, not a very public street, two ladies, one elderly and one young, were meeting a third one who was apparently very glad to see them. The young lady proved as after events showed conclusively to be a young matror The two elderly ladies must have been s ightly hard of hearing and their conversation was carried on in loud tones. At last, the young mation evidently teing tired of taking a back seat, when she had such all-important news to impart, exclaimed with a bow to the third party, and in a ton: decidedly

"Baby's got a tooth." As this is certainly an important item of news that so far has not been chronicled, I give it, omitting names as I am sure the persons will be easily placed, and I think such a

Rev. J. M. McLood, who has been visiting his many friends throughout the province, returned last week to his home in Vancouver. A social, under the auspices of the Wesley Mission Band, in the parlor of the First Methodist Church, on last Tuesday evening, was quite a pleasant affair. The programme was made up of solos, recitations and hymns. Games and refreshments were also provided and the attendance was large. A literary and scientific society was organized on Tuesday evening in connection with the Y. M. C. A. The officers elected are :-Hon. President, Dr. Leeming; Vice President, Prof. Harcourt; Sec.

The familiar faces of the officers of the surveying ship, "Gulnare," are once more seen about town. An untold amount of amusement is now in store for any one with time enough at their disposal to listen to the stories of conquests innumerable, made by the irristible, (?) fascinating (?) and fond-of-relating-them person who thinks no one can resist his charms, and who makes his thoughts known as tacts and scatters them broadcast. By the way how much the genuine Englishman is aped! And what mighty poor imitations, when you come to size them up, the copies are.

Society notes of late have had a decided sameness about them, but I hope soon to be able to chronicle a large ball for PROGRESS, and tru t the news will not be long forthcoming. The long winter evenings will soon be with us again. Are not some of the remarkably clever, bright, entertaining and fascinating society people, going to do something to help an occasional even-ing pass quickly, in the way of readings, tableaus, etc? To suggest theatricals would be going a little over the bounds, as one amateur troupe is already in existence here, and claims to possess the most of the dramatic talent in town. Well, opposition is and always will be "the life of trade." Way leave the monopoly in the theatrical line in the hands of a few, who, some of them certainly do well, but who night possibly, be equaled, if not surpassed.

Mrs. George W. Hodgson entertained a large number of guests at a drive whist party last Tuesday evening. The party was quite enjoyable; Miss Hunt of St. Eleanors captured the ladies king prize, which was a wedgewood china cream jug, and Mr. Jack Davis carrying of the gentlemans' king prize, a pack of cards. Mr. Hedley Palmer and Mrs. 1. H. Davies were the happy possessors of a rubber doll a piece, as the "booby

Everyone seemed to enby themselves exceedingly, and the party returned to the city about seven o'clock. Several people who thought the walk too far drove instead, and on or two rode, and at least they would be less tired than the walk rs would. A ro mantic engagem nt is on the tapis between a rising young disciple of Æsculapius and a young lady who has made the art of nursing her choice. She was formerly a missionary in Japan, but has been here for some time studying for the purpose of being a trained nurse. Oct. 25 .- Society is extremely dull, there has not even been a whist party since my last letter. The only thing in the way of amusement was the entertainment given on Tuursday evening and repeated again on Monday evening, by the young ladies of Christ church guild. The entertainment consisted | of singing, readings, and two short plays entitled, "A slight mistake," and "To Meet Mr. Thompson." In the first play, Miss Vroom, as Miss Penelope, the baroness, and Miss May Carter, as Lady Prince Proudly, were most amusing and received many compliments for the finished manner in which they rendered their parts. In "To Meet Mr. Thompson," the young ladies not only looked extremely pretty and charming but played their respective parts to perfection. Miss Addie Storr, as Miss Bella, the hostess, was admirable. Miss Essie Webber, as Grace, one of the guests, also received great praise. These entertainments are most successful and greatly enjoyed, and are to be repeated during the winter. this being the first of a series

The young ladies of Trinity church have organized a society called "Trinity Workers," and on Tuesday evening of next week intend to hold an "at home" in their school room.
